Kaiser's Troops Found Town as Quiet as a Sepulchre—Doors of all Houses Open, but Occupants Missing

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Telegraphing from Ghent under date of Sept. 28 the correspondent of the Daily News asserts that by order of the military authorities, Alost, a town of nearly 40,000 inhabitants, was completely evacuated by the civilian population before the Germans took possession. "When the Germans entered Alost today it was as quiet as a sepulchre," says the despatch. "The German advance guard found the doors of all the

LICENSE BOARD SESSION

Hearing on the Concord Street Liquor Case—Decision to be Given at Later Date

A hearing was held before the license commission last night at their weekly session on the information laid before the board relative to the infraction of the local liquor restrictions by Terence D. Leonard, (H. F. Duggan & Co.) 114-116 Concord street, holders of a fourth class license. It was claimed by Supt. Welch that on Aug. 15 the said licensee, personally and by their several agents, did sell intoxicating liquors to a person whose name was unknown such sale being in violation of the regulations under which their license was granted. The evidence heard before the license board last night was practically the same as that given at the police court proceedings against Mr. Leonard, although of longer duration. The hearing occupied over two hours. At its conclusion the board took the case under advisement and will make its finding at a later date. William A. Hogan, Esq. appeared for the licensee.

ALLIES' LEFT CAPTURES NUMEROUS PRISONERS

PARIS, Sept. 30.—It was again the turn of the allies' left yesterday to sustain the shock of the enemy on the battle front in northern France, and though the official communication does not say so, it is reliably stated that it was again their food fortune to take numerous prisoners. The lack of consistency in the operations of the Germans added to the increased vigilance of the allies in making the lot of the military prophets a hard one. All they can deduce today from the information given out is that the Germans failed to break through the allies' front anywhere. Naturally, the absence of news makes a place for rumors, which are very plentiful, but which no one dares to publish, even if their truth had been ascertained. Commenters are also required to be very circumspect, as is shown by the blank white gaps of various lengths in the censored articles in the Paris newspapers. All that can be said of the unofficial reports that are printable is that they are not unfavorable to the allies.

The zouaves are reported by returning wounded soldiers to be covering themselves with glory on the allies' left. It is related that one day recently the French were obliged to recede under a tremendous pressure of numbers and left eight 3-inch guns in the hands of the enemy. This enraged the zouaves who begged to be allowed to get them back and recapture the position.

When trumpet was sounded for the charge and the zouaves bounded forward many turned their heads, as they did not wish to see what they thought was sure to happen to them, but on they went, singing, shouting and defying the rain of machine gun fire. A great proportion fell on the way but the rest never faltered until they reached the enemy's line. It seemed then as if there were only a few flashes of cold steel before the enemy broke and the cannon were immediately trained on the fleeing foe to avenge the brave zouaves who had fallen in the heroic charge.

NEW TEACHERS CHOSEN BY THE SCHOOL BOARD

The members of the school committee met in regular session last night and transacted considerable business. The meeting, which was scheduled to be held at 7.30 o'clock did not start until 9.40 o'clock for previous to the meeting a conference was held in the office of the superintendent of schools. The audience at the regular meeting was composed of two newspaper representatives.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Dr. J. H. Lambert, and all members were present. At the opening of the meeting Principal Irish of the high school and Principal Moroy of the Highland school were present to announce the result of the recent examinations held for principals of evening elementary schools and teachers of evening high school. They announced that 17 candidates took the examinations, 11 of whom for teachers and three for principals. One of the applicants took both examinations, but her highest rating was for principal.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted and Mr. Thompson, who was unable to be present at that meeting, asked that his vote be placed on the records as favoring the recommendation of the purchase of the Varum property by the municipal council for an annex to the high school, and his request was granted.

Evening School Teachers
Mr. Caluso reported for the committee on rules and it was voted that beginning with the Monday after Christmas, the remainder of the school year be divided into terms of eight weeks, with a week's vacation intervening. Mr. Caluso also reported a long list of teachers and principals for the evening elementary and high schools, which was practically the same as last year with the exception of the following, additional names: Principals: Maud E. Barlow, Thomas A. Ginty and James J. Clinton; teachers for the evening high, John M. O'Donoghue, William J. White, Jr., Joseph M. Donoghue, Margaret M. Blackburn and Harold A. A. Jewett. These names were taken from the list of the recent examination, and all were elected.

Mr. Campbell reported for the committee on school houses and hygiene and he submitted a list of janitors for evening schools, no change from last year's list and all were elected. Mr.

Head of Commercial Course

Mr. Mack will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Hunt, and Louis J. Fish, a former pupil of the high school was the unanimous choice for the position formerly occupied by Mr. Mack. The list of teachers elected to the evening drawing school to be assigned as needs require, contains no rejection from last year's list.

Evening Schools

The date of opening the evening schools was set as Oct. 13, with the exception of the Middlesex Village and the Riverside, which will not reopen. It is understood that transportation will be provided for the pupils of those districts who wish to attend some other school.

The following interpreters were elected for the evening schools: Constantine Cardorelli, Marcus Manuelli, Gustaf Olson, Thomas J. Nouras, Elvira Cobule and Mary Urbanek. Miss Ellen M. Penn was elected a kindergarten principal. George Dezols and Maurice Butterfield were appointed teachers at the vocational school, subject to the approval of the state board.

A petition was received from residents of the Wood street district asking that a kindergarten department be started in that locality and the superintendent was instructed to take steps to open a temporary kindergarten. It was voted to fix the salary of Miss Ruth E. Bailey at $1100 a year while she is performing the duties of principal of the Green school during the absence of Mr. Bachelder. Miss Ellen M. McDonald was placed on the retirement list.

A man named Joseph Gosselin was injured at the B. & M. car shops at Billerica, this morning by falling from a ladder on which he was working. One of his legs was badly wrenched.

DRY AMENDMENT

Roosevelt Says Judge-Made Laws Should be Subject to Approval

TOLLEDO, O., Sept. 29.—Theodore Roosevelt addressed an audience in the Valentine theatre yesterday afternoon. He made even more emphatic than in previous speeches the stand of the Ohio Progressive party against the liquor traffic.

"Conditions in Ohio this year," he said, "are such that if I were a citizen of Ohio I would vote against the wet amendment and for the dry amendment."

He charged the liquor men with bringing the issue on themselves. He said:

"I wish to speak of the issues before you in this state. The brewers and distillers have taken the field against woman suffrage because they regard the entry of women into the rights of citizenship as a danger to the dominance of liquor in politics, which they have been trying more and more to establish."

"I saw this in Michigan, where every saloon was headquarters for the fight against woman suffrage."

"I ask you to give the women the right to vote, not only as a matter of justice, but as a matter of self-interest to the men who are striving to do what is right in public interest."

Speaking of the judiciary, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Give to the people the right to say whether they approve judge-made laws, as they have a right to say concerning legislative-made laws, and you will have removed the last objection to the judiciary."

"USELESS" WAR

Says Ex-Pres. Taft—Extremely Grateful We are Not in it.

WORCESTER, Sept. 29.—Ex-President William H. Taft, who came to Worcester yesterday to help the Worcester Country club dedicate its new home on Mountain street, stopped long enough, during a very busy day, to say a few words about the present European war.

"I am extremely grateful we are not in it," said the ex-president. "And to my mind we will not get into it. President Wilson has offered mediation to the warring nations, and they have it under consideration. The plan is to offer it at the right time and yet not too often, so that we will lose our influence in helping to settle it."

"It is a useless war, and I think we certainly should all be grateful that we are living in a peaceful land. Last week I was in Quebec, with Mrs. Taft, and we saw Canadian troops embarking for the seat of war. They were a fine looking lot of boys, but it was not a pleasant sight."

"War is a terrible thing, and while this country is fortunate enough to be out of it, we will have to bear our share of the burden just the same. We are so closely allied with European nations in our trade that we cannot escape having to shoulder some of the financial burdens. To my mind, we should do this willingly, however, in view of the fact that the very power of our nation is not being sacrificed on the battlefields, as is the case with European nations."

"The war, of course, is the one interesting topic just now. The man who knows most about our position is President Wilson. He occupies a position that requires careful action and his attitude may have great bearing in bringing the strife to an end. It would be useless for me to discuss the situation, because there is nothing I could say that has not already been said. I am just a plain professor now and I am out of politics entirely."

DR. HARRINGTON FAVORED

FORMER LOWELL MAN URGED FOR THE POSITION OF STATE HEALTH COMMISSIONER

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Dr. Thomas F. Harrington, a former Lowell man, now director of hygiene in the Boston health department, is endorsed for the position of state health commissioner, in a petition in circulation among members of the Massachusetts Medical society.

The petition is intended as a protest against the desire of the governor to appoint to the state health department a man for the place that will pay $7500 a year. Prominent physicians, however, had heard no intimation that local physicians were seriously considering a protest against the desire of the governor to appoint a man who had made a national reputation in health matters.

When the bill reorganizing the state board of health was in conference Gov. Walsh attended a meeting of the Massachusetts Medical society.

At this meeting it was distinctly understood that the Massachusetts physician as a body would be satisfied with a health commissioner who had not proved his qualifications in some large manner.

It was also understood that the place would be offered to Dr. Victor G. Heiser, prominent medical officer in the Massachusetts navy, who had been receiving threatening letters for some time, the most of them bearing a Springfield postmark. As he is soon to enter the ranks of the beneficiaries, Dr. Heiser was somewhat startled about it and at last turned over his fear-producing communications to the police.

Inquiries were made of the Springfield authorities and it was soon learned that Dr. Heiser was living in Chicopee. His arrest yesterday followed.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE OPERA HOUSE
Today offers the last opportunity to see the fast moving musical comedy,

"Penny Moon" at the Opera House, as there is a complete change of program opening tomorrow and continuing for the balance of the week. "Tom and Jerry" is the name of the new bill and there is nothing but laughs from the rise of the curtain until the finishing song. The young ladies with the big musical show all do specialties and they are winning their way with the Lowell public by sheer talent. James P. Lee is as funny a comedian as there is in the variety world today. He is original and his schooling from the old days places him miles in the lead of others trying to do the same class of work.

Miss Madeline Lee has a host of friends formed by the excellent work she did in the opening bill, in fact the whole company is "Glad to be here" and the Opera House is "picking them up" as the saying goes.

Desiring the big musical show the Opera House is also giving a big picture bill including all of the latest releases of the Universal Film company.

Friday evening of this week as an extra added attraction Mr. Harry McWilliams and Miss Amelia Warner will continue with Mr. Duncan Heath and his party for the jingo championship of the Merrimack Valley. This will positively be the last appearance of the McWilliams in this city for six months, as he leaves here next Saturday for a tour of the principal cities of the middle west. Seats may be reserved in advance by calling at the Gorham street entrance or calling telephone 261.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Miss Ideal," the foremost woman diver of the world, is demonstrating daily at the B. F. Keith theatre her wonderful diving and swimming. Barely a year ago "Ideal" swam the Niagara rapids, and immediately sprung into prominence. In connection with her act motion pictures of her record swim are shown. They are filled with thrills. The diver not only follows all of the standard dives, but she has actually invented some complex ones which will thrill audiences. On Friday afternoon she will give a lecture to women who attend the theatre, telling them of the advantages to be gained by following articles and particularly aquatic exercises. In addition to "Miss Ideal" there are seven other acts of prominence on the bill. The big laughing feature is contributed by the middle west. Seats may be reserved in advance by calling at the Gorham street entrance or calling telephone 261.

The terror spread by the slave traders and their organizations during the slave trading days, are to be depicted in "The Kangaroo," an extravagant five-part photo-play masterpiece to be shown at the Owl today and tomorrow.

We have heard many things about the injustice of these days. "The Kangaroo" tells the story of such a gang recruited from men higher up, way down to the lowest strata of white, who slipped at nothing in their misadventures, robberies, slave running, even murder was in their line. In and around New Orleans were the scenes of their nefarious occupation. This play is vividly acted and is the work of Harris Dickson, author of the "Old Reliable" stories, whose fame is well known. As usual, besides the big features, there will be five other regular reels, forming a show of ten delightful reels of the latest photo-play subjects. Among the best are "A Mother's Choice," "The Kangaroo," "Granny," a drama, "Her Duty," another drama; "The New Janitor," a new Keystone comedy with Charles F. Chaplin, the funny man with the little mustache, in the leading part. No change in prices, a three-hour show. Coming, Helen Gardner in "The Princess of Babel."

DELAYED ORDER GIVEN FOR PAVING BLOCKS

Authorized by Municipal Council
Today — Contract With Engineer Barbour Approved and Compensation Fixed — Other Matters Acted Upon Today

At a meeting of the municipal council yesterday it was voted to abate assessments on the Burlington avenue sewer, for it was brought out that when the sewer was put in a few years ago there was an unwritten agreement with the council and the abutters that there would be no assessment. Considerable routine business was transacted and the contract between the commissioner of water and fire and Frank A. Barbour, appointing the latter consulting engineer for the erection of the filtration plant, was approved and it was voted to pay Mr. Barbour $1.2 per cent. of the cost of work for his services. Commissioner Morse was authorized to file a requisition with the purchasing agent for the purchase of 250,000 paving blocks, more or less.

The Meeting

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Murphy at 11:14 o'clock. The first matter taken up was a hearing on the petition of George P. White for a garage license. There was no respondent and the petition was referred. Thomas L. Williston was given a hearing on his petition for permission to keep gasoline and inasmuch as there was no respondent the petition was referred. Belle's Kou's petition for a garage was also referred.

The New England Telephone company petitioned for the removal of a pole at the junction of Westford and Pine streets and the erection of another pole opposite number 51 Pine st. Stephen Lane objected to the new location, as did Horace C. Paige. The latter said he did not object to the removal of the pole at the junction of Westford and Pine streets, but he did not favor the erection of a pole opposite his building. He said the wires in that district should be underground. He is soon to construct a glass store front to his building and a pole opposite the structure would be a detriment to him. He suggested the wires be placed underground from Coral street to Pine street.

Commissioner Morse said he and the mayor visited the premises and that the pole at the watering trough is a menace to public safety. He said the removal of the pole and the trough would greatly improve the square and he knew of no other place for the pole than that selected. He favored the undergrounding of wires and said this is the proper time to do this work before the street is block-paved. "The pole opposite my building would be an unsightly thing," said Mr. Paige. "To you," replied Mr. Morse.

"Well, I believe I should be considered," said Mr. Paige. Finally it was voted to lay the petition on the table until such time as the council gets an opportunity to inspect the premises. Mr. Morse then asked the council to inspect a number of trees in Westford street, which he said he wanted taken down, but the mayor informed the commissioner that the council had nothing to do with this as the work is up to the park commission.

A petition from Omer J. Landry for a garage license was referred.

The following petitions were received and referred to the proper commissioner: Frances H. Drew et al., that Georgia avenue be scraped and oilied from Tyler park to Pine street; Cyril Menard et al., that Carmine street be scraped and sidewalks laid on a portion of said street, and also that lights be installed. Victoria G. Sousa, that the sidewalk at 19 Inland street be accepted. Rose J. Gilbride, that Wilson avenue be cleaned and oilied and that the sign be changed to Gilbride terrace. John Mussen, for abatement of sewer assessment on Burlington avenue.

South Lowell Henri From

The New England Telephone company petitioned for three pole locations on Fort Hill avenue and the petition was referred. A communication was received from the South Lowell Improvement society asking for the installation of lights in Carmine street, and it was placed on file.

An order to lay a sewer on How street was accepted. The cost of the sewer will be $384, the sum of $175 to be assessed on the abutters.

Abatement of Sewer Assessment
A hearing on the petition of Lizzie R. Compelis for abatement of sewer assessments on Burlington avenue was held. Engineer Kearney was called upon to tell the story of the said sewer and he said in 1911 a petition was sent to the council for a catch basin in Burlington avenue. He said at that time there was a private sewer in Burlington avenue, which had been built by a Mr. Stedman, but this was not sufficient for proper drainage. On May 20, 1911, a hearing was held on the petition and as a result it was decided to build a new sewer. He said the sewer was built, no further hearing was held and assessments were sent out. On April 7, 1913, an abatement of assessments was granted Michael Killmartin, who was really the only one to benefit by the new sewer. Mr. Kearney said there was an unwritten agreement with the city council and the abutters that no assessments would be charged for the new sewer. It was then voted to abate all assessments on the Burlington avenue sewer.

One Way Streets

A communication was received from the Lowell Board of Trade asking that an ordinance be drafted in order to make Windsor and Chester streets one way streets. The communication was placed on file and the matter was referred to the city solicitor.

Commissioner Carmichael asked that a certain contract between this city and Frank A. Barbour, making Mr. Barbour consulting engineer to supervise the work on the erection of the filtration plant, be approved and also that Mr. Barbour be paid 2 1/2 per cent. of the actual cost of the job for his services, and it was so voted.

For Paving Blocks

Commissioner Morse asked to be authorized to present requisitions with the purchasing agent for the purchase of 250,000 paving blocks, more or less, and the mayor objected to the "more or less" saying that was not definite and the commissioner if he saw it could purchase a million blocks. Commissioner Brown volunteered the information that it was customary to insert the words "more or less" in a requisition of this kind, but this did not seem to satisfy the chief executive. Finally Mr. Brown walked over to the mayor and whispered a few words, and the mayor put the motion to a vote, and Mr. Morse was authorized to go along with his requisition. At 11:52 o'clock the meeting adjourned till 11 a. m. Saturday.

PRESIDENT WILSON ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF FIRST LIEUTENANT OF MEDICAL RESERVE CORPS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—President Wilson has received and accepted the resignation of Dr. Louis L. Seaman as a first lieutenant of the medical reserve corps of the army upon the inactive list. The resignation was written before Secretary Garrison called upon Dr. Seaman for an explanation of his alleged criticism of the conduct of the German campaign in Belgium. Statements attributed to Dr. Seaman were construed by war department officials as a violation of President Wilson's order for all officers to refrain from partisan discussion of the European war. Seaman's resignation closes the incident.

THIRD BASEMAN MANAGER
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—It was reported in baseball circles here today that unless there was an unexpected hitch John B. Lobert, the third baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, will be made manager of the club at a meeting of the directors to be held this week. The contract of Charles Doherty, who has managed the Phillies for several years, expires with the close of the present season.

STOPS MANILA COAL SALE
MANILA, Sept. 29.—Fear of a coal famine here, through the threatened refusal of Great Britain and Japan to permit its import without guarantees against re-exportation, has been averted. Japan has instructed local merchants not to sell coal without exacting a bond for twice its value and also insisting upon consular inspection.

The suspicion that German vessels looted here to supply warships at sea still exists. Today the steamship Elmsford, carrying 6000 tons of coal, put back from Corregidor Island, having sighted a British cruiser outside.

The meal situation presented a similar problem. Most of the supply came from Australia, and there were threats that it would be suspended unless guarantees were given. Gov. Gen. Harrison has relieved the situation by promising that the government will guarantee that there will be no re-export of this article of food.

FUNERAL NOTICES
The funeral of Miss Eliza F. Corr will take place Wednesday morning from the home of her sister, Miss J. J. Corr, at 8 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Friends are invited without further notice. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

UNDER PRISON WALL
Masked Man Holds Up Cashier and Bookkeeper in Uth, Gets $125 and Locks Men in Vault

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 29.—Within 100 yards of the state prison a masked man held up George P. Coff, cashier of the Sugarhouse bank, and Clifford, a bookkeeper. He locked the two men in the bank vault, took $125 and escaped 40 minutes before the two men were able to get out of the vault and give the alarm. The lock of the door did not turn completely and the men were thus able to open it.

WATCHFUL WAITING
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Two British warships a four masted cruiser, whose name could not be made out from shore, and the auxiliary cruiser Caronia, formerly of the Cunard line, continued today the watch at the entrance to New York harbor. The cruiser lay just east of the Scotland Lightship today, the Caronia lay outside the bar.

BAD MAN ARRESTED HERE

ON SERIOUS CHARGE BY CONCORD POLICE—CRAPPED AT AMERICAN EXPRESS OFFICE

In the arrest of John Gouin of Concord, N. H., yesterday in this city shortly before noon, Inspector Walsh of the local department and Sergeant Wallace of the Concord police rounded up a much wanted character for whom a reward was offered some time ago.

Gouin, alias Albert Smith, is wanted on a charge of assault upon his sister in Concord. The case aroused indignation of Concord citizens to such an extent that a reward of $100 was offered by Marshall Kimball of that city for Gouin's arrest.

The prisoner was arrested here by Officers Walsh and Wallace after five days' patient waiting and watching. He was arrested in the office of the American Express company as he entered there this morning to claim a suitcase which arrived here last Friday and which was consigned to Albert Smith.

The police got hold of a postcard which asked a friend of the prisoner to send a suitcase to Lowell for Albert Smith and since that time the officers have been on guard at the express office. Gouin's ingenuity was plainly displayed by his long delay in calling for the suitcase.

After his arrest the Concord man was taken to the local police station and put through the "third degree." As is usually the case, Gouin soon broke down and confessed to the deed for which he is wanted by the New Hampshire police. He was later taken back to Concord as no charge was preferred against him here.

LABOR LAWS COMPEND
The bureau of labor statistics has just published in bulletin No. 145 a compilation of the labor laws of the United States, with brief notes on court decisions.

This is the fifth such compilation which has been issued by the commissioner of labor since the organization of the bureau in 1883. The last compilation ended the legislation of the year 1907. The present work is in two parts and gives the laws of all the states and of the United States up to the close of the year 1912.

The major part of the laws relate to the two subjects of the regulation of mines and factories. One of the most important subjects is the law regarding the regulation of the conditions of the employment of women and children. The mothers' pension law is also found in this instructive work and will prove very interesting reading matter. The bulletin shows minimum wage laws in nine states (Wisconsin, Washington, Utah, Oregon, Nevada, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Colorado and California), besides the provision of the Ohio constitution which authorizes such a law, though none has been enacted, and 21 laws providing for the support of mothers of dependent children.

On a careful perusal of this book it will be found that the railroads have not been overlooked and a considerable degree of attention is given train crew laws, hours of service laws, laws requiring shelters for workmen, laws regulating height of bridges, etc., over the tracks, and numerous laws requiring safety appliances.

The orders of the industrial commissions of New York and Wisconsin which have the force of laws are also included in this compilation. The notes of decisions are necessarily brief and are confined to the decisions of the supreme courts of the various states and the United States. The two parts of the bulletin comprise 1200 pages each, and is indispensable to the person desiring information in labor legislation. Nothing has been spared to make the work the most complete of its kind ever published.

LEADS M'GALDER

Looks Like Wadsworth for U. S. Senator from New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Returns which came in slowly this forenoon showed that James W. Wadsworth, Jr., was leading William McGalder for the republican nomination for United States senator from New York by 25,051 in 1371 districts outside of New York city. Belated returns from 1067 election districts outside of New York city increased Frederick M. Davenport's lead over William Sulzer for the progressive nomination for governor. At noon Davenport was leading Sulzer by 1169.

Returns of the republican vote for governor continued to show District Attorney Whitman leading both his competitors, John E. Hedges and Harvey Hitman, two to one.

Comparative figures show that between July 1, 1911, and July 1, 1912, the whole number employed for the year was 17,661 and the total amount paid for services was $5,425,766.33; between July 1, 1912, and July 1, 1913, the whole number employed for the year was 17,586 and the total amount paid for services was $5,425,766.33; between July 1, 1913, and July 1, 1914, the whole number employed for the year was 17,586 and the total amount paid for services was $6,328,967.75.

THOUGHT HIM MOOSE NO SURPRISE AT ALL

HUNTER BEYOND MAINE BORDER SHOOT'S FRIEND—SAPLING SAVES SPEARIN FROM SERIOUS WOUND

BANGOR, Sept. 29.—The first victim of the hunting season is in a hospital here with a wound in the arm, caused by a rifle shot fired by a friend, who mistook him for a moose. The accident happened on the Canadian side of the St. John river, where the moose season is now open.

Howard Thornton and Harrison Spearin were hunting near Piskheogan. They saw signs of moose and separated. A short time later Spearin saw what he thought was a moose and fired. He heard a cry of pain and found he had shot Thornton in the arm.

The bullet had passed partially through a sapling, which no doubt, prevented a more serious wound, as the shot was from a high-powered rifle. The wound is not considered serious.

Y.M.C.A. CLASS OPENINGS

Will be Held Next Week—New Physical Director Has Extensive Plans For New Work

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—It comes as no surprise at Harvard that Dr. Richard Derby of New York should go to the war zone in Europe to be of active service to humanity when such service is most needed. Even while an undergraduate at Harvard he was greatly interested in his fellowman. He will offer his services in the French military hospital, where medical skill is said to be badly needed.

Probably there has been no undergraduate of recent years whose influence was wider. He was of the class of 1903, prominent in athletics and enrolled in numerous clubs at Cambridge.

It was his work as an officer of the Harvard union and as class president for the entire four years, however, which have borne fruit. As class president he realized that there were responsibilities, and immediately after his election he began the remarkable task of becoming acquainted with every member of the class.

He was largely responsible for starting the movement of living in the "Yard." During his last three years he roomed there and he worked quietly to have other men do so. Now the movement has gone even further than making the great dormitories quarters for the seniors.

As chairman of the house committee of the union in 1902 and as its vice president in his senior year he had a great influence upon the entire student body. He prepared for college at Groton school and studied medicine at Columbia.

The correspondent quotes Cardinal Andrieu as follows:

"All civilized nations will condemn this act of savage vandalism, but the ruins over which you, like the prophet, are weeping, are such as God does not forget, and when this terrible war is over, France will rise and build afresh, with the same architectural splendor, the church which was the cradle of its faith and glory."

July 27 he shot his brother Patrick in the latter's stable on India street. Before the brother died July 29 Michael was allowed to see him and receive his forgiveness.

The closing argument was made yesterday morning by Messrs. Berman and Wilson, counsel for the defendant. Judge J. E. F. Connolly delivered his charge yesterday afternoon. A motion for a new trial on exceptions was allowed.

Mulkern showed great emotion when the jury foreman pronounced the verdict. One of the convicted man's sisters fainted and another dropped back in her seat and sobbed. Mulkern is not quite 19 years old.

KEPT SECRET TO END

DE ANDREA, SEWER AND TUNNEL MINERS' UNION HEAD, DIES WITHOUT NAMING SLAYER

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Joseph De Andrea, president of the Sewer and Tunnel Miners' union, died yesterday from a gunshot wound received on Sept. 16, after a meeting of the union. Although he retained consciousness, De Andrea refused to make any statement which would lead to the arrest of his slayer.

De Andrea was among the remarkable figures in the history of labor unions in Chicago. From a laborer in the sewer trenches, he arose in 10 years to where he had an annual income of $30,000. In 1902 he was indicted, charged with murder, but pleaded self-defense. In 1910 he was a candidate for state senator, but was opposed on the ground that he operated a padrone system.

A long wooden weapon in the shape of a tomahawk which had been used by the murderer before he attacked Miss Brecker with a hatchet, a note, unaddressed and unsigned reading: "Didn't you recognize me last night?" and another bit of scribbling on a cardboard are the clues that may lead to the identification of the slayer. Miss Brecker had been interested in mission work in Akron and was widely known and respected.

Those now under arrest in the case, who are to be joined by another person to be detained in Maine, are: Dr. Lionel Dudley, Alice and Etta Pelletier and Katherine Michaud, all of Maine. Search for the missing girl continues without result.

GERMANS USE COILS OF WIRE AS PROTECTION AGAINST ARTILLERY FIRE FOR MEN IN TRENCHES

Something new in defense against artillery fire has been devised by the German military experts. They took with them from Hamburg vast quantities of wire in coils. This wire, some of which was barbed, was piled in front of trenches in which infantry were installed. The theory was that shells fired by artillery would either go over the trenches and thus be harmless or would, if aimed lower, fall in the coils of wire and thus become entangled and the explosions would be smothered. The wire has a further advantage of offering a serious obstacle to the enemy in the event of a charge.

THOUGHT HE WAS SPY

Percy Leveen Luckily Had Somerville Letters—Man Standing Beside Him Shot as Suspect

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Percy Paul Leveen, a young violinist, who lives at 2 Flint street, Somerville, has just returned from Prague, Bohemia, where he went last summer to study. He spent July, August and part of the present month in Germany and Austria. Though arrested as an English spy in Austria, and standing beside a man who was shot as a spy while Leveen was en route from Austria to Germany, Leveen nevertheless managed to smuggle through the British Isles, and on a British liner, a number of official documents which were published by the German government in order that its version of the war and its beginning might be known to the world at large. The English authorities, he said, are confiscating all such publications they find.

All of them assert that the war was largely due to the fact that the allies misunderstood a telegram sent out by the Kaiser, and declare that the Kaiser did all in his power to prevent the war. When Young Leveen arrived in Berlin, June 23, "that there was something brewing was clear enough to everybody in Berlin," said Leveen. "Soldiers paraded through the streets all night and day, marching to and from the drill grounds."

Leaving Berlin, July 3, Leveen went to Dresden and later to Prague. At both the latter cities, the drilling of soldiers was the chief sight of the day.

Bohemians Opposed Fighting Slavs. "Bohemia was the first section of Austria to mobilize," continued the young violinist, "and the people there did not view the war between the dual empire and their Slavic brothers of Serbia with very much favor. A number of the Bohemian officers attempted to start a revolt against Austrian rule, but were court-martialed and shot."

"During the mobilization, while I was studying in Prague, I witnessed every day most touching scenes, as families were broken up by the departure of the troops. A friend of mine, a strapping fellow of 27 years, the father of three small children, was one of the first to start for the front. Three weeks later he was brought back. Both his arms were gone and his head was frightfully injured."

"The soldiers returning wounded from the front were all under orders not to talk of field operations. The news published by the papers was so colored as to appear favorable to Austria. All other news was suppressed. "Every day a large number of persons suspected of being spies were taken into custody, and sometimes as many as 100 of these unfortunates were shot in one day."

"It being suspected that I was of English birth, I was arrested and brought to the headquarters of the Prague police. I had no official documents on my person to prove that I was not of English birth, but fortunately I did have two letters from Somerville which plainly indicated that I had gone abroad from Boston to study music. These created enough doubt in the minds of the officials and at my request they sent me to my room in the custody of two officers. This enabled me to produce my birth certificate, and so establish the fact that I was an American."

"There were great demonstrations against the English and Russians. Shops belonging to Englishmen and Russians were looted and wrecked. Prices on all commodities jumped. Every one began to hoard gold and silver, and you could not spend paper money. The banks refused to pay their clients more than 200 kroners every two weeks. Under such conditions Prague was almost impossible to exist in, so after six weeks of study I left for Berlin."

"Spy" Shot Dead Beside Him

"At the railroad station at Kolin, Bohemia, I was standing beside a stranger, watching the removal of a squad of wounded soldiers. Suddenly there was a shot and the man standing beside me reeled and fell dead. I learned later that he was suspected of being a spy—which wouldn't have helped me any if the shot hadn't gone just where it was intended to go."

"Berlin presented a contrast to conditions in Bohemia. In the German capital everyone was enthusiastic over the war. There were few automobiles to be seen, as they had all been taken by the government, but outside of the city presented the same appearance as before the war, except that the schools were all closed."

"The Americans I came across in Germany all said they had been finely treated, and my own experience leads me to believe they were. The American colony in Berlin held a meeting, at which prominent Germans spoke of the war with great enthusiasm. Zoullin's speech was much in evidence in the German capital."

STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

GERMANS MINE ROADS AND BRIDGES AND SET NUMEROUS TRAPS—

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Describing conditions in and about Brussels, a Chronicle correspondent at that Belgian city says:

"It is certain that at present the Germans are taking all precautions to defend their ground foot by foot, if they deem it possible, to avert the risk either of a surprise or of an enveloping movement of our troops seeking to surround their garrison in Brussels."

"Brussels constitutes for the Germans a sort of entrenched camp. Important works of defense have been completed all around the town. Numerous roads and bridges have been mined, and there are not a few clever traps. Thus, between Berchemste Agathe and Grand Bazar, after hours of excavated the highway to a great depth, the Germans have placed there 300 barrels without tops, which are covered with branches and earth. One can well conceive what would be the effect of a cavalry charge at this spot."

"Luckily, the commanders of the Belgian army are quite well aware of these goings-on on the part of the Germans, who know that they know

That is why the latter endeavor to prevent anyone from leaving Brussels.

Fear Winter's Approach

The people of Brussels are looking forward not without dismay to the approach of winter. The stoppage of commerce and industry is complete, and the working classes, whose little savings were exhausted long ago, are their existence to some really humanitarian work—the carrying out of which will perhaps avert revolts, popular uprisings and pillaging of shops—under auspices of the ministers from Spain and the United States, and thanks to the gifts of generous philanthropists."

"The municipal councils of the town and its suburbs make a distribution every day of public buildings of a pint of excellent soup and a pound of bread per head. Pressing appeals are made to people fortunately placed for contributions to keep this work going as long as possible. But there are few rich people in Brussels. On the arrival of the German army all who could afford it fled and left the enemy left behind them. There were others left in a rather awkward position, for their only means of support was the sale of their goods, and therefore it is a question of what one has at home and not of what is in the bank."

"Paper money, whatever its nature, is not negotiable, and this causes a great deal of trouble. People who have brought themselves into comfortable circumstances for the rest of their lives have had to ask themselves what they can do in order to exist in the future. Others are looking on helplessly at the ruin of their industry or business."

KILL DEER TOMORROW

SEASON IN MAINE CONTINUES UNTIL DEC. 15—NON-RESIDENT APPLICATIONS MORE THAN EVER

BANGOR, Sept. 30.—Maine's deer season opened Thursday. After midnight, Sept. 30, any resident and any non-resident with a proper license may kill two deer and no more.

Many hunters are already in the woods for the big shooting, which will remain until they can bring out a deer or two. The game commissioners say that applications from non-resident hunters are coming in in greater numbers than last year, when $171 paid $25 each for the privilege of hunting birds and big game in Maine.

The moose season opens Nov. 1 and continues through the month. The deer season ends Dec. 15.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when rolling; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, soft and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

COTTON MEN LOSS IS $8000

Annual Convention of National Association for Fire in Clinton Last Night

LEWIS, Sept. 30.—"Provisions for the health of employees" was the title of a paper by William Hall Koon of Haverhill at the opening session today of the annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

Another matter to come before the meeting was the report of the secretary, C. J. Woodbury of Boston on proposed restrictions upon the importation of Egyptian cotton on account of the pink boll worm.

CHILLY SNAP OF YESTERDAY EXPECTED TO GIVE WAY TO WARMER WEATHER TODAY

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The chilly snap of yesterday is expected to give way to warmer weather today, according to the official forecast of the local weather bureau last night. The prediction is "fair and somewhat warmer" and Thursday is also expected to be fair. Moderate west winds will prevail.

The chilly weather was ushered in with a frost Monday night and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury registered only 34 above, or six degrees colder than the lowest temperature recorded for a Sept. 29 in the 42 years' existence of the weather bureau.

During the day the mercury rose as high as 58, at 3 p. m., but it descended early in the evening again to around 50.

LOOK FOR CHOLERA

HEALTH OFFICER ORDERS EXTRA PRECAUTIONS ON REPORT OF PLAGUE ABOARD

NEW YORK, April 30.—Cholera having been reported in epidemic form in eastern Russia, Austria and among the Austrian troops, passengers on all steamships coming here from ports on the Adriatic sea east of Italy, on the Aegean sea, the Aegean sea, the Mediterranean east of Italy and the Black sea will be examined for evidence of cholera infection.

This order was issued yesterday by Dr. O'Connell, health officer of the port, upon receipt of word by cable that similar precautions had been taken by the Italian government. Dr. Oscar Tague, director of the quarantine laboratory, at once began organizing a corps of cholera experts.

"These precautions should not alarm anyone," said Dr. O'Connell. "On the contrary, they should be reassuring. The sanitary forces of the various governments at war have become watchful, as may be seen in the reports of cholera in Vienna, Budapest and Serbia. Against this we must weigh the fact that sanitary science has been much developed since the last great war."

"In New York we are well prepared for any eventuality, as we have boarded officers trained in the cholera visitation two years ago, and Dr. Teague, besides being a recognized expert in plague work, had an invaluable experience in the bureau of science in Manila during the cholera epidemic in the Philippines."

SUGAR FAMINE AVERTED

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—With 28,000,000 pounds of sugar arriving here since last Saturday, the much-feared sugar famine seems to have been averted. Four vessels have arrived in Boston since Saturday with cargoes of sugar, the value of which would be $1,500,000 at the retail quotation of seven cents a pound.

The vessels arriving yesterday were the steamer Eskoskov, Capt. E. W. Hickey, and the Santa Isabel, Capt. A. S. Graham. The former was from Cuba with about 9,055,375 pounds of sugar, while the other had 7,040,000 pounds from the same country.

MISSING GIRL REAPPEARS

OAK BLUFFS, Sept. 30.—Miss Katherine Keating, the 16-year-old daughter of H. S. Keating, a Dallas, Tex., lawyer, has returned to her summer home in Edgartown and is now with her mother, who is seriously ill. She disappeared Sunday when her father was taking her from Boston to a private school in Peekskill, N. Y.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

THE FLAT WEDDING

"Father's stenographer is to be married soon," quoth Marjorie, and she has appealed to me to tell her how to have the wedding in her tiny flat which seems altogether too small to her for any such event. I am, for sentimental reasons, she wishes to have not only the ceremony there but also a reception and breakfast."

"It certainly can be arranged very nicely," began Marie after Marjorie had drawn a funny looking plan of the stenographer's apartment. "Of course, it is understood at the outset there can be no formality. Both principals and guests will be expected to join in the general merriment at once without a bit of ceremony."

"The attendants of both bride and groom must be here, there, and everywhere welcoming friends. Introducing strangers and seeing to the comfort of the guests until all are entirely at their ease and not until a conversational festivity is reached must they relax their efforts."

"All the rooms open to guests should have a few flowers tastefully arranged of course, on mantels, tables, or wall brackets, but large plants or flowers standing about the room will only be in the way as soon as the guests begin to arrive."

CLINTON, Sept. 30.—A general alarm was sounded shortly before 9 o'clock last night for an $8000 fire which broke out in the three-story tenement building on Nashua street owned by Patrick F. Coyne.

The fire was quickly extinguished, but not before the roof had been burned off and the whole building badly damaged by water. The homes of David Maroney, Rev. Henry Welsh and Martin Kane were ignited by sparks, but saved from burning.

The estimated damage to the building is placed at between $5000 and $6000, stock in a grocery store in the basement, belonging to B. Kowalski, was damaged by water to the extent of about $2000, and Eben H. Cobb, his son, Rep. Eben S. Cobb, and Mr. Coyne, the owner of the building sustained a loss of between $2000 and $3000 on furniture, making the total loss about $8000.

MARQUIS NEAR DEATH

CONDITION OF THE MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS FOR ITALY IS VERY GRAVE

ROME, Sept. 30.—The condition of Marquis San Giuliano, the minister of foreign affairs, although somewhat better, is grave. He is constantly nursed by his daughter-in-law, the Marchioness Santa Margherita. The patient stands his sufferings stoically but it is asserted that in a moment of discouragement recently he exclaimed: "I wish I could die ten times more." This is taken to mean that the minister feels that within ten weeks something very important and vital for Italy will occur but thus far no one has dared to question him regarding the matter.

GEORGE T. SULLIVAN DIES

Had Done Big Brokerage Business in Providence and Had Offices Later in Boston and New York

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 30.—George T. Sullivan, broker and bucket shop promoter of Boston, Providence and other places in New England, died at his Bayside home, Shawmut, yesterday. He was a native of Maine. Once he went into business in Mexico and made blankets for the army. At one time he had the largest brokerage office in this city.

After learning telegraphy as a young man he entered the employ of F. B. Grosby, a broker, here. He next became associated with Daniel T. Lyman, a broker on Westminster street, and later opened an office of his own. When the Bannigan building, now the Grosvenor building, was built, he opened large offices under the firm name of Sullivan & Sullivan, his brother, Edward L. Sullivan, being his partner.

He built up a large business, but the field was too small and he and his brother closed out here in 1902 and opened offices in New York and Boston.

GIANTS AND YANKS TO PLAY

New York Tennis Will Have Little Post-Season Series of Their Own—Last Met in 1910

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The New York National and American league baseball teams will meet in a post-season series to begin on Thursday, Oct. 8, the day before the opening of the world's series. After Pittsburgh won yesterday from the Giants and thus spoiled what all chance was left for them to win the 1914 pennant, officials of the two clubs met and completed arrangements for the local series.

The two teams have met once before—in 1910—when both finished in second place. The Giants took four of seven games from the Yankees in that series. The winner of four of seven games this year will take the series.

Athletes who intend entering the competitions must not forget that all entries close next Tuesday, Oct. 6th with George Ensley, 26 Wood street, Lowell and each one must send his registered number with the entry blank or be compelled to start from scratch as the official handicapper will not handicap any runner unless his registered number is on the entry blank.

ASKED THEIR POLITICS

Civil Service Employees at Postoffice Inspector's Office at Chicago Puzzled by Request

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Civil service employees of the postoffice inspector's office were somewhat perplexed yesterday, at receiving circular letters from Washington directing them to report on their party affiliations.

The perplexity was twofold; the recipients could not understand why the question was asked, and many of them, having been out of politics for many years hardly knew what to answer.

TENDRE OF OFFICE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—"No employee's tenure of office in at all likely to be affected by our inquiry into the answer thereto concerning his politics," said Chief Inspector Johnston of the postoffice department yesterday, commenting upon the reported apprehension caused among employees of his bureau by an inquiry as to their politics.

DAMAGE TO HISTORIC BUILDING
IRREPARABLE—ARCHITECT SAYS STONES DETACH AT TOUCH

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The artistic beauty of the Cathedral of Rheims which suffered in the German bombardment of that town can never be restored in the opinion of Whitney Warren, the New York architect, who has just returned from Rheims, where he made a thorough inspection of the famous structure.

Mr. Warren, who is a corresponding member of the Institute of France, obtained the privilege of visiting the cathedral. His investigation has no official character but the result of his observations will be communicated to M. T. Herrick, American ambassador to France.

"That anything remains of the cathedral," said Mr. Warren, "is owing to the strong construction of what might be called the carcass of the cathedral, whose walls and vaults are of a robustness which can resist even modern implements of war."

Mr. Warren declared: "All the wonderful glass of the nave is absolutely gone; that of the apse still exists, though greatly damaged. The greater part of the facade of the north tower and the entire choir-story, with flying buttresses and the turrets crowning each of them."

"The stone, as far as its surface is concerned, is irreparably damaged, when touched it detaches itself. Consequently all the decorative motives, wherever the damages have reached, are lost."

Maj. Spencer Crosby, the military attaché at Paris, returned with Mr. Warren. He went to Rheims to take money to the committee.

William Barchel, the American consul at Rheims, his wife, daughter and son are the only Americans left in the French city. They have spent most of their time the last fortnight in a windowless room in the underground, the only place in which is within half a block of their dwelling.

POOR OF WALL STREET

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE ORGANIZES COMMITTEE TO PROTECT THE POOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A committee was formed today noon to protect the poor of Wall street against destitution. The committee is composed of wealthy brokers and the persons who will receive aid are the army of clerks and employees of stock exchange houses who lost their places or are working at reduced salaries because of the closing of the world's stock markets. It is to be known as the Wall Street Employees' relief committee.

It is estimated that 5000 men, women and boys have lost their positions through the stagnation caused by the closing of the world's stock markets. It is estimated that many more have suffered partial reduction of salaries or are employed on "part time." Knowledge of this situation caused the organization of the relief committee under the patronage of the stock exchange, which issued the following notice:

"The view of the fact that considerable distress is known to exist among Wall street employees who have lost their positions as a result of the war, a committee of employers in the financial district is being formed, to be known as the Wall Street Employees' relief committee. This committee proposes to ascertain the extent of such distress and, upon information, such action will be taken as may be deemed necessary."

TRUST MEASURE

Sen. Reed Denounces Changes—Bill Must Have Penalties

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Senator Reed of Missouri yesterday concluded a 2-day speech in opposition to the conference report of the Clayton anti-trust bill with a final bitter attack upon his colleagues for eliminating specific penalties from the measure.

He predicted that the time soon would come when they would be compelled to write into the law more severe penalties for violation of trust laws than had been contemplated originally in the Clayton bill.

The senator announced that he would move to recommit the bill to the conference committee with instructions. Administration leaders declared last night, however, that the motion to recommit would be lost and the report approved.

Senator Reed severely criticized the conferees for striking from the bill the amendment which would authorize the courts to appoint receivers and sell the property of convicted corporations to persons who would restore competition. Dispositions of corporations without sale, he declared, avail nothing. He took the case of the Standard Oil company for illustration.

"The ticker in Wall Street," he said, "told the story of that dissolution in its rising profit."

"We have played the hypocrite," he continued. "We said when this great democratic host assembled that we would have a clean record before the people to read. Having marched to the hill to the heroic blast of bugles of war, we settled by the campfire tuning our ears to the seductive notes of 'Home, Sweet Home.' Some of us will hear from home."

SKULL WAS FRACTURED

ACCIDENTAL FALL CAUSED DEATH OF RONALD TRUDEAU OF LOWELL AT WESTBORO HOSPITAL

WESTBORO, Sept. 30.—Medical Examiner Charles S. Knight filed a certificate of death yesterday in the case of Ronald A. Trudeau, of Lowell, who died at the Westboro state hospital Saturday.

The cause of death was given as a fracture of the skull, caused by an accidental fall. Trudeau also sustained several broken ribs. The case was investigated by Dist. Atty. James A. Stiles and state police officers. The body will be taken to Lowell for burial.

Trudeau was born in Canada, son of Rubin and Delphine (Hawley) Trudeau.

TO ISSUE $22,000 BONDS

CITY COUNCIL WILL START STREET WORK WITH LOAN TO PREVENT UNEMPLOYMENT

HAVERTHILL, Sept. 30.—The municipal council yesterday passed a resolution to issue $22,000 for street work, in order to furnish employment for laborers.

Mayor Moulton explained that the $22,000 worth of bonds authorized some time ago for various purposes has been held up owing to the high money market, but there was plenty of money to meet current expenses.

The council decided to make a loan of $22,000 to the city of Havert Hill, and Webster street at once.

PELLAGRA DUE TO DIET

SPARKTANBURG, S. C., Sept. 30.—Surgeon General Rupert E. Blue, chief of the public health service here yesterday day to look into the pellagra situation. Pellagra, though practically unknown in this country 20 years ago, now causes more deaths here than any other disease. The public health service recently opened a pellagra hospital in Spartanburg and 15 patients are receiving treatment.

When asked his opinion of the cause of pellagra, Surgeon General Blue said he placed great weight in the recently announced opinion of Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the public health service, that an "unbalanced diet" produced the disease and that it could be cured by rest and a balanced diet. He added that a person who subsisted mainly on one cereal could, in his opinion, get into a condition which would stimulate pellagra.

NO BOXING IN CAMBRIDGE

Mayor Good Orders Commissioner of Public Safety to Prevent Friday's Exhibition

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Mayor Good of Cambridge yesterday announced that he will not allow the University A. C. to resume boxing exhibitions at its headquarters on Green street, the first of which had been scheduled for Friday night.

Commissioner of Public Safety Cullenham was instructed to get in touch with the state police in order to stop the bout. District Attorney Greenman Jackson said that all boxing in Massachusetts is illegal and he would step in in Cambridge if the mayor did not.

FISHING RULES

Canada Has Tired of Failure of the U. S. to Adopt Regulations

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 30.—Owing to the failure of the United States to approve of regulations governing the taking of food fish in boundary waters, the Canadian government is about to serve notice that it resumes its liberty of action, it was learned here last night.

A treaty was made between the two countries six years ago for the appointment of a joint commission to frame fishing regulations applicable to boundary waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Mr. David Starr Jordan, representing the United States, and Professor Ulbrich, representing Canada, agreed upon a set of regulations.

Canada approved of them, but the United States failed to do so, owing chiefly, it was said, to objections from lake fishermen. In 1912 Canada gave notice that unless the regulations were approved at the next session of conferees, Canada would resume liberty of action. The change of administration in the United States influenced Canada to delay at that time.

Canadian government officials apparently saw no prospect of the United States putting the regulations into effect and the government now "proposes to make such amendments to the existing fishing regulations for the Canadian portion of the boundary waters as may be deemed best."

STILL ANOTHER LAWSUIT

MRS. HANSEN SUES TO ANNUL SON'S MARRIAGE—WOULD THROW OUT REUTTI'S CLAIM

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—One more lawsuit has been added to the long list which has disrupted the marital happiness of Walter Lathrop Hansen, grandnephew of the late Leland Stanford, and his young wife, known on the vaudeville stage as Henrietta Reutti.

Through Rockwood & McKelvey of Saratoga Springs, Mrs. Aimee Lathrop Hansen, the young man's mother has sued to annul the marriage clandestinely contracted in Philadelphia, Nov. 5, 1912. Mrs. Hansen names as defendants her son, his wife and Edward T. Dempsey, who was legally appointed a committee of young Hansen's person and property.

Before the marriage Mrs. Hansen entertained Miss Reutti and the impression was gained that she was fond of her. The son was a contingent fee of $150,000 which the mother now controls.

When Mrs. Hansen learned of the marriage she cut off her son's allowance. Thereupon he sued her to obtain a $50,000 legacy left to him by his father, who died Jan. 29, 1912.

The mother had her son examined by a commission relative to his sanity. He was found sane, but incompetent, and Mr. Dempsey was appointed his guardian.

About this time Hansen quit his wife and she sued the older Mrs. Hansen for $50,000 for alienating the affections of her husband. This suit is pending in the supreme court. If Mrs. Hansen can secure an annulment the action brought by daughter-in-law will naturally fail.

FIRE AT BILLERICA

Brush Fire Burned Over Twenty Acres at Ground Near the B. & M. Repair Shops

A brush fire, which started on land owned by John Shea and located near the Boston & Maine repair shops, No. 1 Billerica, yesterday burned all night, covering over 20 acres of brush and woodland. The damage will not be very heavy.

The fire was discovered by railroad employees, who notified the North Billerica fire department by telephone. The firemen succeeded in preventing the blaze from connecting with any property, but it was necessary to leave several men on the scene throughout the night to extinguish occasional fires that would have proved dangerous if allowed to burn.

"TOM BROWN DAY"

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Convicts in Auburn prison Monday celebrated "Tom Brown Day," the first anniversary of the day, on which Thomas Atoll Osborne, chairman of the New York state commission on prison reform, entered the prison for a voluntary short term to study conditions.

As a result of the visit, Osborne, acting on a report by Mr. Osborne, abolished dark cells, bread-and-water punishment, "silence" and permitted outdoor play and exercise, frequent entertainment, and encouraged the formation of the mutual welfare league, a self-governing organization of prisoners dealing with discipline, bread camps and honor groups were also established.

The convicts presented to Commissioner Osborne a gold headed cane. A baseball team composed of life-term prisoners was defeated by convicts by the score of 32 to 31 in a ninth inning finish.

THE FRENCH SPIRIT

WEARY REGIMENT WON HILL, BY DAYONET CHARGE AFTER 72 HOURS OF FIGHTING

PARIS, Sept. 30.—As an illustration of the spirit that animates the French regiments the story is told of an incident at Soissons, where, after three days' incessant fighting, a single infantry regiment that has assaulted the enemy's position time and again was compelled to retire. At the close of the third day, by a bayonet charge, they had gained a height which covered the German position, but the latter were on a neighboring hill, where they were busy digging intrenchments.

It was necessary to carry the position before the digging was finished, if it was to be taken at all, so the commanding officer, recognizing the exhausted condition of his troops, ordered reinforcements, whom he sent to charge.

The regiment felt humiliated at the call for reinforcements, and positioned their colonel to be allowed to finish the work themselves. Permission was reluctantly given, and despite their previous 72 hours of arduous fighting, the remains of the regiment charged up the hill and carried it by assault. They lost heavily in the effort, but their pride had been satisfied.

Boxer Carpenter Wounded

The Fikars, as an instance of how little news reaches the French capital from the front, except in the official bulletins, quotes a London newspaper. The French boxing champion, who is at the front.

Great satisfaction is expressed because of the failure of the Prussian imperial guards to break through the French centre. Lieut.-Col. Roussel, the military expert, says that great and continual demands have been made upon this famous regiment and it is probable that they are exhausted by the tremendous strain.

The Matin, referring to the guards, says that every time the Germans play their latest "last card" the imperial guards must spring from their ashes like another Phoenix and make a vigorous attack upon the allies.

"They are certainly soldiers without the fear of death in them," says the Matin, "yet our men have once more repelled them."

The Strict Censorship

The Paris newspapers are so limited in their war news that it may well be said that the "strict censorship" is not only a reality but a general situation, they are reduced because of the restrictions upon all such comments, to the merest banalities. Their columns show more white space than printed matter, indicating where the censor has deleted considerable portions of the news.

The new regulations preventing the approach of the fighting lines of all correspondents has filed the city with a crowd of despondent war specialists.

WILLED A CENT BY WIFE NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—John B. Hendrickson of No. 1433 Bushwick avenue, Brooklyn, who is "on account" of his "worthlessness" out of work by the will of his wife, who died Aug. 6 last at the New York state hospital, Kings Park, died Monday with Surrogate Ketchum of Brooklyn a petition for his probate.

Hendrickson says he has waited since his wife's death for her executor, Mrs. Maria Winter of No. 17 St. Mark's place, Brooklyn, to file the will. He says he believes Mrs. Winter will refuse to act as executrix of the will and will refuse to apply for its probate. Five Hurlled to Street in Crash—Man's Leg Was Broken

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—One man is now in the hospital with a broken leg and two women are suffering from dislocated shoulders as the result of a collision of two automobiles on Walnut street, Newton Centre, yesterday morning.

D. Frank Lord, who is in the Newton hospital, was driving his son, Howard, aged 14, and his niece, Sylvia Ward, aged 16, to the high school. His machine was proceeding along Walnut street, when a car driven by Miss Abbie Baxter, who was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Frederick E. Weston of Lincoln, shot out of Homer street, and before either driver could bring the car to a stop, they had crashed into each other.

All five persons were thrown violently to the street and both cars badly smashed. The Newton ambulance was called and the injured people were taken to the Newton hospital. Mr. Lord received the worst injuries, suffering from a fractured right leg and cut and abrasions about the face and body.

Miss Ward and Mrs. Weston received dislocated shoulders and abrasions, while Howard Lord and Miss Baxter were shaken up and cut about the face. All with the exception of Mr. Lord were able to be taken to their homes in the afternoon.

EVERY DAY ETIQUETTE

"Will you kindly tell me what a bridal register is and what is done with it?" asked Ruth.

"A bridal register is a book bound in white, having the initials of the bride in gold lettering on the cover. This is placed, with pen and ink in the hall or library, and is filled with the signatures of the guests," answered her newly-married chum.

"A few of us girls were invited to a house party. Nearly all of the girls took a box of candy to the hostess, but I did not. Do you think it would be all right to send one after the party?" asked Alice.

"It will be quite proper for you to send the candy, flowers or fruit to your hostess. Of course, I presume that you did not overlook the note of thanks which you should have sent to your hostess upon your return home," answered her aunt.

"Will you kindly tell me if it is proper for a man to offer to pay the carfare for a woman friend he has met while standing on the corner for his car?" asked Alfred.

"If you are very well acquainted with the woman it would be all right for you to offer, but if she is a person with whom you do not associate very often it would be better not to pay her fare. Many women resent this presumption on the part of men," answered his father.

"What is the proper time to return a call made by a friend?" asked Maud.

"First calls in the season should be returned on the next reception day of the person who has made the call; if she has no reception day, then a call should be made at any convenient time within a week or fortnight; after this exchange of calls a longer period between visits may be allowed to pass," answered her friend.

"If you are going to attend the reception you need not make any reply to the invitation. You should leave your card for the bride, for the hostess and for the women in the receiving line. If you cannot accept the invitation you should send two of your visiting cards by mail to the person who is giving the reception," answered her aunt.

"I have received an invitation to a reception to be given for a bride and groom. I know the former but not the latter; will you kindly tell me what kind of a reply should be sent?" asked Florence.

COSTIVE BOWELS, HEADACHE, COLDS, TAKE CASCARETS

No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation by Morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Purged Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments, and causes a bad cold. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

noon a one-mile race will be run between two veterans, David Bruce and William Salmon. Both runners have passed the 60-year limit and are anxious to decide now and forever who is the better runner of the two. Though long past the age when runners retire from the track, both men have shown considerable speed and endurance, for on several occasions younger men have had to give up to these veterans. Silver cups will be awarded the runners. Both men have many supporters and friends, who will turn out to see what promises to be the most interesting race of the season.

HOW NED WAS FOOLED

Once upon a time Ned went with his uncle to a country fair. Ned had always lived in the city and the piles of fruit and vegetables seemed very attractive to him. Of course there were other things that looked good and everything was new to him and he wanted to see and taste them all.

His uncle gave him ten cents and told him to spend it for whatever he saw that he wanted and to meet him in half an hour at the big gate. Ned thanked him and started off to see what he could find to eat. He walked up to a stall and saw some big red apples, a pile of juicy pears and a mound of some round yellow things that looked like oranges.

It took him some time to decide what to buy but at last he asked the price of the yellow things. "Three for ten cents," the man said, "and cheap at that."

Ned walked away with three of them tucked under his arm. He opened his mouth and took a big bite from the biggest one only to spit it out as quickly as he could. "Gee, that is the worst tasting thing I ever tasted and it is as hard as a rock. I guess it isn't ripe," said Ned.

He started back and told the man that it wasn't ripe and he wanted another one.

"Why that is as ripe as it ever will be. You don't want them too ripe you know," said the man.

Ned walked back to the gate where he was to meet his uncle with them still under his arm. "Perhaps I bit on the side that wasn't ripe. I guess I will try again," said Ned. Just as he started to take another bite his uncle came up and exclaimed: "What are you eating that squish for? Are you as hungry as all that?"

"A squish," said Ned. "Is that a squish? I thought that it was an orange or something like that."

How his uncle did laugh at him, and they both went back to the man from whom Ned bought it and told him about it.

He was very nice and gave Ned half a dozen of the biggest oranges he had, for he said if a boy was so hungry that he had to eat a squish he deserved something very nice.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

A man living in the region of upper Vermont avenue told me that upon two occasions recently he has been stoned by a bunch of hoodlums while driving through Colonial avenue at night, the last occasion being one evening of last week, when his wagon-on-top was about ruined, his horse struck and he himself narrowly escaping serious injury. Upon his jumping out and confronting the gang, the members denied his accusations and walked away. The gang ranged from 15 to 25 years of age, and went in the direction of Riverside street. The man who was stoned is not aware of possessing anybody's enmity, and inclines to think the assaults pure cussedness. Complaints to the police on both occasions have amounted to nothing—at least to date no clever captures have been reported to the newspapers.

Meanwhile, in several sections of the city the chicken thieves are getting in some very effective work, while the fruit and garden thieves are right with them.

The suburban citizen who likes to keep a few hens and chickens or who likes to raise a little fruit and have a little garden would like to have the protection he pays for, or if he cannot have that he would like the law's privilege of protecting his own property. Of course, he doesn't want to kill anybody he finds stealing his chickens, but should he catch a thief stealing his corn or his apples and maliciously apply a whip or throw the thief from his premises he would, if haled into court, pay $25 for presuming to inflict punishment upon the thief. Yet it's a fact that many citizens find themselves being robbed do just this thing, and for obvious reasons usually go away with it.

The truth is, because of the prevalence of this character throughout the business area about one-quarter mile radius from the post office, extending from Boot mills to South common and from Dutton street to Concord river.

Three, are located in the lower Highlands, extending from the depot to Wilder street and from Hale street along the line of Western avenue and Pawtucket canal to Pawtucket street.

Four, are located in the Ayer's City and Bleachery districts, extending from Edison cemetery north to Chelmsford street and from Chelmsford street easterly to Concord river.

Five, all numbers commencing with five, are located in the upper Highlands and Middlesex villages.

Six, all numbers commencing with six, are located in Centralville.

Seven, all numbers commencing with seven, are located in Pawtucketville.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN THOMPSONVILLE, CONN.

Man Who Took Out Marriage License a Week Ago Killed Wife and Himself

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., Sept. 30.—Nicholas Vitiello, or Vithuklas, shot and killed a woman believed to be his wife here last night, and then turning the weapon on himself fired three shots which resulted in his death a half-hour later. The shooting is supposed to be the outcome of a disagreement over money matters.

The couple lived with Mr. and Mrs. James Lagaro, at 3 Martin street. Vitiello had resided here for the past several years. With the exception of the past five months, spent in Philadelphia. The police could find no evidence that

WORLD'S SERIES

Members of National Commission Meet to Make Arrangements

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—Members of the National baseball commission, composed of Gov. John K. Tener, president of the National league; Ben Johnson, president of the American league; and August Hermann of Cincinnati are here to decide upon the details of the approaching series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Boston Nationals for the championship of the world. President Shibe will represent the Athletics, while President Gaffney will look out for the interests of the Braves. Cornelius Magillendy, who for the sixth time has a championship team, and George Stallings, who has landed the Boston team at the top of the National league after a desperate struggle, will also be on hand when the conference opens today.

A toss of a coin will decide where the first game of the series will be played. The admission charges and other details, including the manner in which tickets will be disposed of, will be decided upon at the meeting. The Boston management has indicated a preference to have the playing scene alternate after each game, while Connie Mack advocates the playing of two games in each park between the jumps.

It is probable that the same seating arrangements and prices will prevail here as in previous years.

BRYAN HEARS GOOD NEWS

TELLS PRESIDENT PROSPECTS FOR PERMANENT PEACE IN MEXICO ARE BRIGHTER THAN EVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Optimistic dispatches yesterday from Consul Sullivan and the Brazilian minister at Mexico City caused Sen. Bryan to inform President Wilson that the prospects for restoration of permanent peace in Mexico were brighter than at any time since the overthrow of Madero by Huerta.

The state department was notified yesterday that the peace commissioners appointed by the two constitutional chiefs would hold their meetings at Tuxtepec today.

It is understood that one of the first matters to be brought to the attention of the provisional president when he is elected will be the attitude of those now in power toward the Catholics. A demand for full religious liberty for all American citizens probably will be made.

O'Sullivan Says:

Seeing that all the clothing dealers are shouting the name "Balmacaan," thereby designating a particular style of overcoat; it occurred to me that the public should know who gave birth to the name "Balmacaan."

The Sam W. Peck Co. registered the name "Balmacaan" in the U. S. patent office Oct. 7, 1913. The name and the style caught on so that at present Balmacaans, so-called, are a feature of every clothing line.

Josh. Billings used to say, an imitation that is not an improvement on the original is no good. That's why the Balmacaan coats sold by the Merrimack Clothing Company, sole agents in Lowell for Sampeck "Clothes of Culture" for young men and boys, have the true ring of fashion—the snappy touch of ginger and style that has made the Balmacaan coat so popular.

These stylish garments—Brown, gray and green, in fancy mixtures, are priced here $12.50, $15.00, $18.00 and $25.00. Prices named are especially low on the quality and style of the garments so as to attract money from its hiding places. When you see on the streets one of these particularly attractive coats chances are you'll find it has a Merrimack Clothing Company's label.

taken any shoe worker in his employment after receiving notice from the union that such shoe worker is objectionable to the union, either from or on account of being in arrears in dues, or from disobedience of union rules or laws, or from any other cause.

The employer agrees that there shall be no discrimination against any member of a union, because of his or her activity in union affairs.

The employer agrees that he will not cause or allow the union stamp to be placed on goods not manufactured in the factory for which the use of the union stamp is granted and the employer agrees that it will be a violation of the contract to use the union stamp or stamps in any other place than the particular factory for which the use of the stamp is granted.

It is mutually agreed that the union will not cause or sanction any strike, and that the employer will not lock out his employees while this agreement is in force. The foregoing will be thoroughly explained at the meeting.

In the opinion of Daniel E. Whalen, local organizer of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union this stamp agreement has worked to decided advantage to the employer, employee and the town or city wherever the agreement is in effect.

He says that in most cases differences have been amicably patched up between the employer and employee and that there have been but few strikes in the whole history of the organization. This he thinks speaks for itself.

At the meeting to be held in Harrington hall Sunday afternoon the following well known labor advocates will expound the theories of the labor movement: Timothy Rourke, president of the trades & labor council of Lowell; John P. Tobin, general president of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union; John P. Meade, business agent of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union of Brockton; Edmund Stier, organizer of the United Textile Workers' union of Lowell.

FOUR DIRECTORS QUIT THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

Rockefeller, Brooker and Elton and Baker Resign in N. Y.—Mellen Before Special Grand Jury

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Four directors of the New Haven Railroad company, William Rockefeller and George F. Baker of New York, Charles F. Brooker of Ansonia, Conn., and James B. Elton of Waterbury, Conn., resigned at a special meeting of the board of directors yesterday. The board voted to accept the resignations. It was announced after the meeting: One new director was elected, J. Horace Harding of New York.

The form of the call for the annual meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on Oct. 23 was approved and the board voted to recommend to the stockholders at that meeting that the membership of the board of directors be reduced to 17. With the resignation today of Brooker, Baker, Elton and Rockefeller, the board consists of 20 members. It was 27 a year ago.

The first proof of the annual report to the stockholders was submitted to the directors yesterday, and with certain amendments, was approved and ordered printed and mailed.

Propose to Reduce Directors to 17

Mr. Rockefeller, because of his health, has desired for some time to retire from the board. It was announced last night, his resignation as a director being in line with his policy to curtail his activities and thus conserve his health. Mr. Baker's resignation, likewise, was a continuation of his policy to retire from as many boards as possible.

Mr. Brooker recently resigned as republican national committeeman from Connecticut and announced at the time that he would retire from other activities, intimating that he would next resign as a director of the New Haven board, as he, too, desired lessened business cares.

Mr. Elton's resignation followed a statement recently that he would reduce the number of boards of directors on which he served.

The proposal to reduce the number of directors of the New Haven to 17 is in accord with the policy being generally adopted by railroads and financial corporations to reduce the number of directors and conduct their affairs by means of small working bodies. It was explained.

Mellen Before Federal Grand Jury

Ex-Pres. Charles S. Mellen was the first witness today before the special federal grand jury empaneled at President Wilson's suggestion to investigate the criminal aspects, if any, of the New Haven railroad management.

His counsel, John W. H. Crim, said that Mellen's appearance before the grand jury would make it impossible for the jurors to find an indictment against him in connection with this investigation. "Moreover," said Mr. Crim, "Mr. Mellen's testimony before the interstate commerce commission at Washington earned him immunity from indictment. Mr. Mellen was not asked to sign a waiver of immunity before appearing before the grand jury today."

When Mr. Mellen entered the grand jury room he was prepared to reply to a great extent the testimony given by him before the interstate commerce commission in Washington, especially that portion which relates to the financing of the New Haven road's operations during the past decade.

An indictment by a previous federal grand jury, which investigated the relations between the New Haven road and the Grand Trunk railway, still lies against Mr. Mellen.

In view of his willingness to testify yesterday afternoon, and of his testimony before the interstate commerce commission, it was considered likely that this indictment would not be pressed.

Mr. Mellen was before the grand jury an hour and 40 minutes, and will be further examined tomorrow afternoon. The government has subpoenaed all the books and papers bearing on the various matters under investigation which are in possession of the New Haven system.

It was learned last night that the government has retained as special counsel in the investigation James W. Osborne, who conducted the highway investigation for Gov. Glynn; R. L. Battis of Texas and Frank N. Swacker.

IMMUNITY OF MELLEN

Some Department of Justice Lawyers Question Soundness of Claim to Freedom From Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Although department of justice officials refused last night to discuss the testimony of Charles S. Mellen before the New York federal grand jury, it was the opinion here that there is some question in the minds of department lawyers of the soundness of his claim to immunity from prosecution as a result of his examination by the jury.

It is understood, however, that some officials feel that Mr. Mellen may have been given immunity by his testimony before the interstate commerce commission.

It was said last night that government attorneys in charge of the case were told to use their discretion in summoning before the grand jury witnesses who testified before the interstate commerce commission.

PROBE TRUDEAU'S DEATH

As a result of a letter she received yesterday from the officials of the state hospital at Westboro, Mass., Mrs. Romeo Trudeau will have the body of her husband disinterred and a thorough investigation will be carried on to ascertain the cause of the death of Mr. Trudeau, who was an inmate of the hospital until last Saturday when he passed away.

The death certificate was signed "Fractured skull," and the medical examiner of Worcester county after hearing the evidence in the case stated the cause of death to be due to an accidental fall. However, Mrs. Trudeau, who wished to get more thorough information in the matter wrote to the officials of the hospital and yesterday she received a letter, signed by one of the physicians of the institution, in which it was stated that the injuries which caused the death of Romeo Trudeau consisted of a broken chest, three fractured ribs, a fractured arm and a fractured skull, besides various cuts about the face and body.

Upon receipt of this letter Mrs. Trudeau decided to have the body disinterred and the remains, which were buried yesterday morning, will be brought to the rooms of an undertaker.

where an autopsy will be conducted by expert physicians. Mrs. Trudeau has taken the first steps of her investigation by writing a personal letter to Gov. David I. Walsh, in which she sets forth her reasons for the investigation and this afternoon she is to employ counsel to assist her in conducting the case.

TURNING MOVEMENT OF THE ALLIES DEVELOPING RAPIDLY

German Delivered Vigorous Attack on Tracy-Le-Mont But Were Defeated With Heavy Losses — Report That the German Right Wing Had Been Broken Not Confirmed

The turning movement directed against the German right wing by the allies is developing rapidly, according to an announcement by the French war office this afternoon.

It is declared that a vigorous assault on Tracy-Le-Mont was repulsed with heavy losses to the Germans. Tracy-Le-Mont is the elbow of the fighting line that in a general way stretches from that point east and north. The official statement says this action moves more and more towards the north.

There is nothing in the Paris announcement or in other official statements today, however, to confirm last night's assertion by a Paris correspondent of a London news agency that the German right wing had been broken.

The French war office claims also that slight progress has been made between the Argonne region and the Meuse and that the allies have advanced east of St. Mihiel. No notable movement has occurred on the center and the situation on the right is reported unchanged.

An official German statement coming by way of London states that there had been general fighting on the German right but nothing of a decisive character has transpired. German headquarters also reported the center of the battle line is quiet. The French advances in the vicinity of Verdun and Toul have been renewed, it is said.

A German official statement issued last night also described the fighting on their right wing as indecisive. The allies operating against the forts on the Meuse were repulsed, it was said. Berlin confirmed the assault on Antwerp and said that the attacks by the Belgian garrison had been repulsed.

Russian assaults in the government of Suwalki, Russian Poland, have failed, it is declared.

TWO CIGARET FACTORIES IN GERMANY PLACED UNDER GOVERNMENT CONTROL

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—(Via London) 1.30 p. m.—Two cigaret factories in Germany, the Jasmatal concern at Dresden and the Baleschert factory at Baden-Baden, owned by the Anglo-American tobacco combine have been placed under government control for the reason that a majority of the capital is held in England.

According to the Lokal Anzeiger, Prince Franz, son of the king of Bavaria, who has the rank of major general and is in command of the second Bavarian regiment has been slightly wounded in the thigh.

TURNING MOVEMENT OF ALLIES NORTH OF SOMME DEVELOPING RAPIDLY

PARIS, Sept. 30, 2.27 p. m.—According to the official bulletin on the war given out here this afternoon, the turning movement of the allies north of the Somme is developing rapidly. A German attack on Tracy-Le-Mont has been repulsed with heavy losses.

The text of the statement is as follows: First—On our left wing north of the Somme, the action continues to develop more and more toward the north between the Oise and the Aisne, the enemy has delivered a vigorous attack on Tracy-Le-Mont, northeast of the forest of Aisne, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

Second—On the center there is relative calm along the entire front, which extends from Rheims to the Meuse. Between the Argonne and the Meuse we have made slight progress. In the Woivre district there have been severe battles. Our troops have advanced at several points, notably to the east of St. Mihiel. On our right wing in Lorraine and the Vosges there has been no change. In Gallia the efforts at Suwalki made by the Austrian garrison at Przemysl have failed. The Austrian armies continue to retreat in disorder, losing numerous prisoners, artillery and war material. At Mont Duzegols, south of Przemysl in the Carpathians, a Russian detachment has defeated a Hungarian brigade and penetrated into Hungary.

SOME CONCORDANCE IN DRIFT OF REPORTS FOR FIRST TIME DURING WAR

LONDON, Sept. 30.—For the first time in this war of nine nations there is today some concordance in the drift of the reports from the headquarters of the three armies holding the center of the stage in France which is still the theatre where the most consequential operations are in progress. It is, however, to be noted that concordance by one side of the claims of the other is largely negative.

The French advances from Verdun and Toul have been renewed. The German official report of yesterday's fighting on the eastern end of the line, and the communication of Gen. Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French forces, agrees with it in the statement that his troops have made slight progress in that field. At the other end of the 250 mile line the allies are well holding their own, is the report from British headquarters and the Berlin announcement seems indirectly to admit this claim by announcing that the battles on this end have been indecisive.

In the center the French commander-in-chief claims slight progress. According to another version of the report from the German headquarters, the French attacks from Verdun and Toul have been repulsed. Confirmation of a news agency story that the German right wing has been broken and was in flight is still lacking. Commentators show much skepticism of this report, although they consider the breaking of the German right wing to be only a natural result of the great turning movement, the present status of which is pictured in the French official announcement of yesterday. This shows that the allies have pushed back the invaders in this region until the German right wing is virtually at right angles with the rest of the line.

The fact that the German army headquarters admit that their great effort to throw back the pressure of the allies have proved indecisive is regarded in England as significant.

OFFICIAL BERLIN STATEMENT SAYS FRENCH HAVE MADE NEW ASSAULT

LONDON, Sept. 30, 1 p. m.—A despatch from Berlin, coming by way of Amsterdam, says that the headquarters of the German general staff made the following official statement last night:

"On our right wing in France in decisive battles have occurred. Between the Oise and the Meuse it is generally quiet. The army operating against the forts on the Meuse was repulsed."

"The French have made a new assault along the line from Verdun to Toul."

"Our siege artillery has opened fire on the forts of Antwerp. The assault of the Belgian forces against the attacking line has been repulsed."

In the eastern theatre of the war, the Russian assaults in the government of Suwalki failed. Heavy artillery yesterday began a bombardment against the fort of Osanconce.

Second Edition ENGINEER BARBOUR BOSSING THE JOB

Of Constructing the Filter Plant on the Boulevard—Civil Service Blanket Relieves Commissioner—Barring Out the Reporters

When it comes to the question of building the new filtration plant let it be understood that Engineer Barbour is the big noise. He is the man behind and what he says goes. The Charles R. Gow Co. has been awarded the contract, but the contractor will have to take his orders from the engineer. Mr. Barbour will receive somewhere in the vicinity of $4000 for supervising the job.

All this, however, is not as important as the fact that the conference at which the contract was talked over and agreed upon was held behind closed doors. The conference was held in the mayor's office last Friday. The reporters were barred. They sought admittance and were refused.

It was one of the biggest city contracts that the city government has had to pass upon for some time, yet the conference was held behind closed doors. That the matter of the contract was all cut and dried was evidenced by the fact that when the council convened in the aldermanic chamber at 3.45 o'clock in the afternoon the contract was approved right off the reel. A number of taxpayers have expressed themselves as not being very well satisfied with the procedure. They allow that the story of the conference should have been made public. They look upon the members of the city government as their servants and they want them to do things in the open.

Michael A. Lee, business agent of the carpenters, was present at the conference and as a result of certain protests or suggestions offered by him it was inserted in the contract that in the matter of the employment of laborers and mechanics preference shall be had for residents of Lowell, provided always that such employment is consistent with the prompt expedition and despatch in the prosecution of the work.

It was stated today that Mr. Lee was apprehensive of cheap labor being imported in connection with the construction of the filter plant and he decided to bar the reporters.

There has been some talk about the employment of labor by the water department, especially in connection with the installation of the filtration plant and the commissioner of that department is being quite severely criticized in certain quarters.

Now the fact of the matter is that the commissioner has very little to do with the employment of labor in his department since the city laborers got in under the civil service blanket. When a man makes application for work the best the commissioner or superintendent can do is to refer him to the registrar. The commissioner or superintendent cannot play favorites. A man's chances for work depends entirely upon his standing on the waiting list.

And when it comes to a showdown Engineer Barbour will have something to say about labor for the contract so stipulates. The contract specifically states that the engineer shall pass upon the ability of the man hired and that on written order from him the contractor will have to discharge such men as the engineer says are not fit men for the work. Such men cannot be re-engaged without a written order from the engineer.

The engineer, too, shall pass upon the amount, quality, acceptability and fitness of all materials, and the contractor must conform with the lines and grades submitted by the engineer. He shall direct the contractor where to begin and thereafter shall name all points where the work is to be continued. The engineer may make all the changes in the plans, before or after the work has been begun, as he sees fit. He has estimated the cost of the work and it is now put up to him to have the job done within the estimate. He is to be well paid for his time and labor.

THE CHALIFOUX CORNER

Horse Power

All the country roads leading to the cities show the hay crop being gathered in. The heavier the load of hay the more horses are hitched to it. Almost every day trains entering the city bring merchandise for us. The horse power of the stores, like the farmer's hay wagons, has to be increased according to the load to be carried.

DRY AMENDMENT "USELESS WAR"

Roosevelt Says Judge-Made Laws Should be Subject to Approval

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 30.—Theodore Roosevelt addressed an audience in the Valentine theatre yesterday afternoon. He made even more emphatic than in previous speeches the stand of the Ohio Progressive party against the liquor traffic.

"Conditions in Ohio this year," he said, "are such that if I were a citizen of Ohio I would vote against the wet amendment and for the dry amendment."

He charged the liquor men with bringing the issue on themselves. He said:

"I wish to speak of the issues before you in this state. The brewers and distillers have taken the field against women's suffrage because they regard the entry of women into the rights of citizenship as a danger to the dominance of liquor in politics, which they have been trying more and more to establish."

Says Ex-Pres. Taft—Extremely Grateful We are Not in it

WORCESTER, Sept. 30.—Ex-President William H. Taft, who came to Worcester yesterday to help the Worcester Country club dedicate its new home on Mountain street, stopped long enough, during a very busy day, to say a few words about the present European war.

"I am extremely grateful we are not in it," said the ex-president. "And to my mind we will not get into it. President Wilson has offered mediation to the warring nations, and they have it under consideration. The plan is to offer it at the right time and get out of it as soon as possible. We will not be in it."

"It is a useless war, and I think we certainly should all be grateful that we are living in a peaceful land. Last week I was in Quebec, with Mrs. Taft, and we saw Canadian troops embarking for the front of war. They were a fine-looking lot of boys, but it was not a pleasant sight."

"War is a terrible thing, and while this country is fortunate enough to be out of it, we will have to hear our share of the burden just the same. We are so closely allied with European nations in our trade that we cannot escape having to shoulder some of the financial burdens. To my mind, we should do this willingly, however, in view of the fact that the very flower of our nation is being sacrificed on the battlefields, as is the case with European nations."

"The war, of course, is the one interesting topic just now. The man who knows most about our position is President Wilson. He occupies a position that requires careful action and his attitude may have great bearing in bringing the strife to an end. It would be useless for me to discuss the situation, because there is nothing I could say that has not already been said. I am just a plain professor now and I am out of politics entirely."

DR. HARRINGTON FAVORED

FORMER LOWELL MAN URGED FOR THE POSITION OF STATE HEALTH COMMISSIONER

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Dr. Thomas F. Harrington, a former Lowell man, now director of hygiene in the Boston school department, is endorsed for the position of state health commissioner. In a petition in circulation among members of the Massachusetts Medical society.

The petition is intended as a protest against the desire of the governor to go outside the state to find a man for the place that will pay $7500 a year. Prominent physicians, however, had heard no intimation that local physicians were seriously considering a protest against the desire of the governor to appoint a man who had made a national reputation in health matters.

When the bill reorganizing the state board of health was in conference Gov. Walsh attended a meeting of the Massachusetts Homeopathic society.

At this meeting it was distinctly understood that Massachusetts physicians as a body would not be satisfied with a health commissioner who had not proved his qualifications in some large manner.

It was also understood that the governor intended to appoint Dr. Victor G. Heber, government medical officer in the Philippines. Later he received an attractive offer from the Rockefeller Institute and was not available for Massachusetts.

Four other physicians in the government service were on the governor's list as acceptable men. Several days ago Dr. A. K. Stone, representing the Massachusetts Medical society, and Edward J. Mcweeney went to Washington in behalf of the governor to ascertain if the government would release

Best Laxative

For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

FOR CLEAN MILK

Result of Contest Announced at Reading Fair—Lowell Milk Good

Milk Inspector Masters has been congratulated relative to the quality of the milk supply in this city and the congratulations come from the state bureau, too.

It all came about in this way. The state dairy bureau arranged a clean milk contest some time ago and offered prizes. The prizes didn't amount to very much. The first prize was $50 and the lowest was $2.

Farmers entering the contest were notified by the state bureau men what time they would call on them. They would take milk from five cows, hand drawn, and unstrained. The milk was put in a mixing tank and run through a cotton disk—a sort of sediment test. These samples were all taken to the bureau's headquarters and the prizes were announced at the Reading fair. Bryant Bros. of Dracut took eighth prize, Aaron Osterman, of Tewksbury, got 13th place, O. J. Coburn, of Dracut, 24th place and Leblanc Bros. of Dracut, 25th place. There were only five entries and the state bureau allowed that to capture four prizes out of five entries was going some.

YOM KIPPUR IN THE ARMY

Jewish people throughout this city are wondering how the Jewish soldiers, fighting in the various armies in the great European war, will be able to celebrate the feast of Yom Kippur, or Atonement, which is being observed today and is one of the most sacred of all Jewish holidays. During the German and French war, 1870-71, the Jewish soldiers with the German army were allowed the right to observe the day on the battlefield, a part of which was set apart for that purpose.

FOR THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

The Board of Trade Appeals to Police and Health Departments for Cleaner Streets

The city beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade has started its campaign of beautifying the city and its first step was to ask the cooperation of the police and health departments in keeping the streets, alleys and yards free from rubbish and old papers, and accordingly letters were sent to the heads of both departments.

It seems that the city ordinance in reference to the throwing of rubbish, paper, etc., is not lived up to, although it is up to the police department to see that all city ordinances are followed to the letter. The committee accordingly makes an appeal to the police department to enforce the law, and has sent a letter to the superintendent of police, a copy of which follows:

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 23, 1914.
Mr. Redmond Welch, Supt. Police Department, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir: The city beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade desires the co-operation of your department in eliminating the practice of throwing rubbish, old papers and other refuse into the streets and yards of the Market street district. It was felt that if your officers would instruct the people along these streets of the bad effect upon health and living conditions and the importance of keeping the community clean, it would tend to bring about a decided improvement of conditions. It was also felt that your officers should call to the attention of property owners along these streets the condition of the premises with a view of having the owners of property provide proper receptacles for receiving this rubbish.

If you can assist the committee in any way I am sure they will be thankful.

Respectfully yours,
John H. Murphy, Secretary.

To Board of Health

The board of health is also getting its share of the criticism in a letter that was sent to the agent. The committee urges the necessity of providing receptacles for receiving rubbish and also to maintain sanitary conditions throughout the city, for it seems that the board has been lacking in activity for some time past, or since the new reform went into effect with the new city administration. The following is a copy of the letter sent to the agent of the board of health:

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 29, 1914.
Mr. Fred A. Bates, Agent, Lowell Board of Health, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: The city beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade desires to call your attention to the necessity of providing receptacles for receiving rubbish, old paper, etc., on Market, Jefferson, Suffolk and other streets of this vicinity in order to eliminate the practice now in vogue of throwing such refuse into the yards and streets.

The committee appreciates your efforts to maintain sanitary conditions throughout the city and feels the suggestion made will tend to improve matters.

Trusting this matter will commend yourself for your consideration and action. I am

Respectfully yours,
John H. Murphy, Secretary.

As a last resort the committee sent a letter to the president of the Greek community asking him to instruct his people as to proper sanitation. The committee urges the president to impress upon his people the bad effects upon health and living conditions by allowing refuse and rubbish to collect in back yards.

EFFECTIVE, ECONOMICAL COMPLEXION RENEWER

One reason mercurized wax is so strongly recommended is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleaning cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin, which gradually appears, is clearer, softer, healthier and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off morning in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.

For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel, is the best thing that can be recommended. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

SALARIES UP TO $632,896

STATE EMPLOYEES FEWER BY 75 THAN IN PREVIOUS YEAR, ACCORDING TO LATEST FIGURES

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Although there were 75 fewer on the payrolls of the state from July 1, 1913, to July 1, 1914, than during the preceding fiscal year, the money paid in salaries was greater by $632,896.76. In order to ascertain who have benefited by this increase one would have to spend a week or two figuring up the tables in the "List of the Officials and Employees of the Commonwealth 1913-1914," which made its appearance at the state house yesterday.

Comparative figures show that between July 1, 1913, and July 1, 1914, the whole number employed for the year was 17,661 and the total amount paid for services was $5,425,663.33; between July 1, 1912, and July 1, 1913, the whole number employed for the year was 21,167 and the total amount paid for services was $5,711,654.34.

WILL NURSE GERMAN

Wife of Lieut. von Schroeder at Boston Joins the Army as a Red Cross Nurse

DENVER, Sept. 29.—John W. Moray, millionaire manufacturer of Denver, yesterday announced that his daughter, Mrs. von Schroeder, who has been in the thick of the fighting since it began, has gone to the front in the European war as a Red Cross nurse attached to the German army.

Lieut. von Schroeder, who was a reserve officer of the German army, is Boston manager of the Hamburg-American Steamship company and was visiting Germany at the outbreak of the war. He immediately responded to the colors and a letter from his wife announces that he has been in the thick of the fighting since it began.

Mrs. von Schroeder writes that Germany is a unit behind the Kaiser and that she is glad of the opportunity to aid her husband's fatherland.

THIEF GETS ABOUT $50

Burglar Lifts Door From Its Hinges to Enter Store of Thomas E. Burns in Brookline

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The drug store of Thomas E. Burns, 127 Washington street, Brookline, was broken into some time between midnight and 1 a. m. yesterday morning and money and stock worth $50 stolen.

The thief lifted a large door from the hinges to enter. He took only the expensive brands of cigars and tampered with two of the three cash registers and got about $14.

The rear door of the store bore evidence that someone attempted to force it. This was not successful, so the thief got into the cellar of the next building and then took down the door separating a passageway from the store.

STILL UNDECIDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Whether the bill providing for government purchase of merchant vessels will be taken up at the present session of congress or go over to the session beginning in December still was undecided today.

It was the general impression among members that action would be postponed, although President Wilson still is in favor of immediate passage of the measure, and it is said will urge congress to take it up at once.

On account of the present session having been so prolonged and because they are anxious to get home for the campaign, many members of the house are strongly opposed to taking up the measure now.

DUNDEE MILLS PARTY

HOLD A HOUSEWARMING ON OPENING OF ITS NEW STOREHOUSE AT HOOKSETT, N. H.

In recognition of the recently completed storehouse of the Dundee mills in Hooksett, N. H., an opening party was given by the treasurer, F. E. Cox, to the employees. It was voted by those in attendance one of the prettiest and most successful parties ever held in that town.

In behalf of the treasurer a short address was given by the superintendent, welcoming the employees, after which over 100 couples joined in the grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. Cox, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Talford, the owners and employees.

The hall was in gala attire for the guests, American flags, cut flowers and bunting having been artistically arranged by Miss Bernice Worthley, assisted by Miss Bernice Worthley.

During the period of intermission, refreshments were served by the office force, consisting of Miss Helen Knox, Miss Bernice Worthley and Mr. Alfred Racine.

Dancing was the pastime until midnight when three cheers went up for the treasurer and superintendent.

THE WORLD SERIES

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—George Stallings, manager of the Braves, probable winner of the pennant in the National league, will go to Philadelphia for the meeting of the national commission tomorrow in favor of playing the world series in one-day stands. This was the word that he gave to a friend today and Manager Stallings gave the impression that he would press the point.

It has been proposed to play two games in each city before moving to the next and it is known that Charlie Mack, manager of Philadelphia Athletics who undoubtedly will oppose the Boston team, is in favor of this plan.

THOUGHT HIM MOOSE

HUNTER BEYOND MAINE BORDER SHOOT FRIEND—SAYING SAVES SPEARIN FROM SERIOUS WOUND

BANGOR, Sept. 29.—The first victim of the hunting season is in a hospital here with a wound in the arm, caused by a rifle shot fired by a friend, who mistook him for a moose. The accident happened on the Canadian side of the St. John river, where the moose season is now open.

Howard Thornton and Harrison Spearin were hunting near Piskhegan. They saw signs of moose and separated. A short time later Spearin saw what he thought was a moose and fired. He heard a cry of pain and found he had shot Thornton in the arm.

The bullet had passed partially through a sapling, which no doubt, prevented a more serious wound, as the shot was from a high-powered rifle. The wound is not considered serious.

HAVERHILL MAN ENGAGED

Mr. C. L. Bourque, formerly of Haverhill, Mass., succeeds Mr. John Cashman, who recently resigned, as foreman of the stitching room at the Meers Adams Shoe Co. His appointment meets with general approval and all who know him unite in wishing him all kinds of success in his new connection.

CLERKS DELINQUENT

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The office of the secretary of state is awaiting the returns for the primary election from 40 to 220 towns and 53 cities of Massachusetts. Meanwhile the work of tabulating the candidates nominated for the ballot in the coming state election is held up.

No one county is yet complete and the returns from towns in several of the cities are missing. The law requires city and town clerks to send the returns of their primary election to the secretary's office "forthwith," and this order seems to have been generally disregarded.

Y.M.C.A. CLASS OPENINGS

Will be Held Next Week—New Physical Director Has Extensive Plans For New Work

Next Monday gymnasium classes and all other similar work will be resumed at the local Y. M. C. A. with better accommodations than ever to entertain the hundreds of young men who will assemble there weekly during the winter months for exercise and recreation. The new physical director, M. F. Furey, has been busy at the association building for the past few weeks arranging a schedule and looking after all details so that when the classes assemble next week all will be in readiness to start activities which will continue until next spring.

Mr. Furey announces the following schedule for the coming season: Business men: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 3.15 p. m.; other business men: Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5.30 p. m.; seniors and students: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8 p. m.; high school boys: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8.30 p. m.; juniors: Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4.15 p. m. and Saturdays at 10 a. m.; employed boys: Wednesdays and Saturdays at 5.30 p. m. Music will be furnished at all classes by Miss Orange Falls, pianist.

The new physical director has planned considerable interesting work which is sure to prove popular with the members of all classes. Leagues, tournaments and contests, based on class organization which will include basketball, football, baseball, volleyball, basketball, swimming, diving, indoor athletics and gymnastics have been arranged and will be started immediately. Special directors services will also be available for boxing, wrestling, fencing, etc.

Class work will be adapted and rated to meet the needs of the different grades. The class activities will consist of light gymnastics, heavy gymnastics, athletics, dancing, Swedish exercises, pulley weight exercises, rhythmic exercises, group games and recreational games. For the boys, a graded course of group and team games will be given this year. They will be taught to play basketball, football, baseball, volleyball and tennis. The latter will progress toward more highly organized games such as captain ball, Panama pinball, indoor baseball and basketball.

The seniors will participate in bi-weekly competitions and bi-weekly events in aquatic, indoor athletics and heavy gymnastics work in an endeavor to enter the inter-collegiate and inter-university contests. Through these activities, it is hoped, that gymnastics and athletic teams will be developed, such teams engaging in inter-association meets. Opportunities will be provided for playing indoor baseball, volleyball and basketball and teams will be formed for leagues and tournaments.

All classes will have regulation uniforms. The boys will wear white jerseys, white running trousers and white shoes; the seniors and business men will wear white shirts, long gray trousers with black stripes and dark colored shoes. A new feature this year will be the requiring of a medical examination of every new member and a physician's certificate that the prospective member is fit to engage in the various activities. Examinations will be given free by a local physician who has volunteered their services. Old members who have not been examined during past years will be required to comply with the medical requirements before a certain date which will be fixed by the physical director.

During the summer months the entire gymnasium has been renovated. The gymnasium has been cleaned, mats vacuumed and all apparatus has been inspected, cleaned and made ready for use. The dining cafeteria and winter rooms have been cleaned and painted while all lockers have undergone a thorough cleaning. The gymnasium store has also been well stocked for the convenience of members and there is no doubt that this year's opening will be a great success.

Open house will be observed at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening and Physical Director Furey will be tendered a reception by the members and friends of the association. The program is as follows: From 7.30 to 8 o'clock, reception to M. F. Furey; from 8 to 9, an entertainment by Will Burns of Boston; 9 to 10, inspection of the building. During the evening music will be furnished by Cushman's orchestra and refreshments will be served.

MULKERN IS CONVICTED

JURY WAS OUT FOUR HOURS—YOUNG MAN FATALLY SHOT BROTHER JULY 27 LAST

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 29.—Michael J. Mulkern was last night convicted of murder in the first degree by the jury of the superior court. July 27 he shot his brother Patrick in the latter's stable on India street. Before the brother died July 29 Michael was allowed to see him and receive his forgiveness.

The closing argument was made yesterday morning by Messrs. Berman and Wilson, counsel for the defendant. Judge J. E. F. Connolly delivered his charge yesterday afternoon. The jury was out four hours. A motion for a new trial on exceptions was allowed.

Mulkern showed great emotion when the jury foreman pronounced the verdict. One of the convicted man's sisters fainted and another dropped back in her seat and sobbed. Mulkern is not quite 19 years old.

SETTING FIRE CHARGED

John Swanson of North Weymouth Accused as Result of Blaze in Quincy

QUINCY, Sept. 29.—John Swanson, 23, of North Weymouth was arrested yesterday afternoon by Inspector Goodhue and Capt. McKay of the Quincy police, charged with setting fire to the three-story tenement at 133 Kendrick street owned by Christina Tellokian. The police say the prisoner confessed to the deed soon after his arrest.

The attempt at arson occurred early on the morning of Sept. 22. Tellokian is a foreman in the asbestos shops of the Fore River Works and Swanson had worked under him in the shop for ten years. The latter was among those recently laid off on account of dull times.

DE ANDREA, SEWER AND TUNNEL MINERS' UNION HEAD, DIES WITHOUT NAMING SLAYER

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Joseph De Andrea, president of the Sewer and Tunnel Miners' union, died yesterday from a gunshot wound received on Sept. 16, after a meeting of the union. Although he retained consciousness, De Andrea refused to make any statement which would lead to the arrest of his slayer.

De Andrea was among the remarkable figures in the history of labor unions in Chicago. From a laborer in the sewer trenches, he arose in 19 years to where he had an annual income of $30,000. In 1903 he was indicted, charged with murder, but pleaded self-defense. In 1910 he was a candidate for state senator, but was opposed on the ground that he operated a padrone system.

POLICE SEEK SLAYER OF VINIE BRECKER

AKRON, O., Sept. 29.—Three clues were being followed today by the police in an effort to run down the slayer of Miss Vinie Brecker, aged 22, murdered yesterday afternoon when her head was literally hacked to pieces by a hatchet in the hands of an unknown assailant. A long wooden weapon in the shape of a tomahawk which had been used by the murderer before he attacked Miss Brecker with a hatchet, a note, unaddressed and unsigned reading: "Didn't you recognize me last night?" and another bit of scribbling on a cardboard are the clues that may lead to the identification of the slayer. Miss Brecker had been interested in mission work in Akron and was widely known and respected.

POLICE STILL SEARCHING FOR MILDRED SULLIVAN

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The four persons under arrest here in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Miss Mildred Sullivan, a school girl of Houlton, Me., were formally given over to the care of Maine authorities in court today. Charges upon which they were arrested were placed on file. All defendants waived extradition proceedings. They probably will be returned to Maine tomorrow morning by Sheriff Archibald and Lawlis of Aroostook county. Those now under arrest in the case, who are to be joined by another person to be detained in Maine, are: Dr. Lionel Dudley, Alice and Etta Pelletier and Katherine Michael, all of Maine. Search for the missing girl continues without result.

REED RESUMES ATTACK ON ANTI-TRUST BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Senator Reed's fight against the Clayton trust bill took on the aspect of a filibuster today when he resumed the attacks. Calls for a quorum and searches for absentees followed in quick succession.

WANT RELIGIOUS LIBERTY IN MEXICO

BAITIMORE, Sept. 29.—Following a conference today with Cardinal Gibbons, bishops in attendance upon the convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies adopted a report protesting against the recognition by the United States of any government in Mexico that does not guarantee religious liberty. This report was later adopted by the convention.

FOR MEDICAL INSPECTION SUPERIOR COURT SITTING

Speaker at Cotton Manufacturer's Convention Favors it for Factories

LENEX, Sept. 30.—"I have become convinced that the medical supervision of employees is advisable and that it can be made an economical procedure, of advantage not only to the employer but to the employee as well."

This statement was made by Dr. William Hall Coon of Haverhill in an address on "The Health of the Employee" at the semi-annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers today.

Dr. Coon, after referring to the general recognition by manufacturers of "the advantages that come through the maintenance of clean, well lighted, sanitary factories, continued:

"All this is not done because of sentiment but for the very good reason that it pays and pays well. It would also pay, it seems, to people those factories with employees in good health capable of giving their best efforts through each working hour of the day and to provide for their continuance in good health by a carefully planned and carefully carried out system of medical examinations and inspection."

"The efficiency of any machine rests upon the efficiency of the person operating it. You can speed a machine to its limit, but the material passing through will suffer if the person in charge is careless or inattentive, and time will be lost even though the imperfections in material may later be removed or repaired. This carelessness or apparent inattention may be due to causes which you can remedy when you have found their cause."

Dr. Coon spoke of the spread of tuberculosis and other diseases through contact of mill operatives. He also emphasized the fact that court interpretations of workmen's compensation laws had held employers liable for "personal injury" due not to accidents, but to illness contracted in the course of work.

PINK BOLL WORM

Discussed by Convention of Cotton Manufacturers at Lenox, Mass., Today

LENEX, Sept. 30.—After W. D. Hunter, a member of the horticultural board of the department of agriculture at Washington, had described to the convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers today the nature of the pink boll worm which infests Egyptian cotton, the secretary of the association, C. F. H. Woodbury of Boston, related the efforts which had been made by the department of agriculture, in cooperation with cotton manufacturers, to prevent a spread of the pest to the cotton fields of this country.

"The pink boll worm where it thrives in Egypt," said Mr. Woodbury, "has both impaired the staple and reduced the output in some instances as much as 50 per cent."

As a result of a hearing on the matter last May, the secretary reported, the department of agriculture had adopted Mr. Woodbury's suggestion that manufacturers using Egyptian cotton should be requested to burn each day all picker waste and seeds from such cotton, for the reason that the pink boll worm often was found in the seeds. President Albert G. Duncan of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in July last sent a letter to all members urging compliance with the department's request. Mr. Woodbury reported that all the responses to this letter had been favorable.

"It is probable," Mr. Woodbury said, "that those precautions against the pink boll worm are temporary, as the weekly report from Alexandria indicates that the measures are successful to the extent of diminishing this pest, but it will be necessary to exercise the utmost vigilance until authorities have informed that the hazard has been mastered. It is believed that by this prompt acquiescence by the mills very serious impediments to the use of Egyptian cotton in this country have been overcome."

THIRD STEAMSHIP FIRE

IN NEW YORK WITHIN EIGHT DAYS BROKE OUT IN SANT' ANNA

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The third steamship fire in New York within eight days broke out today in the Fatah liner Sant' Anna, the ship which brought Cardinal Farley and many American refugees home from Europe two days ago. A week ago today there was a lively blaze aboard the Mallory line steamship Neveas and last Saturday a blaze in the hold of the White Star liner Celtic threatened for a time the destruction of the ship.

Today's fire destroyed costly silks and velvets in the staterooms held before the fireboats were able to extinguish it. As in the cases of the two previous fires its cause could not be ascertained.

VISITS GARAGES

garages in Fire Chief Saunders' automobile. He called at city hall shortly before the noon hour and talked the matter over with City Clerk Flynn. The state officer found that a Sunday paper had an article on the construction and maintenance of garages and the storage of and handling of gasoline that was misleading, and at one garage where he ordered a number of changes, the keeper of the garage showed him the article and said that he was living up to the law as it appeared in the paper. State Officer Flynn told the well-intentioned garage man that the article was misleading, and handed him a copy of the new law and regulations.

"I find," said the state officer, "that a great many of the garage men are not familiar with the law, and that course it is my duty to inform them. I have a big territory to cover and the newspapers can help out a whole lot if they publish the right dope. The newspapers can do the public a great favor by simply stating what the law requires and it's just as simple as rolling off a log."

"If you want to build a garage, or store gasoline, the first thing to do is to go to the city clerk and apply for a license. After the license has been granted by the city government you go to the chief of the fire department and make application for a permit. He will give you a copy of the rules and regulations and as soon as the rules and regulations have been compiled with the fire chief will issue the permit. Can there be anything more simple? There has to be a yearly renewal of the permit, of course, and the process of renewal is the same. You visit both the city clerk and the chief of the fire department."

The Insurance Question

"It is absolutely essential that keepers of garages and owners of automobiles in general should familiarize themselves with the laws and regulations governing the construction and maintenance of garages, and the storage and handling of volatile inflammable liquid in connection therewith. If they don't they are liable not to be able to recover their insurance in case of fire. They will find that their policies provide that the rules and regulations shall be lived up to. If you should go to the city clerk and make application for a license and the city council should grant the license, you would find, in case of fire, that you would not get the whole distance, providing you had not obtained a permit from the chief of the fire department. The insurers would look into the matter and if they found you had not complied with the law, you might whistle for your money."

Definition of Garage

The definition of a garage as contained in the regulations adopted and prescribed by the state police is as follows: "Garage" shall mean a building or other structure, or any portion thereof, where-in are kept or housed any motor vehicles charged with or containing a volatile inflammable liquid, fuel or power, or wherein is conducted the business of repairing motor vehicles. "Motor vehicle" shall mean any vehicle with more than two running wheels, charged with or containing a volatile inflammable liquid for fuel or power.

Frictional Electricity

State Officer Flynn said that a number of fires are caused in garages by frictional electricity during the handling of gasoline and Fire Chief Saunders said that frictional electricity had been responsible for a number of fires in Lowell.

Frictional or static electricity is generated by the rubbing together of substances that in themselves are nonconductors of electricity, such as dry wood, rubber or gasoline; or it may be generated between a conductor and a nonconductor, such as gasoline and a metal pipe. Gasoline poured on chamolis or linen will create frictional electricity, which is more liable to be generated when the atmosphere is clear and dry, than when it is moist.

Ascertain the Cause

The state police have instituted exhaustive research to ascertain the true cause, and to devise a practical remedy therefor. In this connection they offer the following advice:

In the drawing of gasoline from a pump into a metal can, no can should be used that has a wooden ball or handle in such a manner that the wood will intervene between the metal of the can and that of the pump on which it is hung.

In filling the tank of a motor vehicle with gasoline from a metal can, care should be taken that good metallic connection exists not only between the tank and other metallic parts of the vehicle, but between the funnel and tank as well. The pouring can should have a piece of copper chain soldered to the nozzle, the other end to rest in metallic connection with the tank or the funnel during filling. Motor vehicles that are filled by means of a hose direct from a storage tank or a portable tank should have hose with a continuous metallic lining which is in good metallic connection with the pump at one end and the shut-off nozzle at the other end, or with bare copper wire inside of the hose with like connections at both ends.

Chamois Skin Strainer

Shut-off nozzles at the end of hose lines should be fitted with copper chains to rest on the car tank in metallic connection during filling, or with a metal clamp serving the same purpose.

The passage of gasoline through a chamois skin strainer has been found to generate electricity which is collected in the metal parts of the funnel in dangerous intensity, and the substitution of a funnel with a strainer of 80 or 90 mesh wire which will exclude water is recommended.

Safety lies in maintaining good metallic connection between the storage tank and the tank of the motor vehicle during the process of filling, so that all electricity generated may readily pass off to the ground as fast as generated.

THE O. M. I. CADETS

LISTENED TO VERY GOOD ADVICE FROM THEIR DIRECTOR, REV. D. A. SULLIVAN, O. M. I.

About 250 members of the O. M. I. Cadets gathered in the Immaculate Conception school hall last evening and held their first meeting since returning from camp. A great volume of business was transacted and arrangements were made for the 10th anniversary to be held November 20. It was announced that over 1000 members and past members had signified their intention of attending. Further plans having to do with coming activities during the winter months were formulated after which Rev. D. A. Sullivan addressed the boys telling them of the success of the maneuvers in camp and congratulating the boys on their success.

Next Tuesday evening the annual inspection will be held and all members are requested to send in their uniforms and equipment as soon before the time as possible.

CHANCELLOR GEORGE

SAYS THAT WALES WILL SEND AN ARMY OF 50,000 TO ASSIST IN THIS WAR

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 30.—Via London, 6:50 p. m.—At a big meeting here today, over which the Earl of Plymouth presided, David Lloyd-George, the chancellor of the exchequer, spoke of the government's decision to raise a Welsh army of 50,000 men.

Mr. Lloyd-George, who delivered a rousing speech, said that Glamorgan-shire already had recruited 24,000 and Monmouthshire 12,000 men. He frankly told his hearers that the recruits were not going out for a picnic, but for a stern enterprise which would involve hardships, wounds and danger, but he added, a vast majority would return and would have glorious memories to the end of their lives—memories that they would not barter for all the gold in the Bank of England.

The chancellor of the exchequer pointed out that under conscriptions Wales would be compelled to contribute a quarter of a million men, but that a voluntary army of 50,000 men would be just as good as a forced army five times that number.

LOWELL MAN INJURED

FELL FROM LADDER WHILE AT WORK IN MILLERICA CAR SHOPS THIS FORENOON

The private ambulance made a trip from this city to the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica this forenoon, where Joseph Cosselin, a young man residing at 57 Hall street, this city, had sustained a fracture of the right leg when he fell from a ladder to the floor of the shop. He was removed to St. John's hospital.

Cosselin, who is a machinist at the shops, was working on some high machinery which necessitated his standing near the top of a long ladder, and losing his balance he fell.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS

The "city beautiful" committee of the board of trade made many excellent suggestions at its meeting of Monday, practically all of which have been at one time or another advanced by The Sun and which may, therefore, be approved by The Sun with consistency. So sane were they, so essential, so pertinent and withal so modest that all progressive people of the city will regret that the wide-awake civic committee is not empowered to demand instead of to suggest. Were such the case we would see far fewer empty political plays and far more intelligent municipal activity.

One of the most important suggestions made, and one that is easy of fulfillment, was that the health and police departments be requested to investigate conditions throughout the city with regard to civic cleanliness and sanitation and the cultivation of a proper regard for municipal ordinances along those lines. Alleys, yards and streets in all sections are to receive attention, and the president of one of our foreign groups will be asked to co-operate by bringing the activity to the attention of his followers.

In this there is nothing new as Lowell has enjoyed the temporary cleanliness resulting from two or three such campaigns, but the necessity for them we have always with us. The spring is an excellent time for such a movement, but also pressing are the claims of the fall when the streets are littered with leaves and branches and when summer carelessness has left its imprint on lawns and yards. When the snow lies it is not late for anything like extraordinary clean-up activity and a special effort at this time would help the cause of winter sanitation and keep the movement necessary for it constantly in the public mind. Fortunately, the city beautiful committee does wisely in making municipal cleanliness the preliminary requisite of civic beauty.

As against the municipal council and the health department for receptacles for waste paper and waste generally is also an excellent move, the necessity for which will be emphasized by a visit to any neighboring city. In this respect Lowell is away behind the times and suffers as a consequence. With more unobtrusive and artistic receptacles for rubbish, our streets could be kept far more presentable than they are at present.

The recommended conference between the municipal authorities and the officials of the Locks and Canals may also remove another cause for complaint in the unsightly and dangerous canal fences that interfere with civic beauty in many sections of the city. The Locks and Canals corporation can well afford a more desirable type of fence, but it cannot afford to go on eternally offending public feeling. Other cities have long recognized the possibilities of their river banks and canals as developments of the beauty-spot idea and Lowell is showing signs of waking up to a like realization. In this regard there is a great deal of work before the city beautiful committee but there is nothing of a serious financial burden involved and a little co-operation and the growth of a real Lowell spirit would work wonders.

The elimination of billboards wherever possible, especially those in the centre of the city, is also to be approved, and so are the widening of Rogers street and the improvement of the entrance of Shedd park. In none of these things is the board of trade committee asking very much and they are the practical things that would appear almost negligible to a city that takes its parks, playgrounds and city beautiful problems in earnest. If we cannot develop anything new or striking let us at least keep up to the Lowell of the past. The local press in general and the members of the city beautiful committee are showing the city how it may be done.

THE MANN ACT

Undoubtedly the spirit that prompted the passing of the Mann act was a splendid one and the intention of the act itself is excellent. Still, there are a good many virtuous people—and among them those whose opinions carry weight—who do not approve of it as its workings are revealed by frequent newspaper items. Those who disapprove of some of its phases declare that in supporting virtue the Mann act may be made the instrument of injustice. As an illustration of its dangers, or possible dangers, comes an accusation from Chicago against a former superintendent of the Chicago office of the department of justice. The accusations against the former government official are due to revelations made by a witness who testified that a white slave charge made against a citizen of St. Paul was merely a blackmailing plot, in which the superintendent of the department of justice office was implicated. The trial in the case received a verdict of $17,000. An affidavit submitted by a newspaper reporter gives what is alleged to be a private account of the whole case in which the St. Paul man was revealed how the plot was concocted and how some well-meaning woman's club of St. Paul fought her battles. Whether true or false the new revelations are a good indication of the result of emotionality in such cases as some of the Mann white slave cases.

In the stamping out of vice it is eminently desirable that they who would lead any girl astray should be fitly punished, but it is questionable if it is in accordance with the spirit of the constitution that the federal government should step in, merely because the woman in the case has been taken from one state to another. The heavy reflection is that the woman is an unwilling victim, but there is reason to believe that the cases of actual abduction are not nearly so numerous as is generally supposed. The Mann law, therefore, may be used and it is to be feared, is used as a pretext by a designing woman for any injustice of a blackmailing character. When a man is arrested under the Mann act he is in a far more unfavorable position than most accused individuals. Judge or jury are not apt to dwell much on extenuating circumstances, and it is very possible that an entirely innocent individual may be made to look extremely guilty. Even when guilty of crime it seems a little inconsistent that the federal government should intrude to settle what could just as well be settled by state regulations.

From the above mentioned case and from like revelations in divorce cases it is evident that in matters relating to immorality there is room for a great deal of injustice. Given a wealthy and pleasure-loving man, a worldly-minded and designing woman and a few incidental frame-ups, a fine case could be bolstered up in a short time. When, added to the combination is a corrupt government official the Mann act can make the rankest injustice wear the mask of virtue. There is much in such subjects to make the courts and the public pause and think before approving.

GOVERNMENT OWNED SHIPS

It may be that labor problems or other economic or political influences may at some future time make the American public look to government ownership of public utilities with favor, but that time is not yet. Despite the fact that a well-defined agitation is discernible tending that way—especially at times of general agitation or disturbance—the American people as a whole still regard government ownership as either undesirable or desirable only as a last resort.

The history of the recent agitation

in favor of establishing a merchant marine is an excellent illustration. It was at first held that the most satisfactory form of the revived service would be a fleet of commercial ships, flying the American flag, manned by American sailors, but in the hands of private concerns. Interest lagged, apparently, and then the administration let it be known that to tide over American industry, it believed in the formation of a government-owned merchant marine. With the realization that private capital was slow in supporting the measure and that ships were not flocking to the American registry, the public at last was satisfied that a government-owned service was preferable to stagnation.

Gradually, however, it became apparent that American commerce would not suffer as there were sufficient ships to handle American exports and imports without calling on the government for direct service. During this period a bill to provide for government purchase of ships was framed, but as yet it has not been introduced into congress. It is now being said in Washington that unless President Wilson personally urges its acceptance, it will not be favorably considered, and even with the expressed sanction of the chief executive, it is doubtful if the bill for government ownership would become law. Among its most strenuous opponents are many leading democrats. Some who at first sanctioned it now declare that the emergency has passed and are therefore in favor of leaving American international trade in the hands of private American concerns. Among those opposed on economic grounds is Mr. Underwood.

Under these circumstances it would seem desirable that the bill providing for a government-owned merchant marine should be postponed until the necessity for it is more marked. The principle of government ownership is a dangerous one, to be supported only on extreme necessity.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bicarbonate of soda, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

THE PAVING BLOCK ORDER

The city council yesterday authorized an order for 250,000 paving blocks which should have been purchased in April or May so that there might be an opportunity for different contractors to bid on them. Now it is understood the blocks are required in such a hurry that only one firm which keeps them on hand can supply them within the time specified. Is that economy? Is it fair dealing or is it deliberate delay in the interest of a certain firm and the only one hereabouts that has paving blocks for sale?

without its province. Still, in an official statement a few days ago the body declared that 35 cents a peck for apples will insure to the growers "a good reasonable profit." That a declaration of the kind will have an effect on the selling of apples in Boston cannot be denied, and it is questionable if the chamber could not, with propriety and general advantage, extend the sphere of its price investigations.

In England and in other foreign countries, chambers of commerce not only publish lists of prices but they urge on the public the necessity for acquainting them of all cases where food is sold above the named price, that charges may be preferred in the courts. Though the Boston civic body cannot go as far as this, there is a good deal of common sense in the following paragraph from the Post:

"This is a very good beginning to price-suggestion, gentlemen of the chamber of commerce. None of you will be indicted for conspiracy. We feel pretty sure. Now, then, having started the work for the public good, why not extend it to other foodstuffs? The fee is broken; precedent is made; go further and do a complete service to the people."

ENGINES OF DEATH

America was inclined to poke fun at English fear of a German aero invasion for the past few years but recent war revelations show that the English fear was well founded. There is no scoffing today when London is taking every precaution not to permit itself to be a target at night for German aeroplanes or Zeppelins. What was done at Antwerp or Paris could just as well have been done in London, only instead of one aeroplane or dirigible balloon, a large fleet could have been used. If the future will see great wars such as we are having at present, the battles in the air will be a still more important feature. Almost stranger still are the deeds of the submarines, those silent little engines of death that steal under water and sink a mighty battleship in five minutes, and with one shot. More terrible still are the modern guns which illustrate the art of killing in the superlative degree. The Germans are said to have guns that do fearful damage at from 10 to 20 miles and the French are reported as having a gun that throws a pebble with a killing edge. The way to peace may yet be through the road of death-dealing inventions such as those that make modern war too terrible for comprehension.

RASH ON BABY'S FACE AND NECK

Also Chest. Then on Head. Took Off Great Patches of Hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Elm St., Mechanics Falls, Me.—"Our baby's face, neck and chest first broken out with a kind of rash and seemed to be sore for washing him. I was so worried about it that I bought Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used it on his face and neck and chest and he was cured. I also took off great patches of hair. He acted as if it itched terribly and would not stop scratching it only made it worse. It was red and covered with little spots of blood. A friend told me how Cuticura Soap and Ointment had cured her little girl who suffered agonies with eczema. We got some and in a short time her face, neck and chest were entirely well of the eczema. Then her head began to have patches like dandruff. She had it before she had the eczema and her hair came out in patches. It itched terribly and the dandruff formed big brown scabs. She would scratch them out and leave her head all raw underneath. We thought perhaps Cuticura Soap and Ointment would cure that, too. They did. The scalp was healed in ten days and at the same time her head had grown back. Her hair stopped coming out and grew fast. Now she is completely healed of the trouble." (Signed) Belmont H. The advance notices of 1915 automobiles show that the price of machines is destined to descend several pegs next year, and that consequently more people are going to own them than ever before. And so it is that more and more people are going to do more jumping than ever before, at the sound of more automobile horns than ever. What are we coming to? Or, rather, where shall we go to, to save our lives?

AS PAT EXPECTED

Some time ago an Irishman and an Englishman went to the captain of a ship and asked for the privilege of working their way across the ocean. The captain consented, but asked Pat for references, while taking the Englishman on without them.

A few days later the pair were washing the deck and just as the Englishman was leaning over the side to pull up a bucket of water he was caught in a huge wave and carried away.

"Captain," said Pat, going to that official, "maybe ye remember that when I asked ye for references ye let the Englishman come on without them."

"Yes," replied the captain reflectively. "What about it?"

"Nothing," answered Pat triumphantly. "only he has gone off wid yer bucket."—Exchange.

ABOUT MAD DOGS

A mongrel puppy, without owner, license, muzzle or leash, and no doubt hungry, strayed on board the municipal ferryboat Bronx at New York and tried to make friends. Several persons patted him and he wagged his tail happily, but he ventured too close to a white-trooped man and was kicked. The puppy yelped and ran.

The dog bumped against another man, and then he cried "Mad dog!"

The puppy was knocked down with a deck stool. More deck stools were piled on top of him. Men climbed on seats and seats on men who could not room. Then a middle-aged woman, her face flaming, uncovered the yelppromises and, in the vernacular of the street, got away with it.

With 200 horses burned in a New York fire and 11 burned a few days afterwards in a Beverly fire it would seem that some form of a stable should be devised which would give the horses a chance of escape at such times. It was occurrences such as these that drew from Tennessee the wish: "Sweet St. Francis of Assisi, would that he were here again!"

With all these headlines of the German right wing and left wing, they will not be able to fly very well, even if defeated. It may be well to postpone judgment of the Alsine battle until the next time.

THOUGHT HE WAS SPY COTTON MEN LOSS IS $8000

Percy Leveen Luckily Had Somerville Letters—Man Standing Beside Him Shot as Suspect

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Percy Paul Leveen, a young violinist, who lives at 2 Flint street, Somerville, has just returned from Prague, Bohemia, where he went last summer to study. He spent July, August and part of the present month in Germany and Austria. Though arrested as an English spy in Austria, and standing beside a man who was shot as a spy while Leveen was on route from Austria to Germany, Leveen nevertheless managed to smuggle through the British Isles, and on a British liner, a number of official documents which were published by the German government in order that its version of the war and its beginning might be known to the world at large. The English authorities, he said, are conducting all such publications they find.

All of them assert that the war was largely due to the fact that the allies misunderstood a telegram sent out by the Kaiser, and declare that the Kaiser did all in his power to prevent the war. When Young Leveen arrived in Berlin, June 28, "that there was something brewing" was clear enough to every body in Berlin," said Leveen. "Soldiers paraded through the streets all night and day, marching to and from the drill grounds."

Leaving Berlin, July 3, Leveen went to Dresden and later to Prague. At both the latter cities, the drilling of soldiers was the chief sight of the day.

Bohemians Opposed Fighting Slavs

"Bohemia was the first section of Austria to mobilize," continued the young violinist, "and the people there did not view the war between the dual empire and their Slavic brothers of Serbia with very much favor. A number of the Bohemian officers attempted to start a revolt against Austrian rule, but were court-martialed and shot."

"During the mobilization, while I was studying in Prague, I witnessed every day most touching scenes, as families were broken up by the departure of the troops. A friend of mine, a strapping fellow of 37 years, the father of three small children, was one of the first to start for the front. Three weeks later he was brought back. Both his arms were gone and his head was frightfully injured."

"The soldiers returning wounded from the front were all under orders not to talk of field operations. The news published by the papers was so colored as to appear favorable to Austria. All other news was suppressed. "Every day a large number of persons suspected of being spies were taken into custody, and sometimes as many as 100 of these unfortunates were shot in one day."

"It being suspected that I was of English birth, I was arrested and brought to the headquarters of the Prague police. I had no official documents on my person to prove that I was not of English birth, but fortunately I did have two letters from Somerville which plainly indicated that I had gone abroad from Boston to study music. These created enough doubt in the minds of the officials, and at my request they sent me to my room in the custody of two officers. This enabled me to produce my birth certificate, and so establish the fact that I was an American."

"There were great demonstrations against the English and Russians. Ships belonging to Englishmen and Russians were looted and wrecked. Prices on all commodities jumped. Every one began to hoard gold and silver, and you could not spend paper money. The banks refused to pay their clients more than 200 kroner every two weeks. Under such conditions Prague was almost impossible to exist in, so after six weeks of study I left for Berlin."

"Spy" Shot Dead Beside Him

"At the railroad station at Kolin, Bohemia, I was standing beside a stranger, watching the removal of a squad of wounded soldiers. Suddenly there was a shot and the man standing beside me reeled and fell dead. I learned later that he was suspected of being a spy, which would have helped me any if the shot hadn't gone just where it was intended to go."

"Berlin presented a contrast to conditions in Bohemia. In the German capital everyone was enthusiastic over the war. There were few automobiles to be seen, as they had all been taken by the government, but outside of that the city presented the same appearance as before the war, except that the schools were all closed."

"The American came across in Germany all said they had been finely treated, and my own experience leads me to believe they were. The American colony in Berlin held a meeting, at which prominent Germans spoke of the war amid great enthusiasm. Zepplin airships were much in evidence in the German capital."

STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

GERMANS MINE ROADS AND BRIDGES AND SET NUMEROUS TRAPS

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Describing conditions in and about Brussels, a Chronicle correspondent at that Belgian city says:

"It is certain that at present the Germans are taking all precautions to defend their ground foot by foot, if they deem it possible, to avert the risk either of a surprise or of an enveloping movement of our troops seeking to surround their garrison in Brussels."

"Brussels constitutes for the Germans a sort of entrenched camp. Important works of defense have been completed all around the town. Numerous roads and bridges have been mined, and there are not a few clever traps. Thus, between Berchemste Agathe and Grand Bilgare, after having excavated the highway to a great depth, the Germans have placed there 300 barrels without tops, which are covered with branches and earth. One can well conceive what would be the effect of a cavalry charge at this spot."

"Luckily, the commanders of the Belgian army are quite well aware of these goings-on on the part of the Germans, who know that they know."

That is why the latter endeavor to prevent anyone from leaving Brussels.

Fear Winter's Approach

The people of Brussels are looking forward not without dismay to the approach of winter. The stoppage of commerce and industry is complete, and the working classes, whose little savings were exhausted long ago, owe their existence to some really humanitarian work—the carrying out of which perhaps must revolve, popular uprisings and pillaging of shops—under auspices of the ministers from Spain and the United States, and thanks to the gifts of generous philanthropists."

"The municipal councils of the town and its suburbs make a distribution every day at public buildings of a pint of excellent soup and a pound of bread per head. Pressing appeals are made to people fortunately placed for contributions to keep this work going as long as possible. But there are few rich people in Brussels. On the arrival of the German army all who could afford it fled and left the enemy far behind them. There were others left in a rather awkward position, for coin alone is of no use in these troubled times, and therefore it is a question of what one has at home and not of what is in the bank."

"Paper money, whatever its nature, is not negotiable, and this causes a great deal of trouble. People who have brought themselves into comfortable circumstances for the rest of their lives have had to ask themselves what they can do in order to exist in the future. Others are looking on helplessly at the ruin of their industry or business."

KILL DEER TOMORROW

SEASON IN MAINE CONTINUES UNTIL DEC. 15—NON-RESIDENT APPLICANTS MORE THAN EVER

BANGOR, Sept. 30.—Maine's deer season opens Thursday. After midnight, Sept. 30, any resident and any non-resident with a proper license may kill two deer and no more.

Many hunters are already in the woods for the bird shooting, which opened Sept. 15, and the most of them will remain until they can bring out a deer or two. The game commissioners say that applications from non-resident hunters are coming in in greater numbers than last year, when 2171 paid $25 each for the privilege of hunting birds and big game in Maine.

The moose season opens Nov. 1 and continues through the month. The deer season ends Dec. 15.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Annual Convention of National Association at Haverhill

LENEX, Sept. 30.—"Provisions for the health of employees" was the title of a paper by William Hall Koon of Haverhill at the opening session today of the annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

Another matter to come before the meeting was the report of the secretary, C. J. Woodbury of Boston on proposed restrictions upon the importation of Egyptian cotton on account of the pink boll worm.

COLDEST ON RECORD

CHILLY SNAP OF YESTERDAY EXPECTED TO GIVE WAY TO WARMER WEATHER TODAY

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The chilly snap of yesterday is expected to give way to warmer weather today, according to the official forecast of the local weather bureau last night. The prediction is "fair and somewhat warmer" and Thursday is also expected to be fair. Moderate west winds will prevail.

The chilly weather was ushered in with a frost Monday night and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury registered only 34 above, or six degrees colder than the lowest temperature recorded for a Sept. 29 in the 42 years' existence of the weather bureau. In 1888 the temperature was only 40 degrees above zero mark.

During the day the mercury rose as high as 58, at 3 p. m., but it descended early in the evening again to around 50.

HEALTH OFFICER ORDERS EXTRA PRECAUTIONS ON REPORT OF PLAGUE ABROAD

NEW YORK, April 30.—Cholera having been reported in epidemic form in eastern Russia, Austria and among the Austrian troops, passengers on all steamships coming here from ports on the Adriatic sea east of Italy, on the Ionian sea, the Aegean sea, the Mediterranean east of Italy and the Black sea, will be examined for evidence of cholera infection.

This order was issued yesterday by Dr. O'Connell, health officer of the port, upon receipt of word by cable that similar precautions had been taken by the Italian government. Dr. Oscar Tanager, director of the quarantine laboratory, at once began organizing a corps of cholera experts.

"These precautions should not alarm anyone," said Dr. O'Connell. "On the contrary, they should be reassuring. The sanitary forces of the various governments at war have become weakened, as may be seen in the reports of cholera in Vienna, Budapest and Serbia. Against this we must weigh the fact that sanitary science has been much developed since the last great war."

"In New York we are well prepared for any eventuality, as we have boarding officers trained in the cholera visitation two years ago, and Dr. Tanager being a recognized expert in plague work, had an invaluable experience in the bureau of science in Manila during the cholera epidemic in the Philippines."

SUGAR FAMINE AVERTED

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—With 28,000,000 pounds of sugar arriving here since last Saturday, the much-feared sugar famine seems to have been averted.

Four vessels have arrived in Boston since Saturday with cargoes of sugar, the value of which would be $1,550,000 at the retail quotation of seven cents a pound.

The vessels arriving yesterday were the steamer Eskasoni, Capt. E. V. Hickey, and the Santa Isabel, Capt. A. S. Graham. The former was from Cuba with about 9,065,575 pounds of sugar, while the other had 7,040,000 pounds from the same country.

MISSING GIRL REAPPEARS

Miss Katherine Keating Now With Mother, Who is Seriously Ill at Edgartown

OAK BLUFFS, Sept. 30.—Miss Katherine Keating, the 16-year-old daughter of H. S. Keating, a Dallas, Tex., lawyer, has returned to her summer home in Edgartown and is now with her mother, who is seriously ill. She disappeared Sunday while her father was taking her from Boston to a private school in Peekskill, N. Y.

THE FLAT WEDDING

"Father's stenographer is to be married soon," quoth Marjorie, and she has appealed to me to tell her how to have the wedding in her tiny flat which seems altogether too small to her for any such event, but for sentimental reasons she wishes to have not only the ceremony there but also a reception and breakfast."

"It certainly can be arranged very nicely," began Marie after Marjorie had drawn a funny looking plan of the stenographer's apartment. "Of course, it is understood at the outset there can be no formality. Both principals and guests will be expected to join in the general merriment at once without a bit of ceremony."

"The attendants of both bride and groom must be here, there and everywhere welcoming friends. Introducing strangers and seeing to the comfort of the guests until all are entirely at their ease and not until a conversational footing is reached must they relax their efforts."

"All the rooms open to guests should have a few flowers tastefully arranged of course, on mantels, tables, or wall brackets, but large plants or flowers standing about the room will only be in the way as soon as the guests begin to arrive."

"The table will be set in the dining room; the center piece a bowl of flowers, lilies of the valley, pink roses, or a basket with tall handle filled with flowers and ferns, a bell covered

General Alarm Sounded for Fire in Clinton Last Night

CLINTON, Sept. 30.—A general alarm was sounded shortly before 9 o'clock last night for an $8000 fire which broke out in the three-story tenement building on Nashua street owned by Patrick F. Coyne.

The fire was quickly extinguished, but not before the roof had been burned off and the whole building badly damaged by water. The homes of David Matoney, Rev. Henry Welch and Martin Kane were ignited by sparks, but saved from burning.

The estimated damage to the building is placed at between $3000 and $4000, stock in a grocery store in the basement, belonging to B. Kovroski, was damaged by water to the extent of about $2000, and Eben H. Cobb, his son, Rep. Eben S. Cobb, and Mr. Coyne, the owner of the building sustained a loss of between $2000 and $3000 on furniture, making the total loss about $8000.

CONDITION OF THE MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS FOR ITALY IS VERY GRAVE

ROME, Sept. 30.—The condition of Marquis San Giuliano, the minister of foreign affairs, although somewhat better is grave. He is constantly nursed by his daughter-in-law, the Marchioness Santa Margherita. The patient stands his sufferings stoically but it is asserted that in a moment of discouragement recently he exclaimed: "I wish I could live ten weeks more." This is taken to mean that the minister feels that within ten weeks something very important and vital for Italy will occur but thus far no one has dared to question him regarding the matter.

GEORGE T. SULLIVAN DIES

Had Done Big Brokerage Business in Providence and Had Offices Later in Boston and New York

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 30.—George T. Sullivan, broker and bucket shop promoter of Boston, Providence and other places in New England, died at his Bayville home, Shawomet, yesterday. He was a native of Maine. Once he went into business in Mexico and made blankets for the army. At one time he had the largest brokerage office in this city.

After learning telegraphy as a young man he entered the employ of J. E. Crosby, a broker, here. He next became associated with Daniel T. Lyman, a broker on Westminster street, and later opened an office of his own. When the Bannigan building, now the Grosvenor building, was built, he opened large offices under the firm name of Sullivan & Sullivan, his brother, Edward L. Sullivan, being his partner.

He built up a large business, but the field was too small and he and his brother closed out here in 1902 and opened offices in New York and Boston.

GIANTS AND YANKS TO PLAY

New York Teams Will Have Little Post-Season Series of Their Own—Last Met in 1910

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The New York National and American league baseball teams will meet in a post-season series to begin on Thursday, Oct. 8, the day before the opening of the world's series. After Pittsburgh won yesterday from the Giants and thus spoiled what slim chance was left for them to win the 1914 pennant, officials of the two clubs met and completed arrangements for the local series.

The two teams have met once before—in 1910—when both finished in second place. The Giants took four of seven games from the Yankees in that series. The winner of four of six games this year will take the series.

SAILOR MITCHELL H. CHANDLER Was Not a Deserter and Was Welcomed Back on His Return to Portsmouth

Mitchell H. Chandler, the sailor arrested last week for swindling a local tailor, was yesterday welcomed back to Portsmouth by Lieut. Martin Maher. As he stated to the court during his trial he was not a deserter and the paymaster readily paid a reward to him. He is needed to square up his difficulties in this city.

noon a one-mile race will be run between two veterans, David Bruce and William Salmon. Both runners have passed the 60-year limit and are anxious to decide now and forever who is the better man of the two. Though long past the age when runners retire from the track, both men have shown considerable speed and endurance, for on several occasions younger men have had to give up to these veterans. Still, the prize will be awarded the runners. Both men have many supporters and friends, who will turn out to see what promises to be the most interesting race of the season.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—No, the caption is not a mistake. He is Senator Nash all right. Got the title by being elected to the senate in Massachusetts. He favors around third base and vicinity, picks 'em up where they are and throws 'em hither and yon. And when he is at bat he tries to "knock them where they ain't." And he sometimes succeeds. ## WIRELESS FROM BERLIN

Says Owing to Attitude of British Near Dardanelles, Turkey Has Closed Waterway

BERLIN, Sept. 30 (via wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—Reports from Constantinople say that owing to the bellicose attitude of the British warships cruising near the Dardanelles, Turkey has closed this waterway. The people of Holland are described in Berlin as excited by the repeated capture of Netherlands ships by the British. The Rotterdam Courant declares that Great Britain is showing utter disregard of the rights of neutral states. It says the Netherlands steamer Sophie from Rotterdam for New York was captured by British warships in the channel and taken to Lowestoft.

The British minister at the Hague, it is related here, has admitted that a British aviator flying over the Netherlands town of Maastricht dropped a bomb, thus breaking the existing neutrality. A story has been given out in Berlin to the effect that Col. Gordon and Lieut. Col. Neisch, British officers attached the Gordon Highlanders and now prisoners of war in the hands of the Germans, confessed in the course of an official examination that the British government had supplied them with dum dum bullets for use in automatic revolvers. Albert Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American steamship line, has published an article in the Hamburger Nachrichten in which he declares that the British money market will be discredited by the monetary war for a long time to come. Continuing, he says, the cutting of the German cable by the British and the stupendous lies of the English and French news agencies have produced a moralism of truth for the world overseas.

IN LOCAL POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE
ENRIGHT—ALLEGED DEFALCA-
TION OF LABOR OFFICIAL

This forenoon's session of police court was an unusually short one, only one case being tried before the court while the number of drunken offenders was also small today. Joseph Marcell pleaded not guilty to not supporting his wife, Rose, when arraigned before Judge Enright today, and after the trial the case was continued for a period of further consideration. The complainant told a lengthy story of her troubles during her short married life and stated that she and her husband separated four weeks ago, since which time she has received no support from him. Two children are cared for by the husband's parents while Mrs. Marcell supports a third.

According to the testimony of the complainant, the real trouble started in Montreal, where they were some time ago. She claims that her husband left her in the Canadian city, leaving no reason for his sudden departure. The defendant testified that he has just 50 cents left each week after paying for the care of his children and himself and uses that to purchase his clothes. The court stated that he thought matters should be reconsidered for a time and ordered the case continued for one month. George Toye appeared for the complainant and Albert Hamel for the defendant. Alleged Larceny of Purses continuance charged with the larceny of $170 from the Bricklayers' union of Lowell and after a consultation between the court and attorneys, the case was continued until Sept. 21. Lawyer Tierney for the government and Lawyer Regan for the defendant. Frank Charles, on parole from the state farm, was poked up in this city in an intoxicated condition yesterday and will be returned to the institution at Bridgewater this afternoon. One woman and two other young men constituted the list of drunken offenders, the former being sent to jail, while the latter two were asked to pay small fines.

Albert W. Stevens was called on

BRAVES WIN PENNANT

STALLINGS' BOSTON TEAM COYS
THE NATIONAL LEAGUE FLAG—
BIG CHAMPIONSHIP

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The Boston Braves are now the champions of the National League.

Stallings' butlers can now do as they please, win or lose, and still have all the margin necessary to assure them of meeting up with the Athletics in the big series for the world's championship title.

All this came about when the Braves accepted with thanks the kindly gifts of the final home game of the season at Fenway park, 3 to 2, the Cubs of Chicago acting as open-hearted donors. Then to make it a dead certainty, the Pittsburgh Pirates put over a win with the Giants as victims in New York. So that the Braves can lose all the rest of their nine games, while the Giants are winning all their remaining eight, and the Boston clutch on the flag will be as secure as ever. Rather a time ending to a great fight for the National league title, but it is just as well.

It was on Sept. 2 that the Braves overtook and passed the Giants after Boston's famous long drive from the bottom of the list. They were compelled to surrender the lead to the Giants for a few days but resumed the top of the heap on Sept. 8, as a result of defeating New York in the final game at home. Since then steady progress has been the portion of the Braves. That series with the Giants meant the championship, so state the New York players, but in the drive down the homestretch it was up to the Braves to keep on playing their game, day in and day out. And they did it. So that now they stand as one of the most popular championship aspirations.

That series with the Giants meant the championship, so state the New York players, but in the drive down the homestretch it was up to the Braves to keep on playing their game, day in and day out. And they did it. So that now they stand as one of the most popular championship aspirations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A happy crowd of well-trained athletes arrived in New York last night from Boston. They were George Stallings and his team, the National League champions, here to show the Giants in a five-game series how pennants are won. Led by Johnny Evers, the newly crowned titleholder, the Braves arrived in New York, where only a few questions were answered.

"How did it happen?" Evers was asked. "We just decided we wanted the pennant, so we went out and got it," was his laughing reply.

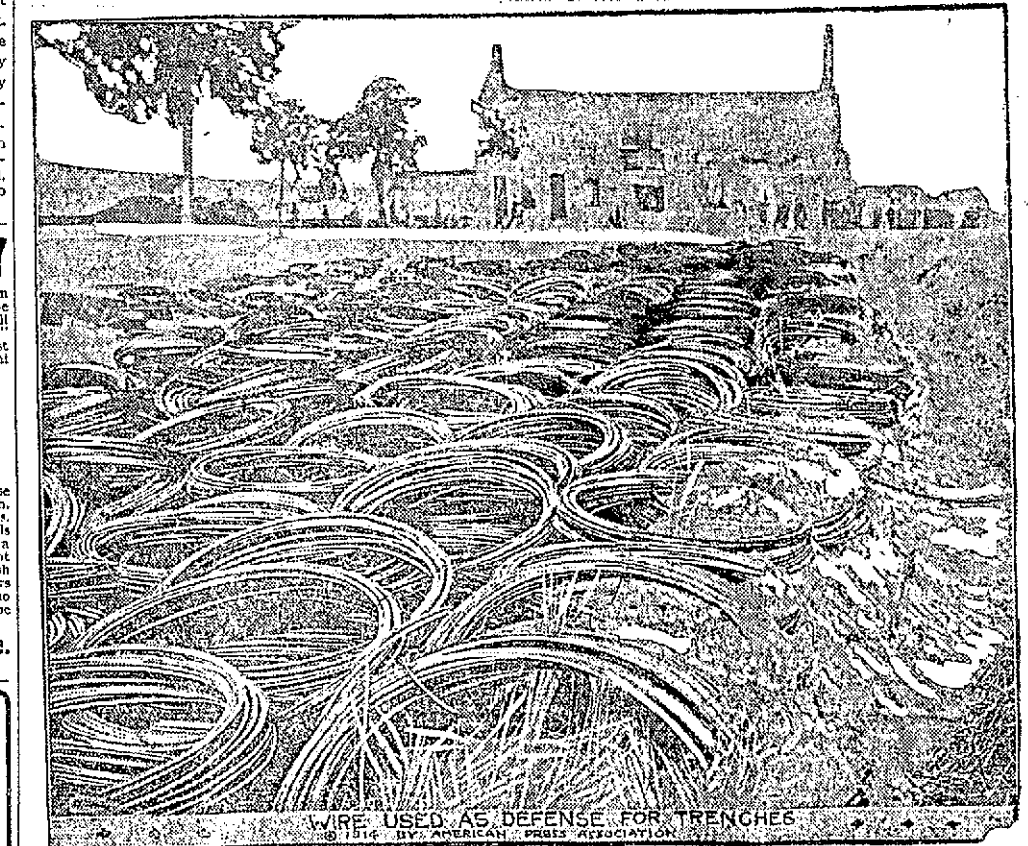

"How do you figure your chances against the Athletics?" was the next question. "Some writers have dubbed us the 'miracle workers.' There may be something to that; so grab some of the short money," again smiled Evers.

"We are not the weaklings that 'dopesters and others contend,'" continued Evers. "We have been severely tried all year, and I believe we have delivered whenever asked. We have a better pitching staff than the Athletics have. Maranville is worth more to a team than Barry, and Gowdy compares favorably with Sotham. Of course there is Collins, Baker, McInnes and Oldring, but these men will have their work cut out to terrify James, Rudolph and Tyler. "The more I think of it, the better I like the Braves' chances. There's nothing like having confidence, and no team ever had more confidence than we have right now."

Since the pennant is tucked safely away, the veterans will get a short vacation and the youngsters will be given a chance to show their mettle. There will be two games today between the Braves and Giants.

GERMANS USE COILS OF WIRE AS PROTECTION
AGAINST ARTILLERY FIRE FOR MEN IN TRENCHES

Something new in defense against artillery fire has been devised by the German military experts. They took with them from Hamburg vast quantities of wire in coils. This wire, some of which was barbed, was piled in front of trenches in which infantry were installed. The theory was that shells fired by artillery would either go over the trenches and thus be harmless or would, if aimed lower, fall in the coils of wire and thus become entangled and the explosions would be smothered. The wire has a further advantage of offering a serious obstacle to the enemy in the event of a charge.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Lowell high in scrambling daily now in preparation for the Mellen high game next Saturday. The team, as well as the backs and ends, are being put through hard drill every afternoon at Washington park.

The odds on the Athletics are now 10 to 7 where it is expected they will remain. The factors of the short end are having that the Braves will outclass Mack's team, a dangerous hypothesis to pressed upon.

This year's squad is probably the finest that has ever been turned out by the local high school. There is more good material for every position among the candidates than ever before.

Football at the Textile school is proving more popular this fall than for several past seasons. A mass meeting was held yesterday at which the entire school was present and enthusiasm for a worthy gridiron representative ran high.

Duffy, Lynch and Roane are attracting particular attention by their snapping work thus far. Capt. Mohele and Coaches Leggat and Rooney expect to make stellar performers of these boys. Roane is being used at quarter and Duffy and Lynch at half.

The fights at the Atlas A. A. last night were frust with the exception of the Chakas-Doris prelim. Harlow Tommy Murphy appeared bundled up as a sick man and the main bout was off. Larry Burns, the Lawrence youngster, knocked out Tommy Rowan of New York in the fourth round.

Secretary Herman Nickerson of the Braves has a large corps of clerks already busy with the applications thus far received. With more than a week still remaining before the first game of the world series the list of applicants is very large. Secretary Nickerson is the man who handled the business end of the world series for the Red Sox in 1913.

The races at the Columbus, O. meeting of the grand circuit continue to prove the best of the season. Yesterday Anna Bradford, in the last heat of the American Horse Breeders' Futurity, lowered the world's record for three year old pacers. She lowered the record to 2:08 1/2.

The Textile school football candidates were out on the Moody street campus yesterday for the first time this season. The squad was not nearly as large as that of the high school, but the squad made up for its lack in numbers by its personnel. The prospective mill superintendents will place a trial class eleven in the field this fall it is expected.

Jack Dillon had little difficulty in taking the measure of Frank Mantell last night in their twelve round rum-pus at Columbus, Ohio. The Indianapolis middleweight led all the way and nothing but Mantell's cleverness saved him from annihilation. It was Dillon's terrific body punching in the early rounds which brought the cleverer man the decision.

Don't Dohm all signed long term contracts with the Federals of Buffalo yesterday afternoon. Miller Huggins will find it hard to replace these men and St. Louis will suffer as a consequence.

It is practically certain now that the Army-Navy game will be called off for this year. The annual classic is to be denied the football lovers public simply because the officials of Uncle Sam's two academies cannot agree on a city wherein to play off the game. It seems to be another case of more childish notion. Last year the game was not fixed until the last moment so that there still remains a slim chance of the Army and Navy meeting this fall.

The Braves can now afford to lose every remaining game on their schedule and yet be returned the winners of the National league race. It is the plan of Manager Stallings, however, to drive his men at the same clip which has taken them to the top and kept them there. Connie Mack, on the other hand, will give his regulars as much rest as possible before the opening game of the series.

Bowling is coming into its own with the advent of cooler weather. The local alleys are busy now and the boys will probably earn steady salaries from now until next spring. The city's best known rollers are rounding into form for the money prizes given out at the weekly roll-offs held by the larger alleys.

Bowling leagues are springing up now for reorganization. The Barnum, Manufacturers and Kinsball System leagues have already formed and are now busy arranging their season's schedule. The addition of Kittredge's modern alleys to the local tournaments for bowlers bid fair to give the game another upward boost.

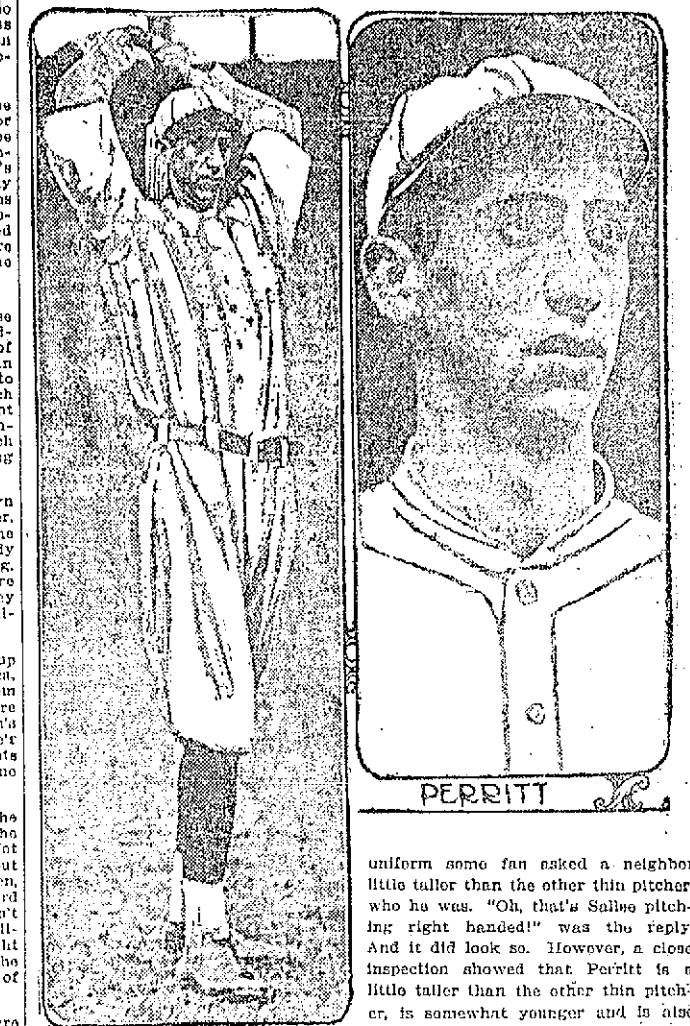

For the first time this season the Harvard second team scored on the "varsity" yesterday afternoon. Not only did they score a touchdown but Temple, one of the second string men, kicked a field goal from the 17-yard line. However, Coach Haughton isn't doing any worrying. In all probability this turn of events was brought about more by the strength of the second team than by the weakness of the "varsity."

Jimmy Gray and Jesse Burkett were both at the Braves' game Monday, but the writer did not notice any marked degree of friendship exchanged by either of them. Many things may be forgiven that occur on a ball field between two rival managers, but a blow in public for a petty grievance is something which cannot be easily overlooked.

Tommy Halpin, Boston's wonderful quarter-miler, is laid up with a heavy cold and his special 400 yard match race with Homer Baker, which was to have taken place at the Knights of Columbus games at Springfield Oct. 12, has been called off. It was thought that the record would be in danger with these fliers at their best.

Say, just put this in your paper will you if you're a good sport? Now I ain't a Athletic but I know some of them fellows and they're all right and can play ball better than any of these hot air guys. When the Athletics lose a game it's because they get bad luck just before they start in. That's the only way you can beat these fellows, take it from me and I know and I seen 'em play. Why if the other teams what play the Athletics wasn't so awful lucky the Athletics would be all right. Now you'd better put this in your paper. I guess those other guys must be buying you some of the way you write 'em up. I ain't going to sign this, but I'll be watchful for my place. No, my young friend, there hasn't been much doing in the "segar" line. How are you fixed yourself?

And again we have—
Sporting Editor, The Lowell Sun:
Manager J. Donnelly of the White Sox, formerly Donnelly's Pets, must have been talking to himself when he said the Athletics postponed their game with the Trojans for next Saturday. We also wish to say that the White Sox are beginning to suit for they said they would play us on the North common, and the North common is the best place and our gang don't hang out around there, so they'll be safe. They want to play on bad grounds like the Hilly Dimes and Star Fish Giants play on but we got a good ball team and we won't play if we don't get good grounds. We

However, a close inspection showed that Perritt is a little taller than the other thin pitcher, is somewhat younger and is also a griller thinner. He has proved a real find for Miller Huggins, however, and he pitches good ball even when he loses.

WORLD'S SERIES

First Two Games Will
phia—Final Plans

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—The first two games between the Philadelphia Americans and the Boston Nationals for the baseball championship of the world will be played in Philadelphia on Oct. 9 and 10. The third and fourth games will be played in Boston Oct. 12 and 13. The fifth game will be played in Philadelphia Oct. 14 and the sixth game in Boston Oct. 15. If more than four games are necessary to decide the series.

This was decided here today at a meeting of the National Baseball commission. The umpires will be Klem and Byron of the National league and Dineen and Hildebrand of the American league. J. J. Spink of St. Louis and one man to be picked by the Philadelphia baseball writers and one by the Boston writers will be the official scorers.

CLIMB OF BRAVES

Will be Great Boost for Tailend Clubs in Every League

The playing of the Braves in the last few games has fooled the cynical observers of baseball completely. The writer happened to be near two men at the game Monday between Boston and Chicago when James touched up for four straight singles in a row. "Look at that," said one of the pair to his companion, "what did I tell you? They are just hanging this game to the Cubs so that the race will be close enough to draw a large crowd at New York Wednesday."

When the Boston bats began to come into their own, however, very little was heard from the party who had made the remark hanging this game to the Braves' throwing the game. If Manager Stallings had wanted to make a close race of it and thus increase the gate receipts in the remaining games of the season he could certainly have done so with a little skillful maneuvering.

The winning of the National league pennant this year by the Braves and the remarkable climb which Manager Stallings has made is the best thing that could have happened for baseball generally. In years to come no club's chances will appear hopeless to their rooters. "Just see what the Boston Braves did in 1914," will be the reply when a scuffer breaks in with a remark.

A WARM SESSION

Meeting of New England League

As soon as the world series games are played off it is expected that the "little old league" will get down to business in its annual fall session held usually in Boston. It is further expected that the meeting this year will be one of the liveliest ever held in the New England circuit.

Matters of importance to the league in general are on the blotter for discussion. The Lawrence-Haverhill mixup which resulted in so much discussion during the past season will probably be threshed out thoroughly.

Although the local man has said nothing on the matter, one way or another, Manager Gray has not forgotten the indignity offered himself as well as the fans who attended the game that day by Jesse Burkett over in Worcester. It seems highly improbable that Gray will allow the matter to drop without taking some action on it.

When a fan pays his way into a ball game he wants to see a ball game. If he wanted to see a prize fight he'd go to see a real one. And aside from this a ball park where a manager is liable to lose his temper and strike another is no place for the fair sex.

DOG-MUZZLING ORDER

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Health Commissioner Goldwater called at the city hall yesterday and had a long talk with Mayor Mitchell over the order regarding the muzzling of dogs. The mayor said later:

"As a result of our talk I want it understood that I side with the health commissioner in the stand he has taken. Dr. Goldwater has no intention of resigning, and I sincerely hope and trust that he will stay with me until the end of his term."

"The commissioner is trying to stamp out rabies in this city, and he believes that if the muzzling of dogs is continued for a period we shall succeed in the complete eradication of the disease. While he was here yesterday Dr. Goldwater proved by facts and figures that the steps he has taken are justified. I not only stand by the commissioner, but I believe the public will be grateful when the results of the commissioner's work become known."

"It must be taken for granted that the orders calling for the muzzling and leashing of dogs are permanent orders. If we can enforce these orders strictly for six months or a year we can accomplish wonders. For that reason owners of dogs ought to have a little patience with us."

"I don't know anything about the chicken situation," he replied, with a smile, in answer to a question. "Perhaps the crisis has not yet arrived. Until it does, why discuss it?"

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN THOMPSONVILLE, CONN.

Man Who Took Out Marriage License a Week Ago Killed Wife and Himself

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., Sept. 30.—Nicholas Viciola, or Vithulias, shot and killed a woman believed to be his wife here last night, and then turning the weapon on himself fired three shots which resulted in his death a half-hour later. The shooting is supposed to be the outcome of a disagreement over money matters.

The couple lived with Mr. and Mrs. James Lagaro, at 9 Martin street, Viciola had resided here for the past seven years, with the exception of the past five months, spent in Philadelphia. The police could find no evidence that the couple had been married beyond a marriage license made out in Philadelphia a week ago. No certificate was found.

It is stated that the woman went out yesterday to look for work and returned to the Lagaro home about 6 o'clock. She told Mrs. Lagaro she had been promised a job in a carpet mill and was to begin work next Monday.

When the occupants of the house heard the shots they hurried out into the street and summoned Officer Robert Crouble. Before he could reach the room Viciola had accomplished his purpose. The woman was dead and the man died shortly afterward without regaining consciousness.

BRYAN HEARS GOOD NEWS FROM AUTO

TELLS PRESIDENT PROSPECTS FOR PERMANENT PEACE IN MEXICO ARE BRIGHTER THAN EVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Optimistic dispatches yesterday from Consul Stillman and the Brazilian minister at Mexico City caused Sec. Bryan to inform President Wilson that the prospects for restoration of permanent peace in Mexico were brighter than at any time since the overthrow of Madero by Huerta.

The state department was notified yesterday that the peace commissioners appointed by the two constitutional chiefs would hold their meetings at Torreon today.

It is understood that one of the first matters to be brought to the attention of the provisional president when he is selected will be the attitude of those now in power toward the Catholics. A demand for full religious liberty for all American citizens probably will be made.

PULLED FROM CANAL

DAN COTE FELL FROM CANAL FENCE AND WAS RESCUED BY RAILROAD MAN

Dan Cote of 162 Colburn street had a narrow escape from being drowned last evening when he fell from the railing of the fence above the canal near the Saco-Lowell machine shop and had been in the water for several minutes when his shouts attracted the attention of Arthur M. Neal, a Boston & Maine railroad inspector. The railroad man succeeded in pulling Cote from the water with the use of a long pole, which he secured nearby.

According to Cote's story of the accident, he was sitting alone on the fence when he suddenly lost his balance and fell into the water. When in the water he found himself unable to touch the bottom or reach the bank, so he shouted for help until Mr. Neal heard him. Supt. Welch appeared along at the time and sent in a call for the ambulance to remove Cote to the Lowell hospital. He was reported as being all right this morning.

LOWERS RACING RECORD

ANNA BRADFORD BRINGS THREE-YEAR-OLD MARK TO 2.00%—RESULTS OF OTHER RACES

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30.—Anna Bradford, in the final heat of the American Horse Breeders' Fair, lowered the three-year-old pacing record to 2.00%. A week ago, she put the mark at 2.01 1/2. Lord Dewey failed in an attempt to lower his record of 2.03%. The trip through the stretch was so tiring that a mile in 2.01 1/4 resulted.

Peter Stevens, prohibitive and winning favorite in the Arch City pacing stake, equalled his record, 2.02 1/4, when driven out in the third heat. The Assessor won the 2.13 pace. Rythm was favorite over 11 other "15" trotters and won in straight heats, leading all the time. William and Dismal J. will meet in a stallion championship pacing match tomorrow.

A pleasant surprise party was held Monday evening at the home of Herbert J. Willmott, Woodward avenue, in honor of his sister, Miss Anna E. Willmott. A pleasing program was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL MARRY EARLY

Pres. Wilson's Approval All That Was Needed Today to Make it a Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Wilson's approval was all that was needed today to make the river and harbor appropriation bill a law. Final congressional action on the bill was taken late yesterday when the house by a viva voce vote adopted the measure as amended by the senate, carrying a general fund of $20,000,000 for continuing present projects in the discretion of the army engineers.

As originally passed by the house the bill carried appropriations aggregating $43,000,000 for projects throughout the country. As it left the senate committee the bill carried a total of $74,000,000. As the result, however, of a filibuster led by Senator Burton of Ohio, the senate adopted a substitute measure appropriating only $20,000,000. In this form the bill was approved by the house.

Carpenters Union, 40, Held Meeting

The members of Carpenters union, local 1610, held their weekly meeting last evening in Carpenters hall in the Rutens building. Two applications for membership were received and referred to the investigation committee. It was announced that the quarterly meeting will be held next Tuesday evening and a list of important business will come up for transaction. Business Agent Michael A. Lee submitted a report stating that although this was the slack period in the building trades all members of the union were pretty steadily employed. The secretary's report showed the union to be run along progressive lines.

Boot & Shoe Workers' Meeting

The Boot & Shoe Workers' union which has just recently been organized in this city will hold a mass meeting next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Present at the meeting will be delegates from the various Boot and Shoe Workers' unions in New England who will address. It is expected, an unusually large gathering. The shoe workers of this city and their friends are cordially invited to attend this meeting which is bound to be interesting as well as instructive.

The Boot & Shoe Workers' union is formed on perfect understanding between employer and employee. This is brought about by the union stamp contract and has thus far been very successful. In forming a contract with a shoe plant both parties agree to make the following concessions:

"The union agrees to furnish the stamp to the employer free of charge, to make no additional price for the use of the stamp, to make no discrimination between the employer and other firms, persons or corporations who may enter into an agreement with the union for the use of the union stamp, and to make all reasonable efforts to advertise the union stamp, and to create a demand for the union-stamped products of the employer, in common with other employers using the union stamp.

In consideration of the foregoing privilege the employer agrees to hire shoe workers only members of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union in good standing, and further agrees not to retain any shoe worker in his employment after receiving notice from the union that such shoe worker is objectionable to being in arrears in dues or from disobedience of union rules or laws, or from any other cause.

The employer agrees that there shall be no discrimination against any member of a union, because of his or her activity in union affairs.

The employer agrees that he will not cause or allow the union stamp to be placed on goods not manufactured in the factory for which the use of the union stamp is granted and the employer agrees that it will be a violation of the contract to use the union stamp or stamps in any other place than the particular factory for which the use of the stamp is granted.

It is mutually agreed that the union will not cause or sanction any strike and that the employer will not lock out his employees while the agreement is in force. The foregoing will be thoroughly explained at the meeting.

In the opinion of Daniel B. Whalen, local organizer of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union this stamp agreement has worked to decided advantage to the employer, the worker, the town or city wherever the agreement is in effect.

He says that in most cases differences have been amicably patched up between the employer and employee and that there have been but few strikes in the whole history of the organization. This he thinks speaks for itself.

At the meeting to be held in Harrington hall Sunday afternoon the following well known labor advocates will expound the theories of the labor movement: Timothy Rourke, president of the trades & labor council of Lowell; John F. Tobin, general president of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union; John F. Meade, business agent of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union of Brockton; Edmund Slender, organizer of the United Textile Workers' union of Lowell.

FOUR DIRECTORS QUIT THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Four directors of the New Haven Railroad company, William Rockefeller and George F. Baker of New York, Charles E. Brooker of Ansonia, Conn., and James B. Elton of Waterbury, Conn., resigned at a special meeting of the board of directors yesterday. The board voted to accept the resignations. It was announced after the meeting. One new director was elected, J. Horace Harding of New York.

The form of the call for the annual meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on Oct. 28 was approved and the board voted to recommend to the stockholders at that meeting that the membership of the board of directors be reduced to 17. With the resignation today of Brooker, Baker, Elton and Rockefeller, the board consists of 20 members; it was 27 a year ago.

The first proof of the annual report to the stockholders was submitted to the directors yesterday, and with certain amendments, was approved and ordered printed and mailed.

Propose to Reduce Directors to 17

Mr. Rockefeller, because of his health, has desired for some time to retire from the board. It was announced last night, his resignation as a director being in line with his policy to curtail his activities and thus conserve his health. Mr. Baker's resignation, likewise, was a continuation of his policy to retire from as many boards as possible.

Mr. Brooker recently resigned as republican national committeeman from Connecticut and announced at the time that he would retire from other activities, intimating that he would next resign as a director of the New Haven board, as he, too, desired lessened business cares.

Mr. Elton's resignation followed a statement recently that he would reduce the number of boards of directors on which he served.

The proposal to reduce the number of directors of the New Haven to 17 is in accord with the policy being generally adopted by railroads and financial corporations to reduce the number of directors and conduct their affairs by means of small working bodies, it was explained.

Mellen Before Federal Grand Jury

Ex-Pros. Charles S. Mellen was the first witness today before the special federal grand jury empaneled at President Wilson's suggestion to investigate the criminal aspects, if any, of the New Haven railroad management.

His counsel, John W. H. Crim, said that Mellen's appearance before the grand jury would make it impossible for the jurors to find an indictment against him in connection with this investigation. "Nevertheless," said Mr. Crim, "Mr. Mellen's testimony before the interstate commerce commission at Washington earned him immunity from indictment. Mr. Mellen was not asked to sign a waiver of immunity before appearing before the grand jury today."

When Mr. Mellen entered the grand jury room he was prompted to respond to a great extent the testimony given by him before the interstate commerce commission in Washington, especially that portion which relates to the financing of the New Haven road's operations during the past decade.

An indictment by a previous federal grand jury, which investigated the relations between the New Haven road and the Grand Trunk railway, still lies against Mr. Mellen.

In view of his willingness to testify yesterday afternoon, and of his testimony before the interstate commerce commission, it was considered likely that this indictment would not be pressed.

Mr. Mellen was before the grand jury room for an hour and a half, and will be further examined tomorrow afternoon. The government has subpoenaed all the books and papers bearing on the various matters under investigation which are in possession of the New Haven system.

It was learned last night that the government has subpoenaed special counsel in the investigation James V. Osborne, who conducted the highway investigation for Gov. Glynn; H. L. Battis of Texas and Frank N. Swacker.

REPLY IN LAWLESS SUIT

Government Expected to Answer That Censorship Was Necessary to Enforce Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The government's reply to the suit for injunction against the closing of the Siasconet wireless station filed by the Marconi company will be that it is the duty of the president and his administrative officers to preserve the nation's neutrality in all cases, and that the censoring of wireless dispatches by the government was a part of the means to enforce neutrality.

This became known yesterday following a conference between legal officers of the navy department and the department of Justice.

MOTHER LOSES JOB AS TEACHER

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Bridget C. Pelletti, who left her position as a teacher in a New York city school when she was about to become a mother, need not be reinstated by the New York board of education, the court of appeals decided yesterday.

Mrs. Pelletti was dismissed because, it is charged, she was absent without permission and thus neglected her duty.

Her counsel argued that absence from duty for the reason specified was not neglect of duty. The court of appeals held that the board of education in dismissing her discharged its duty fairly.

HOW NED WAS FOOLED

Once upon a time Ned went with his uncle to a country fair. Ned had always lived in the city and the piles of fruit and vegetables seemed very attractive to him. Of course there were other things that looked good and everything was new to him and he wanted to see and taste them all.

His uncle gave him ten cents and told him to spend it for whatever he saw that he wanted and to meet him in half an hour at the big gate. Ned thanked him and started off to see what he could find to eat. He walked up to a stall and saw some big red apples, a pile of juicy pears and a mound of some round yellow things that looked like oranges.

It took him sometime to decide what to buy but at last he asked the price of the yellow things. "Three for ten cents," the man said, "and cheap at that."

Ned walked away with three of them tucked under his arm. He opened his mouth and took a big bite from the biggest one only to spit it out as quickly as he could. "Hee, that is the worst tasting thing I ever tasted and it is as hard as a rock. I guess it isn't ripe," said Ned.

He started back and told the man that it wasn't ripe and he wanted another one.

"Why that is as ripe as it ever will be. You don't want them too ripe you know," said the man.

Ned walked back to the gate where he was to meet his uncle with them still under his arm. "Perhaps I bit on the side that wasn't ripe. I guess I will try again," said Ned. Just as he started to take another bite his uncle came up and exclaimed: "What are you eating that squash for? Are you as hungry as all that?"

"A squash," said Ned. "Is that a squash? I thought that it was an orange or something like it."

How his uncle did laugh at him, and they both went back to the man from whom Ned bought it and told him about it.

He was very nice and gave Ned half a dozen of the biggest oranges he had, for he said if a boy was so hungry that he had to eat a squash he deserved something very nice.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

A man living in the region of upper Vermont Avenue told me that upon two occasions recently he has been stoned by a bunch of hoodlums while driving through Colonial Avenue at night. The last occasion being on the evening of last week, when his wagon-top was about ruined, his horse struck and he himself narrowly escaping serious injury. Upon his jumping out and confronting the gang, the members derided his accusations and walked away. The gang ranged from 15 to 25 years of age, and went in the direction of Riverside street. The man who was stoned is not aware of possessing anybody's enmity, and inclines to think the assaults pure madness. Complaints to the police on both occasions have amounted to nothing—at least to date no clever captures have been reported to the newspapers.

Meanwhile, in several sections of the city the chicken thieves are getting in some very effective work, while the fruit and garden thieves are right with them.

The suburban citizen who likes to keep a few hens and chickens or who likes to raise a little fruit, and have a little garden would like to have the protection he pays for, or if he cannot have that he would like the law's privilege of protecting his own property. Of course, he doesn't want to kill anybody he finds stealing his chickens, but should he catch a thief stealing his corn or his apples, and should he apply a whip or throw the thief from his premises he would, if haled into court, pay $25 for presuming to inflict punishment upon the thief. Yet it's a fact that many citizens finding themselves being robbed do just this thing, and with it, the responsibility of a crime.

The truth is because of the prevalence of this character throughout the suburban districts, many citizens do not care to have hens, fruit trees, grape-vines, or cultivate a little garden. Not a few have cut down their fruit trees, since they have become intolerable. I have yet to learn that any systematic work was ever done by the police department to abate this wholesale robbery, and judging from the extent of the annual losses sustained by tax-paying citizens, it looks as though the outlook were hopeless.

There are usually a large number of able-bodied members of the police force sitting about the station with little visible means of occupation, and the thought suggests itself if they would show a little out-door activity getting after petty nuisances and thieves, they might perform good service and incidentally take off a little of the burden of the city.

The Man in the Moon is a man of peace, but he feels like treating hen thieves as he would a house-breaker, to well-directed shots of cold lead. And it will come to that, too.

H. S. Bunting Grounds

The grounds of the Bunting club are as everybody knows, situated in the south part of the city, near the Tewksbury line. The clubhouse occupies a commanding position and from it one can enjoy a beautiful view of the surrounding country. The club owns several acres of land and, as occasion requires, it will be improved. Already, directly fronting the clubhouse there is an oval, where sporting events take place, easily the finest in Lowell or vicinity. Big sporting events have already occurred here, and on Columbus day, Oct. 12, there are to be attractions that no lover of out-door sports can afford to miss.

Should you visit the club you will receive a most cordial welcome, and you need not feel that the club is a flourishing condition. Its membership runs up into the hundreds and consists of men of almost every calling. You will be impressed by the spirit of good-fellowship everywhere manifest, of genuine democracy which says that here one man is just as good as another and he behaves himself. In this club you do not encounter snobs, nor snobbishness of any kind. If, by chance, a snob got into this club, he could not remain so and continue to be in good standing. Certain other clubs may have them—the Bunting club does not want them. It is no wonder this club is a popular one. It affords its members advantages, especially in the open season, unequalled by any other similar organization in the city. It stands for common sociability, good morals and clean sport, and has no use for horses, pretensions or for quitters. The Man in the Moon knew something of the "Buntings" in the early days of its career, and nothing has pleased him more than to see how it has grown since that time. Its growth has reflected the quality and calibre of the men who have guided its destinies. Its present standing under President Phil McNulty and Treasurer Fred Humphreys shows how well the men of the past built and how ably under its present officers the club is conducted.

Since man must have his club, why not the spirit of the welcome I received a short time ago at the Bunting club, still working its spell, there's no doubt that this club is one of the best ever. It's a club of the great out-of-doors where its members can enjoy the natural scenery of the woods and fields, and enjoy the cool breezes. It not too old and still they can distinguish themselves like boys upon the green; or if too old and too stiff they can watch the young fellows set the pace. It's a club of decent, everyday men who work all day at their several callings, but on evenings, holidays and portions of Sundays they come here to meet their friends and associates. The Man in the Moon acknowledges courtesies received and could do no less in his own feeble way, than pay his tribute of respect and praise to the Bunting club. Long may it wave!

Strength and Weakness

Most everybody admits that a reasonable amount of pleasure is a good thing, but that over-indulgence is likely to be worse than little or no any. He who mingles his pleasures with his duties nor allows his "good times" to become his only aim in life is wise, and in the long run will live to enjoy when the blood runs slow and the joints grow stiff, for youth is in his heart. While the prodigal is old before his prime, both in body and spirit, and the pleasures that should be his against the days of lessening physical and mental vigor, are as gall and wormwood to him. It is not foolishness to take our pleasures seriously, rather it is foolishness to take our pleasures unthinkingly and without counting the cost. Strength

"Toll for the Braves"

Since the Braves will fly the pennant of the National League next year, now comes the talk as to what they will do, or what they will not do, to Connie Mack's bunch in the coming world's series. Extreme partisans of the American league will tell you that the Braves will log the National championship, but more conservative ones declare, that while the Mack-men will win, it will never do to toy with these same Braves. However, it is not likely that an old fox like Connie Mack will take any chances, no matter how confident he may feel at the outcome of the game. The Braves' supporters will doubtless rely upon their favorites' fielding abilities and well-developed spirit to make a good showing and keep down the acknowledged superiority of the Athletics with the stick. Anyway, the game should be well worth seeing—and may be the better team win.

WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS

PRES. WILSON'S PURPOSE IF COLORADO COAL OPERATORS DO NOT AGREE TO TRUCE WITH MINERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Unless the mine operators in Colorado agree to the proposal of the president for a three-year truce in their quarrel with the miners, to which the latter have agreed, the president will order the withdrawal of the federal troops and leave the operators to the mercy of the miners.

Following a long cabinet meeting yesterday and a conference between the president and Hywell Davies, federal mediator in the Colorado strike, it was said in high official circles that this is what the president intends doing.

President Wilson and his cabinet discussed for almost two hours the refusal of the operators to agree to the truce. The letter from President Wilson to the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and several letters from the operators were read at the cabinet meeting. It is understood the cabinet was a unit for the withdrawal of the troops.

NORWICH, Conn., Sept. 30.—Yielding to the wishes of his friends and fellow-leaders of the democratic party in Connecticut, Congressman Bryan F. Mahan, who two weeks ago was a candidate for the United States senatorship nomination, accepted a unanimous nomination as candidate for congressman in the second district. His name was presented by Joseph Fanning of Norwich and Senator Alton T. Minor of New London, of which city Congressman Mahan is mayor.

Speeches predicted the reelection of Congressman Mahan, with his former opponent, Gov. Baldwin, running at the head of the state ticket.

MISS HEALEY SURPRISED

Miss Estelle Healey was agreeably surprised by a number of her friends at her home on Burns street Monday evening, in honor of her coming marriage. She was presented a beautiful cut glass fern dish with reflector. The presentation speech was made by Miss Laura Morrison. Miss Healey, though greatly surprised, responded in a fitting manner. A musical program was carried out and games were played. Refreshments were served, with "Our Twine" assisting.

GERMANS TAKE ALOST EVACUATED BY 40,000

Kaiser's Troops Found Town as Quiet as a Sepulchre—Doors of all Houses Open, but Occupants Missing

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Telegraphing from Ghent under date of Sept. 28 the correspondent of the Daily News asserts that by order of the military authorities, Alost, a town of nearly 40,000 inhabitants, was completely evacuated by the civilian population before the Germans took possession. "When the Germans entered Alost today it was as quiet as a sepulchre," says the despatch. "The German advance guard found the doors of all the

LITTLE CANINE THAT CAN COUNT

Performs Feats of Calculation Very Difficult to Explain

Mr. C. J. Tyrone, a mining engineer from Arizona, and his dog Hector, a French poodle of rare canine intelligence and "mathematical" propensities were visitors at The Sun office editorial room this morning and favored us with an entertainment that was interesting to say the least. We had heard of remarkable feats performed by various "talking" animals but little Hector, with woolly fleece and thoughtful eye, has put them all to sleep in our memory. Hector performed on the desks and on the floor. He had before him an electric bell operated by a telegraph key and the way he counted and added numbers asked or suggested, was a caution. He handled the waste baskets as directed and did pretty nearly everything but to supply them with blue-penciled stories. He pushed them over and pulled them over in accordance with Mr. Tyrone's instructions. He would sit up, roll over, shake his head, advance with one foot up and perform a grist of tricks that might be duplicated by other performing dogs.

HECTOR THE CANINE MATHEMATICIAN

Scientific American, usually a skeptic on such matters, has pronounced Hector's performance one of the most wonderful on record. After seeing the performance without any possibility of stage tricks one wonders why Hector cannot write his name.

ALLIES' LEFT CAPTURES NUMEROUS PRISONERS

PARIS, Sept. 30.—It was again the turn of the allies' left yesterday to sustain the shock of the enemy on the battle front in northern France and though the official communication does not say so, it is reliably stated that it was again their foot fortune to take numerous prisoners. The lack of consistency in the operations of the Germans added to the increased vigilance of the allies in making the lot of the military prophets a hard one. All they can deduce today from the information given out is that the Germans failed to break through the allies' front anywhere. Naturally, the absence of news makes a place for rumors, which are very plentiful, but which no one dares to publish, even if their truth had been ascertained. Commentators are also required to be very circumspect, as is shown by the blank white gaps of various lengths in the newspaper articles in the Paris newspapers. All that can be said of the unofficial reports that are printable is that they are not unfavorable to the allies.

The Zouaves are reported by returning wounded soldiers to be covering themselves with glory on the allies' left. It is related that one day recently the French were obliged to recede under a tremendous pressure of numbers and left eight 5-inch guns in the hands of the enemy. This enraged the Zouaves who begged to be allowed to get them back and recaptured them for the army.

When trumpet was sounded for the charge and the Zouaves bounded forward many turned their heads, as they did not wish to see what they thought was sure to happen to them, but on they went, singing, shouting and defying the rain of machine gun fire. A great proportion fell on the way but the rest never faltered until they pointed on the enemy's line. It seemed then as if there were only a few flashes of cold steel before the enemy broke and the cannon were immediately trained on the fleeing foe as the brave Zouaves who had fallen in the heroic charge.

GERMANY COUNTED ON INTERVENTION OF RUMANIA, SAYS DESPATCH

PARIS, Sept. 30.—According to a Bucharest despatch, Germany counted on the intervention of Rumania, but when King Charles asked the cabinet to order a mobilization of the army one of the ministers replied: "We are quite willing, if it is against Austria." King Charles turned to him and said: "I gave my word to Emperor William, and a Hohenzollern keeps his word." J. J. O. Brattiano, president of the council, here interposed with: "The country knows no Hohenzollern. It knows only the King of Rumania, who does not have to give his word to anyone whatsoever." King Charles then decided to call a council of the crown with the former ministers in attendance, but only one-sided with him in favor of Germany. It is then reported that the king applied to General Averesco to try a coup d'etat, and arrest the ministers, but he refused, saying: "Sir, you will be the first victim." It is also said that some superior officers declared they would join the Russians rather than fight for Austria.

NEW TEACHERS CHOSEN BY THE SCHOOL BOARD

Arrangements Made for Opening Evening Schools—Albert D. Mack Elected Head of Commercial Department—Christmas Vacation Arranged

The members of the school committee met in regular session last night and transacted considerable business. The meeting, which was scheduled to be held at 7:30 o'clock did not start until 9:40 o'clock for previous to the meeting a conference was held in the office of the superintendent of schools to announce the result of the recent examinations held for principals of evening elementary schools and teachers of evening high school. They announced that 17 candidates took the examinations, 11 of whom for teachers and three for principals. One of the applicants took both examinations, but her highest rating was for principal.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted and Mr. Thompson, who was unable to be present at that meeting, asked that his vote be placed on the records as favoring the recommendation of the purchase of the Varum property by the municipal council for an annex to the high school, and his request was granted.

Evening School Teachers

Mr. Calise reported for the committee on rules and it was voted that beginning with the Monday after Christmas, the remainder of the school year be divided into terms of eight weeks, with a week's vacation intervening.

Mr. Calise also reported a long list of teachers and principals for the evening elementary and high schools, which was practically the same as last year with the exception of the following additional names: Principals: Maud E. Barlow, Thomas A. Ginty and James J. Clinton; teachers for the evening high, John M. O'Donoghue, William J. White, Jr., Joseph M. Donoghue, Margaret M. Blackburn and Harold A. A. Jewett.

These names were taken from the list of the recent examination, and all were elected.

Mr. Campbell reported for the committee on school houses and hygiene and he submitted a list of janitors for evening schools, no change from last year's list and all were elected. Mr. Campbell also reported that the requests for salary increases had been refused on the ground that no increases are expedient before the first of January.

Head of Commercial Course

On motion of Mr. Thompson a vote was taken for the election of the head of the commercial department of the high school, and Albert D. Mack was unanimously elected. Mr. Mack will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Hunt, and Louis J. Fish, a former pupil of the high school was the unanimous choice for the position formerly occupied by Mr. Mack. The list of teachers elected to the evening drawing school, to be assigned as needs required, contains no rejection from last year's list.

Evening Schools

The date of opening the evening schools was set as Oct. 13, with the exception of the Middlesex Village and the Riverside, which will not reopen. It is understood that transportation will be provided for the pupils of those districts who wish to attend some other school.

The following interpreters were elected for the evening schools: Constantino Carderelli, Marcus Manuel, Gustaf Olson, Thomas J. Novacek, Elvira Canale and Mary Urbanek. Miss Ellen M. Penn was elected a kindergarten principal. George Dozols and Maurice Rutherford were appointed teachers at the vocational school, subject to the approval of the state board.

A petition was received from residents of the Weed street district asking that a kindergarten department be started in that locality and the superintendent was instructed to take steps to open a temporary kindergarten. It was voted to fix the salary of Miss Ruth B. Bailey at $1100 a year while she is performing the duties of principal of the Green school during the absence of Mr. Bachelder. Miss Ellen M. McDonald was placed on the retirement list.

Money goes on interest Saturday, October 3rd at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

LICENSE BOARD SESSION

Hearing on the Concord Street Liquor Case—Decision to be Given at Later Date

A hearing was held before the license commission last night at their weekly session on the information laid before the board relative to the infringement of the local liquor restrictions by Terence D. Leonard, (H. E. Duggan & Co.) 111-115 Concord street, holders of a fourth class license. It was claimed by Supt. Welch that on Aug. 15 the said licensee, personally by their agent, agents, did sell intoxicating liquor to a person whose name was unknown such sale being in violation of the regulations under which their license was granted.

The evidence heard before the license board last night was practically the same as that given at the police court proceedings against Mr. Leonard, although of longer duration. The hearing occupied over two hours. At its conclusion the board took the case under advisement and will make its findings at a later date. William A. Hogan, Esq., appeared for the licensee.

ENGINEER BARBOUR

Of Constructing the Filter Plant on the Boulevard—Civil Service Blanket Relieves Commissioner—Barring Out the Reporters

When it comes to the question of building the new filtration plant let it be understood that Engineer Barbour is the big noise. He is the man behind and what he says goes. The Charles R. Gow Co. has been awarded the contract, but the contractor will have to take his orders from the engineer. Mr. Barbour will receive somewhere in the vicinity of $4000 for supervising the job.

All this, however, is not as important as the fact that the conference at which the contract was talked over and agreed upon was held behind closed doors. The conference was held in the mayor's office last Friday. The reporters were barred. They sought admittance and were refused. It was one of the biggest city contracts that the city government has had to pass upon for some time, yet the conference was held behind closed doors. That the matter of the contract was all out and dried was evidenced by the fact that when the

RUSSIANS AND GERMANS IN DESPERATE STRUGGLE

French Retake St. Mihiel and Capture Crown Prince of Bavaria—Belgium Again Scene of Fighting—German Military Government at Brussels Prepares to Remove to Namur—German Assault on Tracy-Le-Mont Repulsed—Turning Movement of Allies Developing Rapidly—Report That German Right Wing Had Been Broken Not Confirmed

The turning movement directed against the German right wing by the allies is developing rapidly, according to an announcement by the French war office this afternoon.

It is declared that a vigorous assault on Tracy-Le-Mont was repulsed with heavy losses to the Germans. Tracy-Le-Mont is the elbow of the fighting line that in a general way stretches from that point east and north. The official statement says this action moves more and more towards the north.

There is nothing in the Paris announcement or in other official statements today, however, to confirm last night's assertion by a Paris correspondent of a London news agency that the German right wing had been broken.

The French war office claims also that slight progress has been made between the Argonne region and the Meuse and that the allies have advanced east of St. Mihiel. No notable movement has occurred on the center and the situation on the right is reported unchanged.

An official German statement coming by way of London states that there had been general fighting on the German right but nothing of a decisive character has transpired. German headquarters also reported the center of the battle line is quiet. The French advances in the vicinity of Verdun and Toul have been renewed, it is said.

A German official statement issued last night also described the fighting on their right wing as decisive. The allies operating against the forts on the Meuse were repulsed, it was said. Berlin confirmed the assault on Antwerp and said that the attacks by the Belgian garrison had been repulsed.

Russian assaults in the government of Suwalki, Russian Poland, have failed, it is declared.

CONDITIONS ALONG BATTLE FRONT
CHANGED

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Brief official communication received here from Paris declares that the conditions along the battle front in France remain unchanged. Among the despatches is one from Nancy, which tells of the recapture by the French of St. Mihiel and the capture of the crown prince of Bavaria and relates that desperate attempts are being made to retake the distinguished prisoner.

No one knows except those on the ground just how the great siege battle of the Alsne is progressing but there are many indications that its 10th day may be witnessing a stupendous and decisive struggle in the valley of the Somme.

Belgium again is the scene of the fighting which in a war of less magnitude than the present titanic struggle would be called a great battle, as it is estimated that more than 150,000 men were engaged yesterday in the Antwerp triangle.

During the day desperate fighting took place along a line extending from Termonde to Aerschot. The Germans are reported to have been relieved from the south of Brussels and are steadily drawing their lines about the Antwerp fortresses, which their artillery thus far has only felt out.

From Brussels comes the report that the German military government is preparing to remove to Namur.

In the east General Von Hindenburg and General Rennenkampf along the Niemen are reported to have been engaged in fierce battles during the last three days, without any decisive result having been obtained.

Vienna states that the much harassed Austrian army from Galicia has formed a junction with the German corps at Cracow. This junction has been expected but, in the British view, occurred none too soon as the Russians are reported to be only 60 miles distant.

Heavy fighting in this region and in Silesia is expected soon. Owing to the marshy ground the Germans have been compelled to place their siege guns on the railroads. This is taken here to indicate that artillery will not play as important a part in the coming operations as it has in previous battles of the war.

If the Russian forces have won the passes in the Carpathians nothing except improvised forts remains to prevent them over-running Hungary which, it is reported, has been abandoned to its fate by the Austrians, who left its defense to the Hungarians, the Hungarian national troops. Budapest, however, reports that the desperate struggle still prevailing in the passes is holding the Russians in check.

TRUDEAU'S DEATH
WILL BE PROBED

Body of Lowell Man Who Died at Westboro to be Disinterred—His Widow Suspects Foul Play—Investigation Asked

As a result of a letter she received yesterday from the officials of the state hospital at Westboro, Mass., Mrs. Romeo Trudeau will have the body of her husband disinterred and a thorough investigation will be carried on to ascertain the cause of the death of Mr. Trudeau, who was an inmate of the hospital until last Saturday when he passed away.

The death certificate was signed "Fractured skull," and the medical examiner of Worcester county after hearing the evidence in the case stated the cause of death to be due to an accidental fall. However, Mrs. Trudeau, who wished to get more thorough information in the matter wrote to the officials of the hospital and yesterday she received a letter, signed by one of the physicians of the institution, in which it is stated that the injuries which caused the death of Romeo Trudeau, consisted of a broken chest, three fractured ribs, a fractured arm and a fractured skull, besides various cuts about the face and body.

Upon receipt of this letter Mrs. Trudeau decided to have the body disinterred and the remains, which were buried yesterday morning, will be brought to the rooms of an undertaker where an autopsy will be conducted by a physician. Mrs. Trudeau has taken the first steps of her investigation by writing a personal letter to Gov. David I. Walsh, in which she sets forth her reasons for the investigation and this afternoon she is to employ counsel to assist her in conducting the same.

The Superintendent's Letter

The following letter from Supt. Spalding of the hospital explains the death—so far as he has been able to ascertain the facts:—

Mrs. A. A. Trudeau, Sept. 28, 1914.
143 Durant St., Lowell, Mass.

Dear Madam:

I wish to write to you concerning the circumstances of your husband's death. Mr. Trudeau had been for some days very restless; Friday night at about 12:30 o'clock he became involved in a quarrel with another patient in the toilet room. A night nurse of the ward went in and separated them and he found Mr. Trudeau and the other patient wrestling. Mr. Trudeau being on the floor, the other patient, being on top of him. He did not, however, see him struck. Saturday morning, Mr. Trudeau, who was still quite restless, started to run down the corridor and slide on the floor. In doing this he slipped and fell striking his hip and face. He had the idea that morning that an automobile was outside waiting for him and desired to put on his best clothes; in fact, all of his clothes. The charge attendant, being desirous of avoiding any trouble with him, allowed him to have them. At about 11 o'clock the assistant supervisor came in the ward and found him with three vests, two coats and a sweater on. He decided he ought not to wear so much; therefore, he, with the assistance of three other attendants, removed them. So far as we can ascertain Mr. Trudeau was not injured at that time. Mr.

I regret very much that Mr. Trudeau's death should have occurred in this way and if any employee in the hospital is in any way to blame, we are most anxious to ascertain the cause and proceed to the utmost in this matter. I would have written you before but the investigation was not finished until 11 o'clock Saturday night. I am, very truly,

H. O. Spalding, Superintendent.

For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. # FOR CLEAN MILK

Result of Contest Announced at Reading Fair—Lowell Milk Good

Milk Inspector Masters has been congratulated relative to the quality of the milk supply in this city and the congratulations come from the state bureau, too.

It all came about in this way. The state dairy bureau arranged a clean milk contest some time ago and offered prizes. The prizes didn't amount to very much. The first prize was $50 and the lowest was $2.

Farmers entering the contest were notified by the state bureau men what time they would call on them. They would take milk from five cows, hand drawn, and unstrained. The milk was put in a mixing tank and run through a cotton disk—a sort of sediment test. These samples were all taken to the bureau's headquarters and the prizes were announced at the Reading fair. Bryant Bros. of Dracut took eighth prize; Aaron Osterman of Tewksbury, got 13th place; O. J. Coburn, of Dracut, 24th place and Leblanc Bros. of Dracut, 25th place. There were only five entries and the state bureau allowed that to capture four prizes out of five entries was going some.

Jewish people throughout this city are wondering how the Jewish soldiers, fighting in the various armies in the great European war, will be able to celebrate the feast of Yom Kippur, or Atonement, which is being observed today and is one of the most sacred of all Jewish holidays. During the German and French war of 1870 the Jewish soldiers with the German army were allowed the right to observe the day on the battlefield, a part of which was set apart for that purpose.

FOR THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

The Board of Trade Appeals to Police and Health Departments for Cleaner Streets

The city beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade has started its campaign of beautifying the city and its first step was to ask the cooperation of the police and health departments in keeping the streets, alleys and yards free from rubbish and old papers, and accordingly letters were sent to the heads of both departments.

It seems that the city ordinance in reference to the throwing of rubbish, paper, etc., is not lived up to, although it is up to the police department to see that all city ordinances are followed to the letter. The committee accordingly makes an appeal to the police department to enforce the law, and has sent a letter to the superintendent of police, a copy of which follows:

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 29, 1914.

Mr. Rodmond Welch, Supt. Police Department, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: The city beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade desires the co-operation of your department in eliminating the practice of throwing rubbish, old papers and other refuse into the streets and yards of the Market street district.

It was felt that if your officers would instruct the people along these streets of the bad effect upon health and living conditions and the importance of keeping the community clean, it would tend to bring about a decided improvement of conditions.

It was also felt that your officers should call to the attention of property owners along these streets the condition of the premises with a view of having the owners of property provide proper receptacles for receiving this rubbish.

If you can assist the committee in any way I am sure they will be thankful.

Respectfully yours,
John H. Murphy, Secretary.

To Board of Health

The board of health is also getting its share of the criticism in a letter that was sent to the agent. The committee urges the necessity of providing receptacles for receiving rubbish and also to maintain sanitary conditions throughout the city for it seems that the board has been lacking in activity for some time past, or since the new reform went into effect with the new city administration. The following is a copy of the letter sent to the agent of the board of health:

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 29, 1914.

Mr. Fred A. Bates, Agent, Lowell Board of Health, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: The city beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade desires to call your attention to the necessity of providing receptacles for receiving rubbish, old paper, etc., on Market, Jefferson, Suffolk and other streets of this vicinity in order to eliminate the practice now in vogue of throwing such refuse into the yards and streets.

The committee appreciates your efforts to maintain sanitary conditions throughout the city and feels the suggestion made will tend to improve matters.

Trusting this matter will commend itself for your consideration and action, I am

Respectfully yours,
John H. Murphy, Secretary.

As a last resort the committee sent a letter to the president of the Greek community asking him to instruct his people as to proper sanitation. The committee urges the president to impress upon his people the bad effects upon health and living conditions by allowing refuse and rubbish to collect in back yards.

EFFECTIVE, ECONOMICAL COMPLEXION RENEWER

One reason mercerized wax is so strongly recommended is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears, is clearer, softer, healthier-hued and more youthful than any cosmetic made. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercerized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.

For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salicylic acid in 1/2 pt. witch hazel, is the best thing that can be recommended. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—H. B. Thearle, president of the Pain Fireworks Co. of Chicago, and two employees, were killed here today in a fire and a series of explosions which destroyed the one story brick building occupied solely by the company, at 1220 South Wabash avenue.

Two missing employees also are believed to have lost their lives. Three persons were injured and taken to hospitals.

The dead are: H. B. Thearle, president of the company; E. M. Conner, salesman, and Florence Hill, stenographer.

The explosion was followed by fire and the building quickly became wrapped in flames. The north wall of an eight-story building was blown in, causing a panic among the occupants, who, however, reached the pavement safely by fire escapes. Monetary damage is estimated at $50,000.

ENGINEER BARBOUR

council convened in the aldermanic chamber at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon the contract was approved right off the reel. A number of taxpayers have expressed themselves as not being very well satisfied with the proposed rate. They allow that the story of the conference should have been made public. They look upon the members of the city government as their servants and they want them to do things in the open.

Michael A. Lee, business agent of the carpenters, was present at the conference and as a result of certain protests or suggestions offered by him it was inserted in the contract that in the matter of the employment of labor and mechanics preference shall be had for residents of Lowell, provided always that such employment be consistent with the proper expedition and despatch in the prosecution of the work.

It was stated today that Mr. Lee was apprehensive of cheap labor being imported in connection with the construction of the other plant and he determined to nip it in the bud.

There has been some talk about the employment of labor by the water department, especially in connection with the installation of the filtration plant and the commissioner of that department is being quite severely criticized in certain quarters.

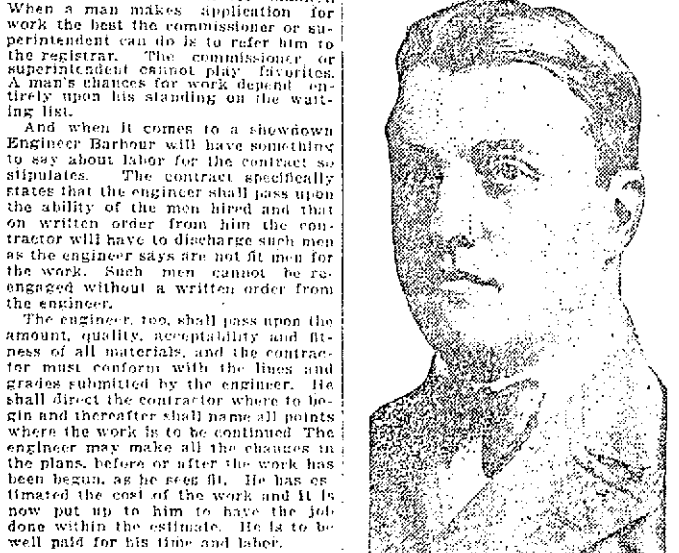

Now the fact of the matter is that the commissioner has very little to do with the employment of labor in this department since the city laborers act in under the civil service blanket. When a man makes application for work the best the commissioner or superintendent can do is to refer him to the registrar. The commissioner or superintendent cannot play favorites. A man's chances for work depend entirely upon his standing on the waiting list.

And when it comes to a showdown Engineer Barbour will have something to say about labor for the contract so stipulates. The contract specifically states that the engineer shall pass upon the ability of the men hired and that on written order from him the contractor will have to discharge such men as the engineer shall not fit men for the work. Such men cannot be re-engaged without a written order from the engineer.

The engineer, too, shall pass upon the amount, quality, acceptability and fitness of all materials, and the contractor must conform with the men and grades submitted by the engineer. He shall direct the contractor where to begin and thereafter shall name all points where the work is to be continued. The engineer may make all the changes in the plans, before or after the work has been begun, as he may see fit. He has estimated the cost of the work and it is now put up to him to have the job done within the estimate. He is to be well paid for his time and labor.

CAUSES OF THE WAR

PROMINENT ENGLISH CHURCHMEN ANSWER MANIFESTO FROM GERMANY, DEFENDING ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 30.—In reply to the appeal addressed by German theologians to "Evangelical Christians abroad," a manifesto was issued here yesterday, signed by the heads of the established church of England and by Non-Conformist leaders, justifying England's action in connection with the European war.

The manifesto refers to the authors of the German document as "men of whose honesty, capacity and good faith there can be no question," but expresses amazement that such men "should commit themselves to a statement concerning the political causes of the war which depart so strangely from what seems to us to be plain facts in this grave hour of European history."

"It is upon these facts we rest our assured convictions that for men who desire to maintain the paramount obligation of fidelity to their plighted word and their duty in defending nations against violence and wrong, no possible course was open but that which our country has taken."

After reviewing the negotiations that preceded the war the manifesto continues:

"We can only suppose, incredible as it seems, that those honorable and gifted men who signed the German appeal were unaware of the obligations by which we were bound and also of the story of the negotiations."

After expressing the hope that the time will come when it again will be their privilege to work with the German theologians in behalf of Christianity, the signers of yesterday's manifesto added:

"There must be no mistake about our position. Eagerly desirous of peace, foremost to the best of our ability in furthering it, even especially to promote a close fellowship between England and Germany, we nevertheless have been driven to declare that dear to us as peace is, the principles of truth and honor are yet more dear."

"We have taken our stand for international good faith, for the safeguarding of smaller nationalities, for upholding of the essential conditions of brotherhood among the nations of the world."

Among the signers of the manifesto are the Archbishops of Canterbury, York and Armagh, and the Bishop of London. Rev. J. H. Campbell, Dr. Clifford, Rev. R. B. Mayer, Dr. Campbell Morgan and Dr. Robertson Nicholls.

ENTERED BY BOARD OF TRADE—NEW SCHEDULE IS CRITICISED—HEARING REQUESTED

Secretary Murphy of the Board of Trade has sent a letter to the Boston & Maine railroad, protesting against recent changes in the train service.

This matter was taken up by the transportation committee, George M. Harrigan, chairman. Certain trains by the new schedule have been eliminated and the 12:15 o'clock train to Boston has been changed to 12:22. This would mean that the train would be late in the morning, but with the changing of the starting time, a change in the time consumed for the trip. The 12:15 o'clock train formerly arrived in Boston 50 minutes later, but the new train consumes one hour and four minutes and this is a handicap for men who travel to the city during the noon hour. The change will also make it hard for the Lowell citizens who wish to take in the world series games, which are scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock.

The committee is asking the railroad for a hearing in reference to the elimination of certain trains and it is hoped the favor will be granted. It is also hoped the old schedule will be resumed after the officials of the road hear what the residents of this city have to say in reference to the change.

BOERS CHEER BOTH

WIDEN THE FAVORED HELPING ENGLAND IN THE WAR—REASONS WHY

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Cape Town says that in the course of a speech addressed to 5000 people at the town of Bank, in the Transvaal, Gen. Louis Botha, premier of South Africa, emphasized the necessity of loyalty to the British empire.

NEUTRALITY NONSENSE

Declaring that the policy of neutrality was absolute nonsense, he pointed out that if a German warship came to London and imposed a levy of 5,000,000 pounds sterling on them it would help the people very little to say that they were neutral.

Gen. Botha said he was animated through a sincere love of his people and wished to put the position truly before them. There were only two courses open, loyalty and help, and second, disloyalty and treason. There was no middle course.

The German tortoise, Gen. Botha went on to say, had for once stuck its head too far out and was in grave danger of being trodden upon.

Kaiser's Intentions

He justified the exportation of South Africans to support the imperial government. He said he had information regarding German ambitions concerning South Africa, which would make the hair of his hearers stand on end.

The fact of the matter was that the German emperor wanted to go down to posterity as a second Napoleon. He had also wanted a place to send Germany's surplus population and so Africa appealed to him as a suitable place.

The speech was received by the Boers with vociferous cheers, and a resolution of confidence in Gen. Botha was carried by acclamation.

FOR MEDICAL INSPECTION SUPERIOR COURT SITTING

Speaker at Cotton Manufacturer's Convention Favors it for Factories

LENEX, Sept. 30.—"I have become convinced that the medical supervision of employees is advisable and that it can be made an economical procedure, of advantage not only to the employer but to the employee as well."

This statement was made by Dr. William Hall Coon of Haverhill in an address on "The Health of the Employee" at the semi-annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers today.

Dr. Coon, after referring to the general recognition by manufacturers of the advantages that come through the maintenance of clean, well lighted, sanitary factories, continued:

"All this is not done because of sentiment but for the very good reason that it pays and pays well. It would also pay, it seems, to people those factories with employees in good health capable of giving their best efforts through each working hour of the day and to provide for their continuance in good health by a carefully planned and carefully carried out system of medical examinations and inspection."

"The efficiency of any machine rests upon the efficiency of the person operating it. You can speed a machine to its limit, but the material passing through will suffer if the person in charge is careless or inattentive, and time will be lost even though the imperfections in material may later be removed or repaired. This carelessness or apparent inattention may be due to causes which you can remedy when you have found their cause."

Dr. Coon spoke of the spread of tuberculosis and other diseases through contact of mill operatives. He also emphasized the fact that court interpretations of workmen's compensation laws had held employers liable for "personal injury" due not to accidents, but to illness contracted in the course of work.

PINK ROLL WORM

Discussed By Convention of Cotton Manufacturers at Lenox, Mass., Today

LENEX, Sept. 30.—After W. D. Hunter, a member of the horticultural board of the department of agriculture at Washington, had described to the convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers today the nature of the pink boll worm which infests Egyptian cotton, the secretary of the association, C. J. H. Woodbury of Boston, related the efforts which had been made by the department of agriculture, in cooperation with cotton manufacturers, to prevent a spread of the pest to the cotton fields of this country.

"The pink boll worm where it thrives in Egypt," said Mr. Woodbury, "has both impaired the staple and reduced the output in some instances as much as 50 per cent."

As a result of a hearing on the matter last May, the secretary reported, the department of agriculture had adopted Mr. Woodbury's suggestion that manufacturers using Egyptian cotton should be requested to burn each day all picker waste and seeds from such cotton, for the reason that the pink boll worm often was found in the seeds. President Albert G. Duncan of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in July last sent a letter to all members urging compliance with the department's request. Mr. Woodbury reported that all the responses to this letter had been favorable.

"It is probable," Mr. Woodbury said, "that those precautions against the pink boll worm are temporary, as the weekly report from Alexandria indicates that the measures are successful to the extent of diminishing this pest, but it will be necessary to exercise the utmost vigilance until authoritatively informed that the hazard has been removed. It is believed that by this prompt and successive by the mills very serious impediments to the use of Egyptian cotton in this country have been overcome."

IN NEW YORK WITHIN EIGHT DAYS BROKE OUT IN SANTA ANNA

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The third steamship fire in New York within eight days broke out today in the Esperanza liner Santa Anna, the ship which brought Cardinal Bailey and many American refugees home from Europe two days ago. A week ago today there was a lively blaze aboard the Mallory line steamship Neuces and last Saturday a blaze in the hold of the White Star liner Cretia threatened for a time the destruction of the ship.

Today's fire destroyed costly silks and velvets in the steamer's hold before the fireboats were able to extinguish it. As in the cases of the two previous fires its cause could not be ascertained.

VISITS GARAGES

garages in Fire Chief Saunders' automobile. He called at city hall shortly before the noon hour and talked the matter over with City Clerk Flynn. The state officer found that a Sunday paper had an article on the construction and maintenance of garages and the storage of and handling of gasoline that was misleading, and at one garage where he ordered a number of changes, the keeper of the garage showed him the article and said that he was living up to the law as it appeared in the paper. State Officer Flynn told the well-intentioned garage man that the article was misleading, and handed him a copy of the new law and regulations.

"I find," said the state officer, "that a great many of the garage men are not familiar with the law and of course it is my duty to inform them. I have a big territory to cover and the newspapers can help out a whole lot if they publish the right dope. The newspapers can do the public a great favor by simply stating what the law requires and it's just as simple as rolling off a log."

"If you want to build a garage, or store gasoline, the first thing to do is to go to the city clerk and apply for a license. After the license has been granted by the city government you go to the chief of the fire department and make application for a permit. He will give you a copy of the rules and regulations and as soon as the rules and regulations have been complied with the fire chief will issue the permit. Can there be anything more simple? There has to be a yearly renewal of the permit, of course, and the process of renewal is the same. You visit both the city clerk and the chief of the fire department."

The insurance question

"It is absolutely essential that keepers of garages and owners of automobiles in general should familiarize themselves with the laws and regulations governing the construction and maintenance of garages, and the storage and handling of volatile inflammable liquid in connection therewith. If they don't they are liable not to the city but to their own insurers. In case of fire. They will find that the policies provide that the rules and regulations shall be lived up to. If you should go to the city clerk and make application for a license and the city council should grant the license, you had not gone the whole distance, providing you had not obtained a permit from the chief of the fire department. The insurers would look into the matter and if they found you had not complied with the law, you might whistle for your money."

Definition of Garage

The definition of a garage as contained in the regulations adopted and prescribed by the state police is as follows: "Garage" shall mean a building or other structure, or any portion thereof, where in are kept or housed any motor vehicles charged with or containing a volatile inflammable liquid for fuel, or power, or wherein is conducted the business of repairing motor vehicles.

"Motor vehicle" shall mean any vehicle with more than two running wheels, charged with or containing a volatile inflammable liquid for fuel or power.

Frictional Electricity

State Officer Flynn said that a number of fires are caused in garages by frictional electricity during the handling of gasoline and Fire Chief Saunders said that frictional electricity had been responsible for a number of fires in Lowell.

Frictional or static electricity is generated by the rubbing together of substances that in themselves are nonconductors of electricity, such as dry wood, rubber or gasoline; or it may be generated between a conductor and a nonconductor, such as gasoline and a metal pipe. Gasoline poured on chamolis or linen will create frictional electricity, which is more liable to be generated when the atmosphere is clear and dry, than when it is moist.

Ascertain the Cause

The state police have instituted exhaustive research to ascertain the true cause, and to devise a practical remedy therefor. In this connection they offer the following advice:

In the drawing of gasoline from a pump into a metal can, no can should be used that has a wooden ball or handle in such a manner that the wood will intervene between the metal of the can and that of the pump on which it is being.

In filling the tank of a motor vehicle with gasoline from a metal can, care should be taken that good metallic connection exists not only between the tank and other metallic parts of

CHANCELLOR

GEORGE

SAYS THAT WALES WILL SEND AN ARMY OF 50,000 TO ASSIST IN THIS WAR

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 30.—Via London, 6.50 p. m.—At a big meeting here today, over which the Earl of Plymouth presided, David Lloyd-George, the chancellor of the exchequer, spoke of the government's decision to raise a Welsh army of 50,000 men.

Mr. Lloyd-George, who delivered a rousing speech, said that Glamorgan-shire already had recruited 24,000 and Monmouthshire 12,000 men. He frankly told his hearers that the recruits were not going out for a picnic, but for a stern enterprise which would involve hardships, wounds and danger, but, he added, a vast majority would return and would have glorious memories to the end of their lives—memories that they would not barter for all the gold in the Bank of England.

The chancellor of the exchequer pointed out that under conscriptions Wales would be compelled to contribute a quarter of a million men, but that a voluntary army of 50,000 men would be just as good as a forced army five times that number.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS

The "city beautiful" committee of the board of trade made many excellent suggestions at its meeting of Monday, practically all of which have been at one time or another advanced by The Sun and which may, therefore, be approved by The Sun with consistency. So sane were they, so essential, so pertinent and withal so modest that all progressive people of the city will regret that the wide-awake civic committee is not empowered to demand instead of to suggest. Were such the case we would see far fewer empty political plays and far more intelligent municipal activity.

One of the most important suggestions made, and one that is easy of fulfillment, was that the health and police departments be requested to investigate conditions throughout the city with regard to civic cleanliness and sanitation and the cultivation of a proper regard for municipal ordinances along those lines. Alleys, yards and streets in all sections are to receive attention, and the president of one of our foreign groups will be asked to co-operate by bringing the activity to the attention of his followers.

In this there is nothing new as Lowell has enjoyed the temporary cleanliness resulting from two or three such campaigns, but the necessity for them we have always with us. The spring is an excellent time for such a movement, but also pressing are the claims of the fall when the streets are littered with leaves and branches and when summer carelessness has left its imprint on lawns and yards. When the snow flies it will be too late for anything like extraordinary clean-up activity and a special effort at this time would help the cause of winter sanitation and keep the permanent necessity for it constantly in the public mind. Incidentally, the city beautiful committee does wisely in making municipal cleanliness the preliminary requisite of civic beauty.

To request the municipal council and the health department for receptacles for waste paper and waste generally is also an excellent move, the necessity for which will be emphasized by a visit to any neighboring city. In this respect Lowell is away behind the times and suffers as a consequence. With more unobtrusive and artistic receptacles for rubbish, our streets could be kept far more presentable than they are at present.

The recommended conference between the municipal authorities and the officials of the Locks and Canals may also remove another cause for complaint in the unsightly and dangerous canal fences that interfere with civic beauty in many sections of the city. The Locks and Canals corporation can well afford a more desirable type of fence, but it cannot afford to go on eternally offending public feeling. Other cities have long recognized the possibilities of their river banks and canals as developments of the beauty-spot idea and Lowell is showing signs of waking up to a like realization. In this regard there is a great deal of work before the city beautiful committee but there is nothing of a serious financial burden involved and a little co-operation and the growth of a real Lowell spirit would work wonders.

The elimination of billboards wherever possible, especially those in the centre of the city, is also to be approved, and so are the widening of Rogers street and the improvement of the entrance of Shedd park. In none of these things is the board of trade committee asking very much and they are the practical things that would appear almost negligible to a city that takes its parks, playgrounds and city beautiful problems in earnest. If we cannot develop anything new or striking let us at least keep up to the Lowell of the past. The local press in general and the members of the city beautiful committee are showing the city how it may be done.

THE MANN ACT

Undoubtedly the spirit that prompted the passing of the Mann act was a splendid one and the intention of the act itself is excellent. Still, there are a good many virtuous people—and among them those whose opinions carry weight—who do not approve of it as its workings are revealed by frequent newspaper items. Those who disapprove of some of its phases declare that in supporting virtue the Mann act may be made the instrument of injustice. As an illustration of its dangers, or possible dangers, comes an accusation from Chicago against a former superintendent of the Chicago office of the department of justice.

The accusations against the former government official are due to revelations made by a witness who testified that a white slave charge made against a citizen of St. Paul was merely a blackmailing plot, in which the superintendent of the department of justice office was implicated. The girl in the case received a verdict of $17,000. An affidavit submitted by a newspaper reporter gives what is alleged to be a private account of the whole case in which she is said to have revealed how the plot was concocted and how some well-meaning women's club of St. Paul fought her battles. Whether true or false the new revelations are a good indication of the result of emotionalism in such cases as some of the Mann white slave cases.

In the stamping out of vice it is eminently desirable that they who would lead any girl astray should be fittingly punished, but it is questionable if it is in accordance with the spirit of the constitution that the federal government should step in, merely because the woman in the case has been taken from one state to another. The hasty reflection is that the woman is an unwilling victim, but there is reason to believe that the cases of actual abduction are not nearly so numerous as is generally supposed. The Mann law, therefore, may be used and it is to be feared, is used as a pretext by a despicable woman for any injustice of a blackmailing character. When a man is arrested under the Mann act he is in a far more unfavorable position than most accused individuals. Judge or jury are not apt to dwell much on extenuating circumstances, and it is very possible that an entirely innocent individual may be made to look extremely guilty. Even when guilty of crime it seems a trifle inconsistent that the federal government should intrude to settle what could just as well be settled by state regulations.

From the above mentioned case and from like revelations in divorce cases it is evident that in matters relating to immorality there is room for a great deal of injustice. Given a wealthy and pleasure-loving man, a worldly-minded and designing woman and a few incidental frame-ups, a fine case could be bolstered up in a short time. When, added to the combination is a corrupt government official the Mann act can make the rankiest injustice wear the mask of virtue. There is much in such subjects to make the courts and the public pause and think before approving.

GOVERNMENT OWNED SHIPS

It may be that labor problems or other economic or political influences may at some future time make the American public look to government ownership of public utilities with favor, but that time is not yet. Despite the fact that a well-defined agitation is discernible tending that way—especially at times of general agitation or disturbance—the American people as a whole still regard government ownership as either undesirable or desirable only as a last resort.

The history of the recent agitation

In favor of establishing a merchant marine is an excellent illustration. It was at first held that the most satisfactory form of the revived service would be a fleet of commercial ships, flying the American flag, manned by American sailors, but in the hands of private concerns. Interest lagged, apparently, and then the administration let it be known that to tide over American industry, it believed in the formation of a government-owned merchant marine. With the realization that private capital was slow in supporting the measure and that ships were not flocking to the American registry, the public at last was satisfied that a government-owned service was preferable to stagnation.

Gradually, however, it became apparent that American commerce would not suffer as there were sufficient ships to handle American exports and imports without calling on the government for direct service. During this period a bill to provide for government purchase of ships was introduced, but as yet it has not been introduced into congress. It is now being said in Washington that unless President Wilson personally urges its acceptance, it will not be favorably considered, and even with the expressed sanction of the chief executive, it is doubtful if the bill for government ownership would become law. Among its most strenuous opponents are many leading democrats. Some who at first sanctioned it now declare that the emergency has passed and are therefore in favor of leaving American international trade in the hands of private American concerns. Among those opposed on economic grounds is Mr. Underwood.

Under these circumstances it would seem desirable that the bill providing for a government-owned merchant marine should be postponed until the necessity for it is more marked. The principle of government ownership is a dangerous one, to be supported only on extreme necessity.

PRICE SUGGESTION

When prices began to soar after the declaration of war in Europe and when civic societies everywhere intimated that there was nothing to excuse those in charge of the American food situation, the Boston Post suggested that the Boston chamber of commerce should investigate the Boston situation and as a result "publish what in its opinion were honest and equitable prices for foodstuffs at retail."

The Boston body did not take kindly to the suggestion which, it said, led

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to a host of troubles from which people suffer. Ordinary indigestion and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

without its provinces. Still, in an official statement a few days ago the body declared that 35 cents a peck for apples will insure to the grower "a good reasonable profit." That a declaration of the kind will have an effect on the selling of apples in Boston cannot be denied, and it is questionable if the chamber could not, with propriety and general advantage, extend the sphere of its price investigations.

In England and in other foreign countries, chambers of commerce not only publish lists of prices but they urge on the public the necessity for acquainting them of all cases where food is sold above the named price, that charges may be preferred in the courts. Though the Boston civic body cannot go as far as this, there is a good deal of common sense in the following paragraph from the Post:

"This is a very good beginning in price-suggestion, and the chamber of commerce. None of you will be indicted for 'conspiracy,' we feel pretty sure. Now, then, having started the work for the public good, why not extend it to other foodstuffs? The tea is broken; precedent is made; go further and do a complete service to the people."

ENGINES OF DEATH

America was inclined to poke fun at English fear of a German aero invasion for the past few years but recent war revelations show that the English fear was well founded. There is no scoffing today when London is taking every precaution not to permit itself to be a target at night for German aeroplanes or Zeppelins. What was done at Antwerp or Paris could just as well have been done in London, only instead of one aeroplane or dirigible balloon, a large fleet could have been used. If the future will see great wars such as we are having at present, the battles in the air will be a still more important feature. Almost stranger still are the deeds of the submarines, those silent little engines of death that steal under water and sink a mighty battleship in five minutes, and with one shot. More terrible still are the modern guns which illustrate the art of killing in the superlative degree. The Germans are said to have guns that do fearful damage at from 10 to 20 miles and the French are reported as having a gun that throws a missile with a killing odor. The way to peace may yet be through the road of death-dealing inventions such as those that make modern war too terrible for comprehension.

THE PAVING BLOCK ORDER

The city council yesterday authorized an order for 250,000 paving blocks which should have been purchased in April or May so that there might be an opportunity for different contractors to bid on them. Now it is understood the blocks are required in such a hurry that only one firm which keeps them on hand can supply them within the time specified. Is that economy? Is it fair dealing or is it deliberate delay in the interest of one certain firm and the only one hereabouts that has paving blocks for sale?

It is most probable that the Lowell citizen who votes for a candidate to municipal office at the next municipal elections will listen carefully to what the candidate has to say of city affairs previously and will make a note in his mental notebook. The time has gone by, for a while at least, when an office-seeker can come out with bland

RASH ON BABY'S FACE AND NECK

Elm St., Mechanic Falls, Mo.—"Our baby's face, neck and chest first broke out with a kind of rash and seemed to burn for washing but I was told to keep her head covered with great care and when we put Cuticura on it, it lifted the scales and let her head all raw where they came off. It also took off great patches of hair. She acted as if it smarted terribly and would not stop scratching. It only made it worse. It was red and covered with little spots of blood. A friend told me how Cuticura Soap and Ointment had cured her little girl who suffered exactly with Emma. We got some and in a short time her face, neck and chest were entirely well of the eczema. Then her head began to have patches like dandruff. She had before she had the eczema and her hair came out in patches. It itched terribly and the dandruff formed big brown scales. She would scratch them off and leave her head all raw underneath. We thought perhaps Cuticura Soap and Ointment would cure that, too. They softened the scalp and lifted the scales and at the same time healed her head underneath. Her hair stopped coming out and grew fast. Now she is completely healed of the trouble." (Signed) Belmont H. Pratt, Jan. 28, 1914.

With 200 horses burned in a New York fire and 14 burned a few days afterwards in a Beverly fire it would seem that some form of a stable should be devised which would give the horses a chance of escape at such times. It was occurrences such as these that drew from Tennyson the wish: "Sweet St. Francis of Assisi would that he were here again!"

SEEN AND HEARD

What has become of the old-fashioned girl who could take a mess of hot biscuits?

If some fellows worried as much over doing their work as they do over the war, they would own their own factories.

Every married woman is naturally a hostess. If she can't entertain company she will entertain suspicions.

The married woman who lies around too much will never be regarded as an angel by her husband.

You can't blame a man for saying things behind his wife's back when he has to fasten up her dress.

To some men home is a place where they can get and ease off a rough without having their backs knocked off.

When nature was supplying woman with chin muscle she kindly fixed things so that woman with a double chin couldn't play doctor.

It always affords a no-count man a heap of comfort when he realizes that a millionaire can't take it with him when he dies.

Every married man knows that if he stayed home and attended to his wife and the children for a week he could save enough to make a life for himself as a wizard of finance.

The peace plan is certainly making great strides in this country. There was a time when a man could get the shape of his nose changed by simply pulling another man's hair, but we don't need to pay much attention to the term any more.

The reason why a girl buys comfortable clothes when she could get stylish clothes for the same money is because there would be more ducks in this country if there were fences around the ponds to keep them from falling in and getting drowned.

BUY AN AUTO

The advance notices of 1915 automobiles show that the price of machines is destined to descend several percent next year, and the consequence more people are going to own them than ever before. And so we who are pedestrians are going to do more jumping than ever before, at the sound of more automobile horns than ever. What are we coming to? Or, rather, where shall we go to, to save our lives?

AS PAT EXPECTED

Some time ago an Irishman and an Englishman went to the captain of a ship and asked for the privilege of working their way across the ocean. The captain consented, but asked Pat for references, while talking the Englishman on without them.

A few days later the pair were watching the deck and just as the Englishman was leaning over the side to pull up a bucket of water he was caught in a huge wave and carried away.

"Captain," said Pat, going to that deck, "maybe you remember that when I came on this ship you asked me for references an' let that Englishman come on without them."

"Yes," replied the captain reflectively. "What about it?"

"Nothing," answered Pat triumphantly. "Only he has gone off with yer bucket."—Exchange.

ABOUT MAD DOGS

A mongrel puppy, without owner, license, muzzle or leash, and no dog hungry, strayed on board the municipal ferryboat Bronx at New York and tried to make friends. Several passengers pelted him and he wagged his tail happily, but he was kicked close to a white-trousered man and was kicked. The puppy yelped and ran. The dog bumped against another man, and then the cry "Mad dog!" sounded all over the upper deck. The puppy was knocked down with a stick. Next day the dog was pulled on top of him. Men climbed on and so did all women who could find room. Then a middle-aged woman, her face flaming, uncovered the yelp-

ing puppy and picked him up. "A lot of cruel idiots," she said, and the frightened dog nestled close to her. A deckhand came to relieve her of her burden. She said:

"I'm going to take this little fellow home. He's very affectionate. He's not as mad as that man who is so afraid of having his trousers contaminated by contact with an honest dog."

YEAST

It was my privilege a few days ago to be present at a rehearsal of Miss Wells' original play "Yeast," soon to be presented by local talent at the Playhouse. Those who are planning to witness the performance may be assured of an evening of pleasure. The author, long known to the local reading public as editor of the playhouse, is the "As She Sees It" column of the Lowell Courier-Citizen, ever was notoriously a woman's woman, and in her play she scores many points for her sex.

"Yeast" is a society play, and as the plot develops it becomes an expose of present day political and sociological conditions; each of the carefully drawn characters represents a type, the embodiment of which one sees everywhere about him, and while both plot and characters are pure fiction, the truth is drawn to life, that the audience finds itself involuntarily replacing the characters of the play with friends and acquaintances.

WAR

The tumult of each sacked and burning village. The shout that every prayer for merry dawns. The soldiers revels in the midst of silence. The wall of famine in the beleaguered towns. The busy shell, the gateway wrung asunder. The rattling musketry, the clashing blades. And ever and anon, in tones of thunder. The disposal of the cannonade. Is it, O man, with such discordant noise.

With such accursed instruments as these. Thou driest nature's sweet and kindly voices. And arrest the celestial harmonies? Were half the power that fills the world with such terror. Their was? Woe half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts. Given to free the human mind from there were no need for arsenals and forts. The warrior's name would be a name of horror. And every nation that should lift its hand against a brother, on its forehead would wear forevermore the course of Guilt. —Longfellow.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The British Admiralty, commenting on the loss of three war vessels by a German submarine, criticizes the action of the commanders of two vessels that went to the relief of the third. The criticism is that they were a humane impulse, but it ended in a fearful loss of life, for the submarine that struck the first vessel attacked them with fatal results. The admiralty has issued a rule that such attacks must be governed by the same laws as prevail in naval action and that disabled ships must be left to their own resources rather than other ships should be jeopardized by rescue work.—Lynn Item.

DIPLOMATS, TAKE NOTICE

Mr. A. Rusten Bey, the offensive German ambassador in London, who has been invited to take a sea voyage, by President Wilson, seems to have been affected with a very common trouble, an excessive admiration for the sound of his own voice. It was time for him to take something for it, and no doubt the ocean voyage will help him some. —Fall River Globe.

GERMAN BUSINESS

Though very little authentic information has come to us regarding the business situation in Germany we can readily imagine it. Business must be stagnant, for few are left either to carry it on or to support it. All the available men in Germany being upon military service. Such industries as are designed for the support of the army must be working overtime. Of other businesses there is no news. The moratorium is in force. Nobody pays any debt; therefore there is no credit.—Providence Tribune.

PARCEL POST RATES

Parcel post rates are not yet what they should be, with all the changes that have been made since the system started. For example, an 11-pound package can be sent from Germany to New York for 51 cents. To send it from New York to the same point the charge is $1.32. It is said that before the war a New York department store found it cheaper to send goods by mail to the west from its branch plant in Germany than from the home office. This is a matter calling for another revision of rates.—Foster's Democrat.

Percy Leveen Luckily Had Somerville Letters—Man Standing Beside Him Shot as Suspect

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Percy Paul Leveen, a young violinist, who lives at 2 Flint street, Somerville, has just returned from Prague, Bohemia, where he went last summer to study. He spent July, August and part of the present month in Germany and Austria. Though arrested as an English spy in Austria, and standing beside a man who was shot as a spy while Leveen was en route from Austria to Germany, Leveen nevertheless managed to smuggle through the British Isles, and on a British liner, a number of official documents which were published by the German government in order that its version of the war and its beginning might be known to the world at large. The English authorities, he said, are confiscating all such publications they find.

All other news was suppressed. "Every day a large number of persons suspected of being spies were taken into custody, and sometimes as many as 100 of these unfortunates were shot in one day. "It being suspected that I was of English birth, I was arrested and brought to the headquarters of the Prague police. I had no official documents on my person to prove that I was not of English birth, but fortunately I did have two letters from Somerville which plainly indicated that I had gone abroad from Boston to study music. These created enough doubt in the minds of the officials, according to my request they sent me to my room in the custody of two officers. This enabled me to produce my birth certificate, and so establish the fact that I was an American. "There were great demonstrations against the English and Russians. Shops belonging to Englishmen and Russians were looted and wrecked. Prices on all commodities jumped. Every one began to hoard gold and silver, and you could not spend paper money. The banks refused to pay their clients more than 200 kroners every two weeks. Under such conditions Prague was almost impossible to exist in, so after six weeks of study I left for Berlin.

STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

GERMANS MINE ROADS AND BRIDGES AND SET NUMEROUS TRAPS—

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Describing conditions in and about Brussels, a Chronicle correspondent at that Belgian city says:

"It is certain that at present the Germans are taking all precautions to defend their ground foot by foot, if they deem it possible, to avert the risk either of a surprise or of an enveloping movement of our troops seeking to surround their garrison in Brussels. "Brussels constitutes for the Germans a sort of entrenched camp. Important works of defense have been completed all around the town. Numerous roads and bridges have been mined, and there are not a few clever traps. Thus, between Berchemme, Agathe and Grand Eglise, after having excavated the highway to a great depth, the Germans have placed there 300 barrels without tops, which are covered with branches and earth. One can well conceive what would be the effect of a cavalry charge at this spot. "Luckily, the commanders of the Belgian army are quite well aware of these goings-on on the part of the Germans, who know that they know

BANGOR, Sept. 30.—Maine's deer season opened Thursday. After midnight, Sept. 30, any resident and any non-resident with a proper license may kill two deer and no more. Many hunters are already in the woods for the bird shooting, which opened Sept. 15, and the most of these will remain until they can bring out a deer or two. The game commissioners say that applications from non-resident hunters are coming in in greater numbers than last year, when 217 paid $25 each for the privilege of hunting birds and big game in Maine. The moose season opens Nov. 1 and continues through the month. The deer season ends Dec. 15.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Annual Convention of National Association at Haverhill

LENOX, Sept. 30.—"Provisions for the health of employees" was the title of a paper by William Hall Knox of Haverhill at the opening session today of the annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

Another matter to come before the meeting was the report of the secretary, C. J. Woodbury of Boston on proposed restrictions upon the importation of Egyptian cotton on account of the pink boll worm.

COLDEST ON RECORD

CHILLY SNAP OF YESTERDAY EXPECTED TO GIVE WAY TO WARMER WEATHER TODAY

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The chilly snap of yesterday is expected to give way to warmer weather today, according to the official forecast of the local weather bureau last night. The prediction is "fair and somewhat warmer" and Thursday is also expected to be fair. Moderate west winds will prevail.

The chilly weather was ushered in with a frost Monday night and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury registered only 54 above, or six degrees colder than the lowest temperature recorded for Sept. 29 in the 42 years' existence of the weather bureau. In 1888 the temperature was only 40 degrees above zero mark.

During the day the mercury rose as high as 58, at 3 p. m., but it descended early in the evening again to around 50.

LOOK FOR CHOLERA

HEALTH OFFICER ORDERS EXTRA PRECAUTIONS ON REPORT OF PLAGUE ABROAD

NEW YORK, April 30.—Cholera having been reported in epidemic form in eastern Russia, Austria and among the Austrian troops, passengers on all steamships coming here from ports on the Adriatic sea east of Italy, on the Ionian sea, the Aegean sea, the Mediterranean east of Italy and the Black sea will be examined for evidence of cholera infection.

This order was issued yesterday by Dr. O'Connell, health officer of the port, upon receipt of word by cable that similar precautions had been taken by the Italian government. Dr. Oscar Teague, director of the quarantine laboratory, at once began organizing a corps of cholera experts. "These precautions should not alarm anyone," said Dr. O'Connell. "On the contrary, they should be reassuring. The sanitary forces of the various governments at war have become weakened, as may be seen in the reports of cholera in Vienna, Budapest and Serbia. Against this we must weigh the fact that sanitary science has been much developed since the last great war. "In New York we are well prepared for any eventuality as we have vaccination two years ago, and Dr. Teague, besides being a recognized expert in plague work, had an invaluable experience in the bureau of science in Manila during the cholera epidemic in the Philippines."

SUGAR FAMINE AVERTED

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—With 28,000,000 pounds of sugar arriving here since last Saturday, the much-feared sugar famine seems to have been averted. Four vessels have arrived in Boston since Saturday with cargoes of sugar, the value of which would be $1,500,000 at the retail quotation of seven cents a pound. The vessels arriving yesterday were the steamer Eskasoni, Capt. E. W. Hickey, and the Santa Isabel, Capt. A. S. Graham. The former was from Cuba with about 9,055,375 pounds of sugar, while the other had 7,040,000 pounds from the same country.

Keating, a Dallas, Tex., lawyer, has returned to her summer home in Edgartown and is now with her mother, who is seriously ill. She disappeared Sunday while her father was taking her from Boston to a private school in Peekskill, N. Y.

THE FLAT WEDDING

"Father's stenographer is to be married soon," quoth Marjorie, and she has appealed to me to tell her how to have the wedding in her tiny flat which seems altogether too small to her for any such event, but for sentimental reasons she wishes to have not only the ceremony there but also a reception and breakfast. "It certainly can be arranged very nicely," began Marie after Marjorie had drawn a funny looking plan of the stenographer's apartment. "Of course, it is understood at the outset there can be no formality. Both the bride and guests will be expected to join in the general merriment at once without a bit of ceremony."

"The attendants of both bride and groom must be here, there, and everywhere welcoming friends, introducing strangers and seeing to the comfort of the guests until all are entirely at their ease and not until a conversation of reaching is reached must they relax their efforts. "All the rooms open to guests should have a few flowers tastefully arranged of course, on mantels, tables, or wall brackets, but large plants or flowers standing about the room will only be in the way as soon as the guests begin to arrive. "The table will be set in the dining room; the center piece a bowl of flowers, lilies of the valley, pink roses, or a basket with tall handle filled with flowers and ferns, a bell covered

CLINTON, Sept. 30.—A general alarm was sounded shortly before 9 o'clock last night for an $8000 fire which broke out in the three-story, tenement building on Nashua street owned by Patrick F. Coyne.

The fire was quickly extinguished, but not before the roof had been burned off and the whole building badly damaged by water. The homes of David Maroney, Rev. Henry Welsh and Martin Kane were ignited by sparks, but saved from burning.

The estimated damage to the building is placed at between $3000 and $4000, stock in a grocery store in the basement, belonging to B. Kowtonki, was damaged by water to the extent of about $2000, and Eben H. Cobb, his son, Rev. John S. Cobb, and Mr. Coyne, the owner of the building sustained a loss of between $2000 and $3000 in furniture, making the total loss about $8000.

MARQUIS NEAR DEATH

CONDITION OF THE MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS FOR ITALY IS VERY GRAVE

ROME, Sept. 30.—The condition of Marquis San Giuliano, the minister of foreign affairs, although somewhat better, is grave. He is constantly nursed by his daughter-in-law, the Marchioness Santa Margherita. The patient stands his sufferings stoically but it is asserted that in a moment of discouragement recently he exclaimed: "I wish I could live ten weeks more." This is taken to mean that the minister feels that within ten weeks something very important and vital for Italy will occur but thus far no one has dared to question him regarding the matter.

GEORGE T. SULLIVAN DIES

Had Done Big Brokerage Business in Providence and Had Offices Later in Boston and New York

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 30.—George T. Sullivan, broker and bucket shop promoter of Boston, Providence and other places in New England, died at his Bayville home, Shawmut, yesterday. He was a native of Maine. Once he went into business in Mexico and made blankets for the army. At one time he had the largest brokerage office in this city. After learning telegraphy as a young man he entered the employ of F. B. Grosby, a broker, here. He next became associated with Daniel T. Lyman, a broker on Westminster street, and later opened an office of his own. When the Hamilton building, now the Grosvenor building, was built, he opened large offices under the firm name of Sullivan & Sullivan, his brother, Edward J. Sullivan, being his partner.

He built up a large business, but the field was too small and he and his brother closed out here in 1902 and opened offices in New York and Boston.

GIANTS AND YANKS TO PLAY

New York Teams Will Have Little Post-Season Series of Their Own—Last Met in 1910

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The New York National and American league baseball teams will meet in a post-season series to begin on Thursday, Oct. 8, the day before the opening of the world's series. After Pittsburgh won yesterday from the Giants and thus spoiled what slim chance was left for them to win the 1914 pennant, officials of the two clubs met and completed arrangements for the local series.

The two teams have met once before—in 1910—when both finished in second place. The Giants took four of seven games from the Yankees in that series. The winner of four of seven games this year will take the series.

Martin Maher. As he stated to the court during his trial he was not a deserter and the paymaster readily paid over to him the money needed to square up his difficulties in this city.

FOR COLUMBUS DAY CATHEDRAL OF RHEIMS

BUNTINGS PREPARING BIG EVENT AT THE CLUB GROUNDS—ENTRIES CLOSE NEXT TUESDAY

The Bunting Cricket club athletic committee is making arrangements to handle the biggest crowd of the season at their athletic carnival at Bunting park on Columbus day. The latter race is attracting considerable attention all over New England as H. E. Weeks of the Irish American association of Boston, amateur champion of New England, has promised to enter the race and he will try to defeat Willie Kyrrean, the Finn flyer and who is recognized as the five mile champion of America. Weeks has many friends and followers in this city who believe he can beat the Finn and they will turn out in large numbers that to encourage him in his efforts. Hendigan, Madden, Roth, Fallon, Horne, Goddard, Nebes and other middle distance runners will enter and as each one will be handicapped the champions will have to go some to win the trophies offered.

ASKED THEIR POLITICS

Civil Service Employees of Postoffice Inspector's Office at Chicago Puzzled by Request

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Civil service employees of the postoffice inspector's office were somewhat perplexed yesterday at receiving circular letters from Washington directing them to report on their party affiliations. The perplexity was twofold; the recipients could not understand why the question was asked, and many of them, having been out of politics for many years hardly knew what to answer.

TENURE OF OFFICE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—"No employee's tenure of office is at all likely to be affected by our inquiry and the answer thereto concerning his politics," said Chief Inspector Johnston of the postoffice department yesterday, commenting upon the reported apprehension caused among employees of his bureau by an inquiry as to their politics. "We often are required to investigate matters involving politics," continued Mr. Johnston. "This is no new inquiry, particularly."

UNREFRESHING SLEEP

The woman who is tired out, who aches all over when she rises in the morning, who feels depressed most of the time, needs the help that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give her—new blood and stronger nerves. The number of disorders that are caused by thin blood is amazing and most women are careless about the condition of their blood. DAMAGE TO HISTORIC BUILDING IRREPARABLE—ARCHITECT SAYS STONES DETACH AT TOUCH

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The artistic beauty of the Cathedral of Rheims which suffered in the German bombardment of that town can never be restored in the opinion of Whitney Warren, the New York architect, who has just returned from Rheims, where he made a thorough inspection of the famous structure.

Mr. Warren, who is a corresponding member of the Institut de France, obtained the privilege of visiting the cathedral. His investigation has no official character, but the result of his observations will be communicated to M. T. Hericq, American ambassador to France.

"That anything remains of the cathedral," said Mr. Warren, "is owing to the strong construction of what might be called the carcass of the cathedral, whose walls and vaults are of a robustness which can resist even modern implements of war."

"The stone, as far as its surface is concerned, is irreparably damaged. When touched it detaches itself. Consequently all the decorative motives, wherever the damages have reached, are lost."

Maj. Spencer Crosby, the military attaché at Paris, returned with Mr. Warren. He went to Rheims to take notes to the committee.

William Eardel, the American consul at Rheims, his wife, daughter and son, are the only Americans left in the French city. They have spent most of their time the last fortnight in a window 100 feet underground, the opening of which is within half a block of their dwelling.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A committee was formed yesterday noon to protect the poor of Wall street against death by starvation. The committee is composed of wealthy brokers and the persons who will receive aid are the army of clerks and employees of stock exchange houses who lost their places or are working at reduced salaries because of the closing of the world's stock markets. It is to be known as the Wall Street Employees' relief committee.

It is estimated that 5000 men, women and boys have lost their positions through the starvation caused by the war and as many more have suffered partial reduction of salaries or are out of work "part time." Knowledge of this situation caused the organization of the relief committee under the patronage of the stock exchange, which issued the following notice:

"In view of the fact that considerable distress is known to exist among Wall street employees who have lost their positions as a result of the war, a committee of employers in the financial district is being formed, to be known as the Wall Street Employees' relief committee. This committee proposes to ascertain the extent of such distress and, upon information, such action will be taken as may be deemed necessary."

TRUST MEASURE FISHING RULES

Sen. Reed Denounces Changes—Bill Must Have Penalties

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Senator Reed of Missouri yesterday, concluded a 2-day speech in opposition to the conference report on the Clayton anti-trust bill with a diatribe attack upon his colleagues for eliminating specific penalties from the measure.

He predicted that the time soon would come when they would be compelled to write into the law more severe penalties for violation of trust laws than had been contemplated originally in the Clayton bill.

The senator announced that he would move to recommit the bill to the conference committee with instructions. Administration leaders declared last night, however, that the motion would be lost and the bill would be approved.

Senator Reed severely criticized the conferees for striking from the bill his amendment which would authorize the courts to appoint receivers and sell the property of convicted corporations to persons who would restore competition. Dissolutions of corporations without sale, he declared, availed nothing. He took the case of the Standard Oil company for illustration.

"The flicker in Wall street," he said, "told the story of that dissolution in its rising and falling."

"We have played the hypocrite," he continued. "We said when this great democratic host assembled that we would have a clean path for the common people to tread. Having marched to the hill to the heroic blast of bugles we have now turned back and are turning our eyes to the selfish notes of 'Home, Sweet Home.' Some of us will hear from home."

STILL ANOTHER LAWSUIT

MRS. HANSEN SUES TO ANNUL SON'S MARRIAGE—WOULD THROW OUT REUTTS' CLAIM

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—One more lawsuit has been added to the long list which has disrupted the marital happiness of Walter Lathrop Hansen, grandnephew of the late Leland Stanford, and his young wife, known on the vaudeville stage as Henrietta Reutti.

Through Rockwood & McKelvey of Saratoga Springs, Mrs. Alnece Lathrop Hansen, the young man's mother has sued to annul the marriage clandestinely contracted in Philadelphia Nov. 6, 1912. Mrs. Hansen names as defendants her son, his wife and Edward J. Dempsey, who was legally appointed a committee of young Hansen's person and property.

Before the marriage Mrs. Hansen entered into a contract with the Reutts, a family of German descent, for the sum of $50,000 which was paid for her. The son was a contingent heir to $250,000 which the mother now controls.

When Mrs. Hansen learned of the marriage she cut off her son's allowance. Thereupon he sued her to obtain a $50,000 legacy left to him by his father who died Jan. 29, 1912.

The mother had her case examined by a commission relative to his sanity. He was found sane, but incompetent, and Mr. Dempsey was appointed.

About this time Hansen quit his wife and she sued the elder Mrs. Hansen for $50,000 for alienating the affections of her husband. This suit is pending in the supreme court. If Mrs. Hansen can secure an annulment the action brought by daughter-in-law will naturally fail.

TO ISSUE $22,000 BONDS

CITY COUNCIL WILL START STREET WORK WITH LOAN TO PREVENT UNEMPLOYMENT

HAVERTHILL, Sept. 30.—The municipal council yesterday decided to issue bonds for $22,000 for more street work, in order to furnish employment for laborers.

Mayor Moulton explained that the $22,000 worth of bonds authorized some time ago for various purposes has been held up owing to the high money market, but there was plenty of money to meet current expenses.

The council decided to macadamize Highland avenue, Maple avenue and Webster street at once.

PHILADELPHIA DUE TO DIEF SPARTANBURG, S. C., Sept. 30.—Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the public health service was here yesterday to look into the pellagra situation. Pellagra, though practically unknown in this country 20 years ago, now causes more deaths here than any other disease. The public health service recently opened a pellagra hospital in Spartanburg and 16 patients are receiving treatment.

When asked his opinion of the cause of pellagra, Surgeon General Blue said he placed great weight in the recently announced opinion of Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the public health service, that an "unbalanced diet" produced the disease and that it could be cured by rest and a balanced diet. He added that a person who subsisted mainly on one cereal could, in his opinion, get into a condition which would stimulate pellagra.

NO BOXING IN CAMBRIDGE

Mayor Good Orders Commissioner of Public Safety to Prevent Friday's Exhibition

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Mayor Good of Cambridge yesterday announced that he will not allow the University A. C. to resume boxing exhibitions at its headquarters on Green street, the first of which had been scheduled for Friday night.

Commissioner of Public Safety Canningham was instructed to get in touch with the state police in order to stop the bout. District Attorney Corcoran last month said that all boxing in Massachusetts is illegal and he would stop it in Cambridge if the mayor did not.

Canada Has Tired of Failure of the U. S. to Adopt Regulations

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 30.—Owing to the failure of the United States to approve of regulations governing the taking of food fish in boundary waters, the Canadian government is about to serve notice that it resumes its liberty of action, it was learned here last night.

A treaty was made between the two countries six years ago for the appointment of a joint commission to frame fishing regulations applicable to boundary waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Dr. David Starr Jordan, representing the United States, and Professor Prince, representing Canada, agreed upon a set of regulations.

Canada approved of them, but the United States failed to do so, owing, it was said, to objections from lake fishermen. In 1912 Canada gave notice that unless the regulations were approved at the next session of congress, Canada would resume liberty of action. The change of administration in the United States influenced Canada to delay at that time.

Canadian government officials apparently saw no prospect of the United States putting the regulations into effect and the government now "proposes to make such amendments to the existing fishing regulations for the Canadian portion of the boundary waters as may be deemed best."

PIDG AT BILLERICA

Brush Fire Burned Over Twenty Acres of Ground Near the B. & M. Repair Shops

A brush fire, which started on land owned by John Shea and located near the Boston & Maine repair shops, No. 10, Billerica, burned over 20 acres of brush and woodland. The damage will not be very heavy.

The fire was discovered by railroad employees, who notified the North Billerica fire department by telephone. The firemen succeeded in preventing the blaze from connecting with any property, but it was necessary to leave several men on the scene throughout the night to extinguish occasional fires that would have proved dangerous if allowed to burn.

"TOM BROWN DAY" AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Convicts in Auburn prison Monday celebrated "Tom Brown Day," the first anniversary of the day on which Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the New York state commission on prison reform, entered the prison for voluntary short term to study conditions.

As a result of the visit Supt. Riley, acting on a report by Mr. Osborne, abolished dark cells, bread-and-water punishment, "silence" and permitted outdoor play and exercise, frequent entertainment, and encouraged the formation of the mutual welfare league, a self-governing organization of prisoners dealing with discipline. Road camps and honor groups were also established.

The convicts presented to Commissioner Osborne a gold headed cane. A baseball team composed of life-term prisoners was defeated by keepers by the score of 32 to 81 in a ninth inning finish.

THE FRENCH SPIRIT

WEARY REGIMENT WON HILL BY BAYONET CHARGE AFTER 72 HOURS OF FIGHTING

PARIS, Sept. 30.—As an illustration of the spirit that animates the French regiments the story is told of an incident at Soissons, where, after three days' incessant fighting, a single infantry regiment that has assaulted the enemy's position time and again was compelled to retire.

At the close of the third day, by a bayonet charge, they had gained a height which covered the German position, but the latter were on a neighboring hill, where they were busy digging intrenchments.

It was necessary to carry the position before the digging was finished, if it was to be taken at all, so the commanding officer recognizing the exhausted condition of his troops sent for reinforcements, whom he ordered to charge.

The regiment felt humiliated at the call for reinforcements, and petitioned their colonel to be allowed to finish the work themselves. Permission was reluctantly given, and despite their previous 72 hours of arduous fighting, the remainder of the regiment charged up the hill and carried it by assault. They lost heavily in the effort, but their pride had been satisfied.

Boxer Carpenter Wounded The Flare, as an instance of how little news reaches the French capital from the front, except in the official bulletins, quotes a London despatch concerning the wounding of Carpenter, the French boxing champion, who is at the front.

Great satisfaction is expressed because of the failure of the Prussian imperial guards to break through the French lines. Lieut.-Col. Roussel, the military expert, says that great and continual demands have been made upon this famous regiment and it is probable that they are exhausted by the tremendous strain.

The Matin, referring to the guards, says that every time the Germans play their latest "last card" the imperial guards must spring from their beds like another Theroex and make a vigorous attack upon the allies.

"They are certainly soldiers without the fear of death in them," says the Matin, "yet our men have once more repelled them."

THE STRICT CENSORSHIP

The Paris newspapers are so limited in their war news that it may well be said that the "lid" is riveted on them. Trying to comment upon the general situation, they are reduced because of the restrictions upon all such comments to the merest banalities. Their columns show more white space than printed matter, indicating where the censor has deleted considerable portions of the news.

The new regulations preventing the approach to the fighting lines of all war correspondents has fled the city with a crowd of despondent war specialists.

WILLED A CENT BY WIFE

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—John B. Hendrickson of No. 1435 Bushwick avenue, Brooklyn, who is "on account of his worthlessness" out of work with one cent by the will of his wife, who died Aug. 6 last at the New York state hospital, Kings Park, died Monday with $100,000 in real estate of Brooklyn a part of his probate.

Hendrickson says he has waited since his wife's death for her executor, Mrs. Maria Winter of No. 17 St. Mark's place, Brooklyn, to file the will. He says he believes Mrs. Winter will refuse to act as executrix of the will and will refuse to apply for its probate. Under the terms of the instrument an estate of $3,000 is distributed among Mrs. Hendrickson's four children.

REAL CASH IN STAGE ROLL

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Charged with the larceny of $103 in real money with a roll of stage money representing $1,000,000, George W. Davis of Mills hotel No. 1, in Bleeker street, was held in $2,000 bail for the grand jury by Magistrate Appleton in Essex market court.

He is an employee of the Unique theatre and, according to the complaint of the manager, Philip Murray, got into the storeroom of the theatre on August 6 and stole the good money used as a wrapper for the stage money. The police say he admitted feeling the money. They assert he has sort of a record in Elmira and Sing Sing for larceny.

Five Hurlled to Street in Crash—Man's Leg Was Broken

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—One man is now in the hospital with a broken leg and two women are suffering from dislocated shoulders as the result of a collision of two automobiles on Walnut street, Newton Centre, yesterday morning.

D. Frank Lord, who is in the Newton hospital, was driving his son, Howard, aged 14, and his niece, Alvin, Ward, aged 16, to the high school. His machine was proceeding along Walnut street, when a car driven by Miss Abbie Baxter, who was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Frederick B. Weston of Lincoln, shot out of Ilomer street, and before either driver could bring the car to a stop they had crashed into each other.

All five persons were thrown violently to the street and both cars badly smashed. The Newton ambulance was called and the injured people were taken to the Newton hospital, suffering from a fractured right leg and cut and abrasions about the face and body.

Miss Ward and Mrs. Weston received dislocated shoulders and abrasions, while Howard Lord and Miss Baxter were shaken up and cut about the face. All with the exception of Mr. Lord were able to be taken to their homes in the afternoon.

EVERY DAY ETIQUETTE

"Will you kindly tell me what a bridal register is and what is done with it?" asked Ruth.

"A bridal register is a book bound in white, having the initials of the bride in gold lettering on the cover. This is placed, with pen and ink in the hall or library, and is filled with the signatures of the guests," answered her newly-married chum.

"A few of us girls were invited to a house party. Nearly all of the girls took a box of candy to the hostess, but I did not. Do you think it would be all right to send one after the party?" asked Alice.

"It will be quite proper for you to send the candy, flowers or fruit to your hostess. Of course, I presume that you did not overlook the note of thanks which you should have sent to your hostess upon your return home," answered her aunt.

"Will you kindly tell me if it is proper for a man to offer to pay the carriage for a woman friend he has met while standing on the corner for his car?" asked Alfred.

"If you are very well acquainted with the woman it would be all right for you to offer, but if she is a person with whom you do not associate very often it would be better not to pay her fare. Many women resent this presumption on the part of men," answered his father.

"What is the proper time to return a call made by a friend?" asked Maude.

"First calls in the season should be returned on the next reception day of the person who has made the call; if she has no reception day, then a call should be made at any convenient time within a week or fortnight; after this exchange of calls a longer period between visits may be allowed to pass," answered her friend.

"Will you tell me if it is the proper thing to put a black hand on one's sleeve when a member of the family has died?" asked William.

"This practice is a relic of the days when servants were made to wear bands on their sleeves out of respect to the death of any one in the family in which they were employed. If one cannot afford to wear black garments, he should refrain from wearing the band, which is too ostentatious to be in good form," answered his friend.

"If you are going to attend the reception you need not make any reply to the invitation. You should leave your card for the bride, for the hostess and for the women in the receiving line. If you cannot accept the invitation you should send two of your visiting cards by mail to the person who is giving the reception," answered her aunt.

THE LINE OF THE NECK

A beautiful throat is often achieved at the expense of the lines at the back of the neck. No woman should neglect her triplicate mirror nor be heedless of any of the details it points out to her. If the chest is properly poised then the next step is to poise the head so that throat lines and neck line at the back conform to each other.

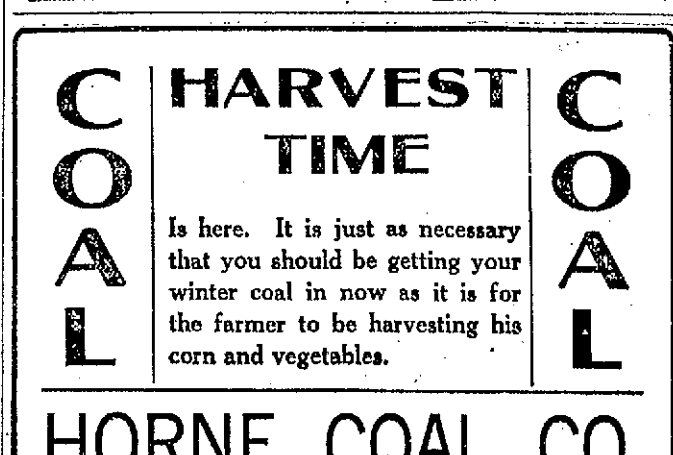

Be sure it is not thrust forward or hung down. The one attitude causes the neck to become hollow at the base and the other to make the throat muscles stringy and both postures are unattractive.

Many persons, men as well as women, carry the head as if it were pinned on at the base of the neck, should be balanced from the top of the neck as though the back line were continued up to that point. This will sound the keynote for the poise of the whole body and will tend to produce that curve which is essential to a graceful profile.

Flesh should not be allowed to accumulate just below the base of the neck, between the shoulders. The remedy is to remove the cause by keeping the chest exaggeratedly up and out at all times for a while.

Be sure always that the collar does not interfere with the contour of this back line. Much can be done simply by raising or lowering it or by spreading it to increase the apparent breadth of the neck if it is too like a pipstemo, and so on. If the neck is very pronounced at the back, raising the head a trifle may modify the effect.

WIRELESS FROM BERLIN

Says Owing to Attitude of British Near Dardanelles, Turkey Has Closed Waterway

BERLIN, Sept. 30 (via wireless to Sayville, L. I.).—Reports from Constantinople say that owing to the hostile attitude of the British warships cruising near the Dardanelles, Turkey has closed this waterway. The people of Holland are described in Berlin as excited by the reported capture of Netherlands ships by the British. The Rotterdamse Courant declares that Great Britain is showing utter disregard of the rights of neutral states. It says the Netherlands steamer Sophie from Rotterdam for New York was captured by British warships in the channel and taken to Lowestoft. The British minister at the Hague, it is related here, has admitted that a British aviator flying over the Netherlands town of Maastricht dropped a bomb, thus breaking the existing neutrality. A story has been given out in Berlin to the effect that Col. Gordon and Lieut. Col. Neisch, British officers attached the Gordon Highlanders and now prisoners of war in the hands of the Germans, confessed in the course of an official examination that the British government had supplied them with dum dum bullets for use in automatic revolvers. Albert Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American steamship line, has published an article in the Hamburger Nachrichten in which he declares that the British money market will be discredited by the moratorium for a long time to come. Continuing he says, the cutting of the German cable by the British and the stupendous lies of the English and French news agencies have produced a moratorium of truth for the world overseas.

IN LOCAL POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT—ALLEGED DEFALCATION OF LABOR OFFICIAL.

This forenoon's session of police court was an unusually short one, only one case being tried before the court while the number of drunken offenders was also small today.

Joseph Marcell pleaded not guilty to not supporting his wife, Rosa, when arraigned before Judge Enright today, and after the trial the case was continued for a period of further consideration. The complainant told a lengthy story of her troubles during her short married life and stated that she and her husband separated four weeks ago, since which time she has received no support from him. Two children are cared for by the husband's parents while Mrs. Marcell supports a third.

According to the testimony of the complainant, the real trouble started in Montreal, where they were some time ago. She claims that her husband left her in the Canadian city, leaving no reason for his sudden departure.

The defendant testified that he has just 50 cents left each week after paying for the care of his children and himself and uses that to purchase his clothes. The court stated that he thought matters should be reconsidered for a time and ordered the case continued for one month. George Toye appeared for the complainant and Albert Hamei for the defendant. Alleged larceny of funds.

Albert W. Stevens was called on continuance charged with the larceny of $170 from the Bricklayers' union of Lowell and after a consultation between the court and attorneys, the case was continued until Sept. 21. Lawyer Tierney for the government and Lawyer Regan for the defendant.

Frank Charles, on parole from the state farm, was picked up in this city in an intoxicated condition yesterday and will be returned to the institution at Bridgewater this afternoon. One woman and two other young men constituted the list of drunken offenders, the former being sent to jail, while the latter two were asked to pay small fines.

BRAVES WIN PENNANT

STALLINGS' BOSTON TEAM COPS
THE NATIONAL LEAGUE FLAG—
BIG SERIES NEXT

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The Boston Braves are now the champions of the National League.

Stallings' battlers can now do as they please, win or lose, and still have all the margin necessary to assure them of meeting up with the Athletics in the big series for the world's championship title.

All this came about when the Braves accepted with thanks the kindly gifts of the final home game of the season at Fenway park, 8 to 2, the Cubs of Chicago acting as open-hearted donors. Then to make it a dead certainty, the Pittsburgh Pirates put over a win with the Giants as victims in New York. So that the Braves can lose all the rest of their nine games, while the Giants are winning all their remaining eight, and the Boston clutch on the flag will be as secure as ever. Rather a tame ending to a great fight for the National League title, but it is just as well.

It was on Sept. 2 that the Braves overtook and passed the Giants after Boston's famous long drive from the bottom of the list. They were compelled to surrender the lead to the Giants for a few days but resumed the top of the heap on Sept. 8, as a result of defeating New York in the final game at home. Since then steady progress has been the portion of the Braves. That series with the Giants meant the championship, so state the New York players, but in the drive down the homestretch it was up to the Braves to keep on playing their game, day in and day out. And they did it. So that now they stand as one of the most popular championship aggregations the major leagues have ever boasted, champions because of their fighting qualities.

THE BRAVES LOOK GOOD

JOHNNY EVERS IS HOPEFUL OVER
TEAMS CHANCES IN THE BIG SERIES WITH THE ATHLETICS

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A happy crowd of well-trained athletes arrived in New York last night from Boston. They were George Stallings and his new National League champions, here to show the Giants in a five-game series how pennants are won. Led by Johnny Evers, the newly crowned titleholders hied early to their hotel, where only a few questions were answered.

"Just how did it happen?" Evers was asked.

"We just decided we wanted the pennant, so went out and got it," was his laughing reply.

"How do you figure your chances against the Athletics?" was the next question.

"Some writers have dubbed us the 'miracle workers.' There may be something to that; so grab some of the short money," again smiled Evers.

"We are not the weaklings that 'dopesters' and others contend," continued Evers. "We have been sorely tried all year, and I believe we have delivered whenever asked."

"We have a better pitching staff than the Athletics have. Maranville is worth more to a team than Barry, and Gowdy compares favorably with Schang. Of course there is Collins, Baker, McInnes and Oldring, but these men will have their work cut out to terrify James, Rudolph and Tyler."

"The more I think of it, the better I like the Braves' chances. There's nothing like having confidence, and no team ever had more confidence than we have right now."

Since the pennant is tucked safely away, the veterans will get a short vacation and the youngsters will be privileged to show their mettle. There will be two games today between the Braves and Giants.

Some writers have dubbed us the 'miracle workers.' There may be something to that; so grab some of the short money," again smiled Evers.

"We are not the weaklings that 'dopesters' and others contend," continued Evers. "We have been sorely tried all year, and I believe we have delivered whenever asked."

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Lowell high is scrimmaging daily now in preparation for the Madden high game next Saturday. The line-men, as well as the backs and ends, are being put through a hard drill every afternoon at Washington park.

The odds on the Athletics are now 10 to 7 where it is expected they will remain. The takers of the short end are figuring that the Braves will outkick Mack's team, a dangerous hypothesis to proceed upon.

This year's squad is probably the finest that has ever been turned out by the local high school. There is more good material for every position among the candidates than ever before.

Football at the Textile school is proving more popular this fall than for several past seasons. A mass meeting was held yesterday at which the entire school was present, and enthusiasm for a worthy dilettone representative ran high.

Duffy, Lynch and Roane are attracting particular attention by their snappy work thus far. Capt. Mochrie and Coach Leggett and Rooney expect to make stellar performers of these boys. Roane is being used at quarter and Duffy and Lynch at half.

The fights at the Atlas A. A. last night were a frost with the exception of the Chas. Davis prize-fight. Harlem Tommy Murphy appeared huddled up as a sick man and the main bout was off. Larry Burns, the Lawrence youngster, knocked out Tommy Rowan of New York in the fourth round.

Secretary Herman Nickerson of the Braves has a large corps of clerks already busy with the applications thus far received. With more than a week still remaining before the first game of the world series the list of applicants is very large. Secretary Nickerson is the man who handled the business end of the world series for the Red Sox in 1912.

The races at the Columbus, O., meeting of the grand circuit continue to prove the best of the season. Yesterday Anna Bradford, in the last heat of the American Horse Breeders' Futurity, lowered the world's record for three year old pacers. She lowered the record to 2:00 1/4.

The Textile school football candidates were out on the Moody street campus yesterday for the first time this season. The squad was not nearly as large as that of the high school, but the squad made up for its lack in numbers by its personnel. The prospective first superintendents will place a first class eleven in the field this fall it is expected.

Jack Dillon had little difficulty in taking the measure of Frank Mantell last night in their twelve round rum-pus at Columbus, Ohio. The Indianapolis middleweight led all the way and nothing but Mantell's cleverness saved him from annihilation. It was Dillon's terrific body punching in the early rounds which brought the cleverer man the decision.

GERMANS USE COILS OF WIRE AS PROTECTION
AGAINST ARTILLERY FIRE FOR MEN IN TRENCHES

Something new in defense against artillery fire has been devised by the German military experts. They took with them from Hamburg vast quantities of wire in coils. This wire, some of which was barbed, was piled in front of trenches in which infantry were installed. The theory was that shells fired by artillery would either go over the trenches and thus be harmless or would, if aimed lower, fall in the coils of wire and thus become entangled and the explosions would be smothered. The wire has a further advantage of offering a serious obstacle to the enemy in the event of a charge.

POLLY PERRITT IS A RIGHT HANDED
EDITION OF PORTSIDER SLIM SALLEE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—Here is "Polly" Perritt, a human string bean. When he first appeared in a Cardinal uniform some fan asked a neighbor little taller than the other thin pitcher, who he was. "Oh, that's Salloo pitching right handed!" was the reply. And it did look so. However, a close inspection showed that Perritt is a little taller than the other thin pitcher, is somewhat younger and is also a trifle thinner. He has proved a real find for Miller Huggins, however, and he pitches good ball even when he loses.

WORLD'S SERIES

First Two Games Will be Played in Philadelphia—Final Plans

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—The first two games between the Philadelphia Americans and the Boston Nationals for the baseball championship of the world will be played in Philadelphia on Oct. 9 and 10. The third and fourth games will be played in Boston Oct. 12 and 13. The fifth game will be played in Philadelphia Oct. 14 and the sixth game in Boston Oct. 15. If more than four games are necessary to decide the series.

This was decided here today at a meeting of the National Baseball commission. The umpires will be Klem and Byron of the National league and Dineen and Hildebrand of the American league. J. J. Spink of St. Louis and one man to be picked by the Philadelphia baseball writers and one by the Boston writers will be the official scorers.

CLIMB OF BRAVES

Will be Great Boost for Tailend Clubs in Every League

The playing of the Braves in the last few games has fooled the cynical observers of baseball completely. The writer happened to be near two men at the game Monday between Boston and Chicago when James touched up for four straight singles in a row. "Look at that," said one of the pair to his companion, "What did I tell you? They are just handing this game to the Cubs so that the race will be close enough to draw a large crowd at New York Wednesday."

When the Boston bats began to come into their own, however, very little was heard from the party who had made the remark apropos of the Braves' throwing the game. If Manager Stallings had wanted to make a close race of it and thus increase the gate receipts in the remaining games of the season he could certainly have done so with a little skillful maneuvering.

The winning of the National League pennant this year by the Braves and the remarkable climb which Manager Stallings has made is the best thing that could have happened for baseball generally. In years to come no club's chances will appear hopeless to their rosters. "Just see what the Boston Braves did in 1914," will be the reply when a scouter breaks in with a remark.

A WARM SESSION

Expected at Annual Fall Meeting of New England League

As soon as the world series games are played off it is expected that the "little old league" will get down to business in its annual fall session held usually in Boston. It is further expected that the meeting this year will be one of the liveliest ever held in the New England circuit.

Matters of importance to the league in general are on the blotter for discussion. The Lawrence-Haverhill mixup which resulted in so much discussion during the past season, will probably be threshed out thoroughly.

Although the local man has said nothing on the matter, one way or another, Manager Gray has not forgotten the indignity offered himself as well as the fans who attended the game that day by Jesse Burkett over in Worcester. It seems highly improbable that Gray will allow the matter to drop without taking some action on it.

"When a fan pays his way into a ball game he wants to see a ball game. If he wanted to see a prize fight he'd go to see a real one. And aside from this a ball park where a manager is liable to lose his temper and strike another is no place for the fair sex."

DOG-MUZZLING ORDER

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Health Commissioner Goldwater called at the city hall yesterday and had a long talk with Mayor Mitchell over the order requiring the muzzling of dogs. The mayor said later:

"As a result of our talk I want it understood that I side with the health commissioner in the stand he has taken. Dr. Goldwater has no intention of resigning, and I sincerely hope and trust that he will stay with us until the end of his term."

"The commissioner is trying to stamp out rabies in this city, and he believes that if the muzzling of dogs is continued for a period we shall succeed in the complete eradication of the disease. While he was here yesterday Dr. Goldwater proved by facts and figures that the steps he has taken are justified. I not only stand by the commissioner, but I believe the public will be grateful when the results of the commissioner's work become known."

"It must be taken for granted that the orders calling for the muzzling and leashing of dogs are permanent orders. If we can enforce these orders strictly for six months or a year we can accomplish wonders. For that reason owners of dogs ought to have a little patience with us."

"I don't know anything about the chicken situation," he replied, with a smile, in answer to a question. "Perhaps the crisis has not yet arrived. Until it does, why discuss it?"

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN THOMPSONVILLE, CONN.

Man Who Took Out Marriage License a Week Ago Killed Wife and Himself

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., Sept. 30.—Nicholas Vitiello, or Vithukas, shot and killed a woman believed to be his wife here last night, and then turning the weapon on himself fired three shots which resulted in his death a half-hour later. The shooting is supposed to be the outcome of a disagreement over money matters.

The couple lived with Mr. and Mrs. James Lagaro, at 2 Martin street, Vitiello had resided here for the past seven years, with the exception of the past five months, spent in Philadelphia. The police could find no evidence that the couple had been married beyond a marriage license made out in Philadelphia a week ago. No certificate was found.

It is stated that the woman went out yesterday to look for work and returned to the Lagaro home about 6 o'clock. She told Mrs. Lagaro she had been promised a job in a carpet mill and was to begin work next Monday.

When the occupants of the house heard the shots they hurried out into the street and summoned Officer Robert Crombie. Before he could reach the room Vitiello had accomplished his purpose. The woman was dead and the man died shortly afterward without regaining consciousness.

BRYAN HEARS GOOD NEWS

TELLS PRESIDENT PROSPECTS FOR PERMANENT PEACE IN MEXICO ARE BRIGHTER THAN EVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Optimistic dispatches yesterday from Consul Sullivan and the Brazilian minister at Mexico City caused Sen. Bryan to inform President Wilson that the prospects for restoration of permanent peace in Mexico were brighter than at any time since the overthrow of Madero by Huerta.

The state department was notified yesterday that the peace commissioners appointed by the two constitutional chiefs would hold their meetings at Torreon today.

It is understood that one of the first matters to be brought to the attention of the provisional president when he is elected will be the attitude of those now in power toward the Catholics. A demand for full religious liberty for all American citizens probably will be made.

NOTE FROM AUTO

REQUESTED THAT FINDER HELP YOUNG WOMAN—WORCESTER POLICE SCENT HOAX

WORCESTER, Sept. 30.—Somebody perpetrated a hoax that startled the police for a few minutes about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. As a big touring car containing two men, with a young woman sitting between them, sped up Pleasant street hill, the young woman dropped a note written on the reverse side of a telephone company envelope, requesting the finder to help her because she was being taken away by force. The finder of the note, who said his name is Fallon, turned it over to police headquarters.

There was some excitement for a few minutes until the cool-headed officers came to the conclusion that a young woman who was being taken away in an open auto by force would be more apt to make that fact known by shouting than she would by dropping notes into the street, so there was no chase and the police dropped the matter.

DAN COTE FELL FROM CANAL FENCE AND WAS RESCUED BY RAILROAD MAN

Dan Cote of 162 Colburn street had a narrow escape from being drowned last evening when he fell from the railing of the fence along the canal near the Saco-Lowell machine shop and had been in the water for several minutes when his shouts attracted the attention of Arthur M. Neal, a Boston & Maine railroad inspector. The railroad man succeeded in pulling Cote from the water with the use of a long pole, which he secured nearby.

According to Cote's story of the accident, he was sitting alone on the fence when he suddenly lost his balance and fell into the water. When in the water he found himself unable to touch the bottom or reach the bank, so he shouted for help until Mr. Neal heard him. Supt. Welch appeared along at the time and sent in a call for the ambulance to remove Cote to the Lowell hospital. He was reported as being all right this morning.

LOWERS RACING RECORD

ANNA BRADFORD BEINGS THREE-YEAR-OLD MARK TO 2.00 1/2—RESULTS OF OTHER RACES

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30.—Anna Bradford, in the final heat of the American Horse Breeders' Purse, on yesterday's grand circuit program, lowered the three-year-old pacing record to 2.00 1/2. A week ago, she put the mark at 2.01 1/2. Lord Dewey failed in an attempt to lower his record of 2.03 1/2. The trip through the stretch was so trying that a mile in 2.04 1/2 resulted.

Peter Stevens, prohibitive and winning favorite in the Arch City pacing stake, equalled his record, 2.02 1/4, when driven out in the third heat. The Assessor won the 2.13 pace. Rythmel was favorite over 11 other trotters and won in straight heats, leading all the time. William and Rectum I. will meet in a stallion championship pacing match tomorrow.

A pleasant surprise party was held Monday evening at the home of Herbert J. Willmott, Woodward avenue, in honor of his sister, Miss Ada E. Willmott. A pleasing program was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

A telephone message from West Jutland states that a number of bodies of German sailors in uniform were washed ashore Monday north of Esbjerg.

Pres. Wilson's Approval All That Was Needed Today to Make it a Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Wilson's approval was all that was needed today to make the river and harbor appropriation bill a law. Final congressional action on the bill was taken late yesterday when the house by a viva voce vote adopted the measure as amended by the senate, carrying a general fund of $20,000,000 for continuing present projects in the discretion of the army engineers.

As originally passed by the house the bill carried appropriations aggregating $48,000,000 for projects throughout the country. As it left the senate committee the bill carried a total of $75,000,000. As the result, however, of a filibuster led by Senator Burton of Ohio, the senate adopted a substitute measure appropriating only $20,000,000. In this form the bill was approved by the house.

FOUR DIRECTORS QUIT THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Four directors of the New Haven Railroad company, William Rockefeller and George F. Baker of New York, Charles F. Brooker of Ansonia, Conn., and James B. Elton of Waterbury, Conn., resigned at a special meeting of the board of directors yesterday. The board voted to accept the resignations. It was announced after the meeting. One new director was elected, J. Horace Harding of New York.

The form of the call for the annual meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on Oct. 28 was approved and the board voted to recommend to the stockholders at that meeting that the membership of the board of directors be reduced to 17. With the resignation today of Brooker, Baker, Elton and Rockefeller, the board consists of 20 members; it was 27 a year ago.

The first proof of the annual report to the stockholders was submitted to the directors yesterday, and with certain amendments, was approved and ordered printed and mailed.

Propose to Reduce Directors to 17
Mr. Rockefeller, because of his health, has desired for some time to retire from the board. It was announced last night, his resignation as a director being in line with his policy to curtail his activities and thus conserve his health. Mr. Baker's resignation, likewise, was a continuation of his policy to retire from as many boards as possible.

Mr. Brooker recently resigned as republican national committeeman from Connecticut and announced at the time that he would retire from other activities, intimating that he would next resign as a director of the New Haven road, as he, too, desired lessened business cares.

Mr. Elton's resignation followed a statement recently that he would reduce the number of boards of directors on which he served.

The proposal to reduce the number of directors of the New Haven to 17 is in accord with the policy being generally adopted by railroads and financial corporations to reduce the number of directors and conduct their affairs by means of small working bodies, it was explained.

Mellen Before Federal Grand Jury
Ex-Pres. Charles S. Mellen was the first witness today before the special federal grand jury empaneled at President Wilson's suggestion to investigate the criminal aspects, if any, of the New Haven railroad management.

His counsel, John W. H. Crim, said that Mellen's appearance before the grand jury would make it impossible for the jurors to find an indictment against him in connection with this investigation. "Moreover," said Mr. Crim, "Mr. Mellen's testimony before the interstate commerce commission at Washington earned his immunity from indictment. Mr. Mellen was not asked to sign a waiver of immunity before appearing before the grand jury today."

When Mr. Mellen entered the grand jury room he was prepared to repeat to a great extent the testimony given by him before the interstate commerce commission in Washington, especially that portion which related to the financing of the New Haven road's operations during the past decade.

An indictment by a previous federal grand jury, which investigated the relations between the New Haven road and the Grand Trunk railway, still lies against Mr. Mellen.

In view of his willingness to testify yesterday afternoon, and of his testimony before the interstate commerce commission, it was considered likely that this indictment would not be pressed.

Mr. Mellen was before the grand jury an hour and 40 minutes, and will be further examined tomorrow afternoon. The government has subpoenaed all the books and papers bearing on the various matters under investigation which are in possession of the New Haven system.

It was learned last night that the government has retained as special counsel in the investigation James W. Osburn, who conducted the highway investigation for Gov. Glynn; R. E. Battis of Texas and Frank N. Swickard.

IMMUNITY OF MELLEN
Some Department of Justice Lawyers Question Soundness of Claim to Freedom From Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Although department of justice officials refused last night to discuss the testimony of Charles S. Mellen before the New York federal grand jury it was the opinion here that there is some question in the minds of department lawyers of the soundness of his claim to immunity from prosecution as a result of his examination by the jury.

It is understood, however, that some officials feel that Mr. Mellen may have been given immunity by his testimony before the interstate commerce commission.

It was said last night that government attorneys in charge of the case were told to use their discretion in summoning before the grand jury witnesses who testified before the interstate commerce commission.

REPLY IN WIRELESS SUIT
Government Expected to Answer That Censorship Was Necessary to Enforce Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The government's reply to the suit for injunction against the closing of the Siasconet wireless station filed by the Marconi company will be that it is the duty of the president and his administrative officers to preserve the nation's neutrality in all cases, and that the censoring of wireless dispatches by the government was a part of the means to enforce neutrality.

This became known yesterday following a conference between legal officers of the navy department and the department of justice.

MOTHER LOSES JOB AS TEACHER
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Bridget C. Pelkoto, who left her position as a teacher in a New York city school when she was about to become a mother, need not be reinstated by the New York board of education, the court of appeals decided yesterday.

Mrs. Pelkoto was dismissed because, it is charged, she was absent without permission and thus neglected her duty.

Her counsel argued that absence from duty for the reason specified was not neglect of duty. The court of appeals held that the board of education in dismissing her discharged its duty fairly.

GERMANS TAKE ALOST EVACUATED BY 40,000

Kaiser's Troops Found Town as Quiet as a Sepulchre—Doors of all Houses Open, but Occupants Missing

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Telegraphing from Ghent under date of Sept. 28 the correspondent of the Daily News asserts that by order of the military authorities, Alost, a town of nearly 40,000 inhabitants, was completely evacuated by the civilian population before the Germans took possession. "When the Germans entered Alost today it was as quiet as a sepulchre," says the despatch. "The German advance guard found the doors of all the houses open, all food in the larders, ready to be eaten, all wine ready to be drunk—everything that the army could desire to satisfy its wants—but the occupants of the houses were missing.

"Imperative orders came Sunday night for every person in Alost and surrounding villages to leave on Monday morning for Ghent. Today, as far as the eye could see the broad highway teemed with painfully moving people and here tonight are many thousands of them herded on straw in the Palais De Fêtes."

LITTLE CANINE THAT CAN COUNT

Performs Feats of Calculation Very Difficult to Explain

Mr. C. J. Tyrone, a mining engineer from Arizona, and his dog Hector, a French poodle of rare canine intelligence and "mathematical" propensities were visitors at The Sun office editorial room this morning and favored us with an entertainment that was interesting, to say the least. We had heard of remarkable feats performed by various "talking" animals but little Hector, with woolly fleece and thoughtful eye, has put them all to sleep in our memory. Hector performed on the desk and on the floor. He had before him an electric bell operated by a telegraph key and the way he counted and added numbers asked or suggested, was a caution. He handled the waste baskets as directed and did pretty nearly everything, but to supply them with blue-penciled stories. He pushed them over and pulled them over in accordance with Mr. Tyrone's instructions. He would sit up, roll over, bark, shake "a day-day," advance with one foot up and perform a grist of tricks that might be duplicated by other performing dogs.

HECTOR THE CANINE MATHEMATICIAN

Scientific American, usually a skeptic on such matters, has pronounced Hector's performance one of the most wonderful on record. After seeing the performance without any possibility of stage tricks one wonders why Hector cannot write his name.

ALLIES' LEFT CAPTURES NUMEROUS PRISONERS

PARIS, Sept. 30.—It was again the turn of the allies' left yesterday to sustain the shock of the enemy on the battle front in northern France and though the official communication does not say so, it is reliably stated that it was again their good fortune to take numerous prisoners. The lack of consistency in the operations of the Germans, added to the increased vigilance of the allies in making the lot of the military prophets a hard one. All they can deduce today from the information given out is that the Germans failed to break through the allies' front anywhere. Naturally, the absence of news makes a place for rumors, which are very plentiful, but which no one dares to publish, even if their truth had been ascertained. Commentators are also required to be very circumspect, as is shown by the blank white gaps of various lengths in the conscripted articles in the Paris newspapers. All that can be said of the unofficial reports that are printable is that they are not unfavorable to the allies.

The zouaves are reported by returning wounded soldiers to be covering themselves with glory on the allies' left. Commentators are also required to be very circumspect, as is shown by the blank white gaps of various lengths in the conscripted articles in the Paris newspapers. ## GERMANY COUNTESS ON INTERVENTION OF RUMANIA, SAYS DESPATCH

PARIS, Sept. 30.—According to a Bucharest despatch, Germany counted on the intervention of Rumania, but when King Charles asked the cabinet to order a mobilization of the army one of the ministers replied: "We are quite willing, if it is against Austria."

King Charles turned to him and said: "I gave my word to Emperor William, and a Hohenzollern keeps his word."

J. J. O. Brattland, president of the council, here interposed with: "The country knows no Hohenzollern. It knows only the king of Rumania, who does not intend to give his word to anyone whatsoever."

King Charles then decided to call a council of the crown with the former ministers in attendance, but only one-sided with him in favor of Germany. It is then reported that the king applied to General Averoff to try a coup d'etat, and arrest the ministers, but he refused, saying: "Sure, you will be the first victim."

It is also said that some superior officers declared they would join the Rumanians rather than fight for Austria.
